STUART R. PADDOCK

An authority on finances and village operation warned us this week that the municipal share of the sales tax is not all gravy for a growing village. Every annexed tract of land or subdivision project that becomes a part of the municipality will "eat up" a large part of the sales tax that is credited to the village.

Why? "The municipality will sooner or later be called upon to issue general obligation bonds to purchase the sewer and water system that is orginally installed by the developer."

We are happy to see the Village of Schaumburg adopt a development plan. If that plan is recognized by the County Board of Appeals and judges of the Superior Court, we can see the development of that village along orderly lines.

We can also see the greedy developer who will ask for exceptions and secure approval of the courts over the objection of village authorities.

However, Mayor Bob Atcher and Chairman Elsworth Meineke can be depended upon to fight for the restrictions.

The village of Buffalo Grove has asked the Northwest Mosquito District to spend its share of tax money in draining breeding places of the mosquito—no spraying.

Trustee Al Frank said that the spray used by the district is not only a nuisance but a health hazard to human and animal life.

We would like to add bird life to the reasons given.

Mount Prospect Park District has passed an ordinance which provides that any member who plays hooky from board meetings more than two months will be automatically dismissed, provided that three of the remaining members agree upon such action.

Park board members receive no salary, but present members think that once elected he has an obligation to do the job.

We find that many fathers of baseball youngsters are transferring their interests from national baseball to the Little League game. As they meet on the street corners, they are discussing with other fathers "who are we playing next, result of last week's game, etc." They are reliving their "back lot" baseball days.

If mothers take as much interest in the playtime of their daughters, we will not have to worry about the next generation.

It is to be regretted that the courts have been nullifying the special school fund to which developers of a few years ago were required to contribute before they could secure building permits. Palatine has made a settlement of $10,000 on a $40,000 claim.

We thought the plan was excellent when it was started

After Double Death

Housewives Blockade Golf-Busse Crossing

by JIM CARNS

Two Arlington Heights women were killed Monday at the intersection of Golf and Busse Roads in a car-truck collision which set off an angry, half-hour protest demonstration by housewives in Elk Ridge Villa.

Dead are Ethel M. Lenehan, 631 S. Belmont, driver of the car, and Ruth Waterbury, 617 S. Belmont, a passenger. Nancy Nenehan, 15, daughter of the driver, received cuts and bruises in the crash and was taken to Holy Family Hospital.

The accident occurred at 10:45 a. m. when Mrs. Lenehan started south from a stop sign on Busse Road and drove into the path of a semi-truck loaded with gravel travelling east on Highway 58 (Golf Road).

The driver of the truck, Donald McLean, 34, of 534 S. Waterman St., Arlington Heights, was uninjured.

Housewives in the accident area began planning for a protest blockade of the Busse intersection immediately after the accident.

THERE HAVE been about 60 accidents at the intersection since 1958, and 20 since January of 1962, area residents say.

Members of both Elk Ridge and Golfview Homeowners Associations had asked four months ago that traffic lights be placed at the intersection instead of the two-way stop which now exists.

The engineering division of the State Highway Department answered in a letter dated March 5 that, according to a survey made 18 months before, traffic volume at that intersection did not warrant the placement of a stoplight.

THE LETTER also said another traffic volume study would be made as soon as the weather permitted.

The blockade demonstration was scheduled for 4:30 p. m. Monday to get "a stoplight rather than words and stalls," according to one Elk Ridge housewife.

"Our kids will have to get to school across that road," one mother said. Another demonstrator said children are always around the intersection, with a store and a hamburger counter.

ABOUT 20 ELK Ridge Villa housewives, headed by Mrs. Salvatore Genualdi, walked into the middle of the Golf-Busse intersection at 4:20 p. m.

Signs had been placed 200 yards east and west on Golf Road to warn "Human Barricade Ahead—Stop."

State police were there, but traffic came to a halt on both Golf and Busse Roads as the women trooped out into the street. Some carried signs—others just stood in the way of the cars and trucks.

MORE POLICE were called, but the women refused to move. When asked if the women were

Judy Erwin Named '62 Tip Top Teen

A 17-year-old Arlington Heights girl was named "Tip Top Teen" of 1962-63 this week by the Rotary Club of Arlington Heights.

She is Judy K. Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Erwin, 908 W. Campbell St.

A June graduate of Arlington High School, Miss Erwin was selected by a panel of three judges over a dozen other nominees for the annual award. She will receive an engraved plaque and $75 in U.S. Savings Bonds.

"WE ARE proud to be able to recognize in some small way the contributions of the community's youth," said Bruce Ladd, Rotary youth chairman.

"Miss Erwin's credentials for the 'Tip Top Teen' award measure with the best the club has ever received."

Employed for the summer by General Portland Cement Co., Chicago, Miss Erwin was nominated for the award by the Arlington Heights Junior Chamber of Commerce.

SHE PLANS to attend the University of Michigan this fall to pursue a degree in psychology. Her brother, Gary, 19, is now a student at the university.

Main criteria for judging the contest was the nominees' fulfillment of the Rotary Club motto, "Service Above Self." Judges were L. A. Hanson, village manager; Wayne Brennan, Chamber of Commerce president; and Charles Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications.

State Acts Quickly on Road Study

Immediate action was taken by the Traffic Division of the State Highway Department after Monday's protest demonstration by Elk Ridge Villa housewives.

A speed study was made Tuesday morning to determine motorists' average speed on Golf Road at the Busse intersection. A traffic volume survey was also made Tuesday afternoon between 3 and 7 p.m. to determine need for a traffic light.

Results of the two traffic tests must now go to the Chicago office for analysis, according to District Engineer Marshall Suloway.

Paddock to Be Closed On July 4

The offices of Paddock Publications will be closed all day Wednesday, July 4, it was announced this week by Stuart R. Paddock, president.

The July 4 editions of Paddock's 14 suburban newspapers will be distributed as usual on Thursday, July 5.

BECAUSE OF the July 4 holiday all deadlines for news contributors and columnists will be moved ahead 24 hours next week. In other words, material usually turned in on Tuesday must be submitted on Monday.

Deadline for display advertising will be Monday at noon.

Ax Total Cost By $175,000

A second referendum on improvements for the Arlington Heights Park District, cut to $395,000 from the $570,000 request defeated last February, will be held Saturday, July 14.

Major items left out of the list this time are an artificial ice-roller skating rink, costing $112,356, and ice conditioning and concession equipment, $15,000. These were blamed for failure of the first referendum by park district officials.

The proposed improvements, which would bring an estimated tax increase of $3.36 a year for a family with a $30,000 home, are:

—acquisition of land and site development of a new five-acre neighborhood park in west central Arlington Heights—$80,000.

—new bathhouse and swimming pool and wading pool improvements at Recreation Park —$171,500.

—parking facilities and an additional maintenance building at Pioneer Park—$54,000.

—a fieldhouse, multi-purpose courts and parking facilities at Hasbrook Park—$89,500.

THE TOTAL costs given for the improvements for each park include provisions for election costs, attorney's and architect's fees, contingencies and construction supervision.

Purchase of the new park site would be in keeping with the district's planning policy, which provides for parks within a half-mile radius of every residence, explained Tom Thornton, director of parks. The proposed land is in a congested area and pretty well cut off from the village's two major parks, Pioneer and Recreation, and the neighborhood parks, he said.

The site is bounded by Kaspar on the east, St. James on the north, Kennicott on the west and Miner on the south.

THE NEW $120,350 bathhouse at Recreation Park would replace the present inadequate facilities, which could be converted to other uses. The bathhouse and toilet facilities used now in the basement of the fieldhouse are damp, not properly ventilated and insufficient for health standards, park officials say.

The $25,150 improvements slated for the wading and swimming pool areas are enlargement of the deck around the swimming pool, to provide adequate sun-bathing area and to accommodate more people, and improvement of the wading pool, including filling in the inclined area.

The proposed parking facilities at Pioneer Park are proposed to partially solve the present situation; on - street parking only is available, and the area is widely used, not only by playground groups, but by many village organizations for meetings. Paving of an access road from the north and a 45-car parking lot near the fieldhouse are requested, at a cost of $17,800.

THE ADDITIONAL $28,000 maintenance building is necessary for storage and repair of park district vehicles, machines and recreational equipment, Thornton said.

The recommendations for construction to fill repeated requests for improvements at Hasbrook Park, serving the northern part of the village, are:

A multi-purpose field house with rest rooms, storage area, 24x36 foot meeting room with kitchenette, $43,800; a 120x150 foot multi-purpose, lighted tennis and game court, $19,800; 50-car parking lot, $12,500.

PARK DISTRICT officials estimate the average annual cost per family for the new facilities, based on a 20-year, 3½ per cent general obligation bond and a $100 million projected assessed valuation, as: $2.24 if market value of home is $20,000; $2.80 for $25,000 home; $3.36 for $30,000 home; and $3.92 for $35,000 home.

Thornton said absentee ballots are available at the administrative office at Pioneer Park for anyone who will be out of town the day of voting. Persons must be registered to vote.

Nuveen Bids Lowest

Sewer Bonds Going to Village Consultants

The financial consultant for the Arlington Heights $3.5 million storm relief sewer system topped all competitors Monday night, submitting low bids on both bond issues.

John Nuveen and Co. bid below five others on each issue, the $1.9 million sewer and water revenue bonds and the $1.6 million general obligation bonds.

THE NUVEEN company quoted an average interest rate of 3.5913 per cent on the revenue bonds and 3.2032 per cent on the general obligation.

Village officials expressed much pleasure over the bids, particularly on the general obligation bonds. W. G. Inman, a Nuveen vice president who served as consultant on the bond issue and prepared his company's bid, estimated that the superior rating on the bonds cut the interest rate by about .25 per cent.

The second low bid on the water and sewage revenue bonds was turned in by Smith, Barney and Co., with an average interest rate of 3.6496. Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. submitted the second low bid on the general obligation bonds, quoting an average interest rate at 3.23587.

THIRD BIDDER on both issues was Halsey, Stuart and Co., at 3.677 average interest rate for the revenue bonds and 3.2487 for the general obligation. The other bidders on the revenue bonds, all above 3.73 per cent, were Blythe and Co., Shearson Hammill and Co. and F. S. Smithers and Co.

Northern Trust Co. was fourth on the general obligation bonds, at 3.27926, followed by Harris Trust and Savings Bank and First National Bank of Chicago, both above 3.33 per cent.

Village trustees accepted the Nuveen bids and authorized signing of the bonds. An ordinance approving the action will be presented at the board meeting next Monday.

AT THE bond letting the board also approved the fourth and final purchase of land necessary for use in the sewer construction program. The trustees voted expenditure of $12,500 for acquisition of a 50x400 foot property south of the North Western Railroad tracks at a point just east of where Davis and Bristol would intersect.

Construction on the first third of the sewer system, which will go in in three sections, is expected to get under way in about two weeks.

Bids were opened Wednesday for the section, which will run northwest from Weller Creek to the sewage treatment plant, along Davis to a point on Douglas, then along Douglas to Marshall.

ALTOGETHER THE project, including a new $200,000 water well, consists of constructing a main trunk sewer from the northwest part of the village to the southwest, where it will empty into Weller Creek. Laterals will be installed in areas now inadequately drained.

The system is designed to relieve about 99 per cent of the current flooding problem and provide for future growth of the village, trustees pointed out.

Mails have brought us several times recently, the suggestion that we would enjoy a new Chicago club promising that "bunnies" will meet patrons at the door, serve drinks and food. Those who desire to get into the club are asked $50 to $100 for the use of a key. Nothing is said as to how much it costs to get out of the club.

The latest threat to school autonomy is a suit to deprive Arlington and other high schools the privilege of giving driver training to persons over 20 years old.

The schools are now giving that instruction as a matter of community service.

An engineer of the Metropolitan Sanitary District has stated that 12 years is the life of a septic tank. That is not news to many users of that method of home wastes.

It is our opinion that the Sanitary District is making every effort to build interceptors in an attempt to solve the sewage and drainage problems in the northwest area.

The time is coming when areas which have disconnected from the metropolitan district will be begging for readmission.

prepared to face arrest, Mrs. Genualdi said, "Honey, I'm prepared to go anyplace they take me."

A bit of traffic moved through the intersection, but the majority of cars and trucks were forced to turn around and go back the way they came—or wait.

State police urged the women to go home, saying they had gotten the publicity they needed to point up the danger of the intersection, but for half an hour the women did not move, nor did the traffic.

A TRUCK DRIVER for Yazel Cartage Co. who had been at the morning accident was caught in the jam. "I agree there should be lights," he said, "and I make this run all the time."

A representative of the State Highway Department was called. He said he would be at the scene at 4:45, but traffic was not allowed to flow. He did not arrive.

A motorist was let through for a doctor's appointment; a nurse was let through to go on duty at a nearby hospital. A trucker was allowed to pass the barricade with a load of cement.

"OUR HUSBANDS are stuck back in the line," an angry housewife told police, "but they can wait there until we get stoplights."

Many of the inconvenienced motorists expressed sympathy with the demonstration; nearly all saw the need for stoplights, they said.

The mother of John Walton, a 12-year-old boy killed six weeks ago by a car just a block away from the intersection, participated in the demonstration.

AT 4:50 P. M., police convinced the women that a traffic survey would be taken immediately, and the blockade stopped. Traffic began to flow.

But the housewives were skeptical. Mrs. Arthur Meyers, a resident on Busse Road, spoke what others were muttering—"If we don't accomplish our purpose within a reasonable time, we'll set another date."

4th of July Festivities Open Friday

The 40th annual American Legion Fourth of July festivities start this Friday with a carnival at the Arlington Market grounds to earn money for the post's projects.

A parade Wednesday will highlight the program, which will end that night with the closing of the carnival.

Opening at 7 p.m. Friday, the carnival will include six rides; a shooting range, duck pond, ball games and skill games; and Legion merchandise booths.

THE PARADE will begin at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at South Junior High School, following a route north to Euclid and east to Dryden to the Arlington Market. Individuals and civic, fraternal and commercial organizations interested in marching or presenting a float have been requested to contact Robert Brown, Legion commander, at CL 3-8783 by Sunday.

Races for children through the sixth grade at the market grounds will follow the parade.

THE FINAL PROGRAM of the year for the Arlington Heights League of Women voters was a chalk talk on "Why Illinois Needs a New Constitution," presented by Mrs. Hal J. Cress, (left) of 3006 Thrush Lane, Rolling Meadows, and Mrs. Louis Nye, 503 S. Waterman, Arlington Heights. The meeting last Thursday was the group's annual picnic at the home of Mrs. Marc Law, 308 N. Wheeling Road, Prospect Heights.

Suburb News of the Week

MOUNT PROSPECT — The proposed 1962-63 budget of $1,279,724.91 for Mount Prospect was presented during a public hearing Tuesday at the regular village board meeting. Officials estimate the village could end the year $12,605.91 in the black even though the budget shows an increase of 15.16 per cent over last year's budget.

ELK GROVE — The Miss Illinois Pageant continues today, Friday and Saturday in the "Air Bubble" theatre, Arlington Heights and Higgins Roads. Some 42 local beauty queens are entered in the contest, a preliminary to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N. J., in September.

Trustees this week gave final approval to $100,000 in general obligation bonds for a working cash fund. The loan, to be repaid over a 10-year period, will go on the 1963 tax bill.

ROLLING MEADOWS — It's a gala week in Rolling Meadows, with the four-day firemen's carnival open from tonight, Thursday, through Sunday evening, and an all-day Fourth of July celebration featuring ball games, a community picnic, games and races, a band concert and finally a fireworks display. The carnival will be held in the Topps parking lot at Kirchoff and Meadow.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — A second referendum on park improvements is slated for July 14 by the Arlington Heights Park District. The cost of the proposed improvements has been reduced to $395,000 from $570,000 with the omission of an artificial ice rink blamed for defeat of a similar referendum in February.

PALATINE — Plans for a $6.5 million four-building development in Palatine were revealed this week by Comet Builders and Supply Corp., Chicago, proposing a 40-suite motel, a three-story office building, a 32-lane bowling alley and a bank on a 13½-acre site east of Palatine Plaza Shopping Center.

HOFFMAN ESTATES — Frank Chino, Hoffman Estates village attorney has filed a $2,000,000 suit against Citizens Utilities Company of Illinois and Ishier Jacobson, its vice president, in Cook County Superior Court. Chino claims that a nine-page letter signed by Jacobson was libelous and circulated with malice as part of a plan to destroy his reputation and professional standing.

SCHAUMBURG — Carl Meier, a dog trainer who sold the village a dog which he represented as pure bred German Shepherd, was found guilty by Schaumburg Police Magistrate Raymond L. Haase and fined $105. Meier is to reimburse the village the cost of the dog — $100 — plus $100 in expenses incurred by Schaumburg for keeping the dog. The dog was part German Shepherd and part Huskie and not pure bred.

WHEELING — The village is 129 years old, it was learned last week. It was suggested that a birthday observance be included with the community's first annual Family Fair being planned for Labor Day weekend. Various organizations are to sponsor displays and activities for the frolic, which is being coordinated by the Community Council.

BUFFALO GROVE — A pair of mallard ducks that wandered into the village hatched 12 of 14 eggs, raising the village's duck population by 600 per cent.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS — The fire department, which has been closed since midnight April 30 over a contract dispute between the volunteer firemen and the fire district board of trustees, is still closed following the appointment of two new trustees to the board. The board held a closed session Friday night, ejecting two newsmen. Mount Prospect is presently providing fire protection. (B8

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. If a dinner party is in progress and a guest arrives late, must all the men rise for introductions?

A. No. In the case of a woman guest, she slips into the seat indicated by the hostess after a brief greeting, and the man to her right alone rises to seat her. The hostess does not rise, because then all the men would be compelled to rise with her.

Q. In what way may a bride-elect show her appreciation to a group of girl friends who have given a shower for her?

A. She may give a luncheon, tea, or bridge party for them.

THURS., JUNE 28, 1962

Do not say, "I expect she is right every now and then." Say, "I SUPPOSE she is right," and omit "every."

Avoid the use of "when" to begin a clause defining a noun; as, "A hurricane is when a very high wind blows." Such usage is as careless as it is senseless. "A hurricane is a violent storm."

Do not say, "She bought a car unbeknownst to me." "Unbeknownst" is a privincialism, and should be avoided. It is better to say, "She bought a car without my knowledge."

Traffic Accidents Costing Millions

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — Traffic accidents in Illinois cost taxpayers more than $330 million each year, Gov. Otto Kerner said Tuesday.

In prepared remarks for a State Police Command Conference at the state fairgrounds, Kerner said the magnitude of the traffic accident problem is such that it dwarfs that of cancer, polio and other dread diseases.

"Every time a motorist puts a gallon of gas in his car, he must also drop 15 cents into a mythical hole in his pocket," he said. "That's what traffic accidents cost the Illinois motorist."

The governor also pointed to the suffering caused by accidents. He said he was meeting monthly with a traffic safety coordinating committee — composed of top state officials—in efforts to find ways to cut accidents. (A-14

Q. My fiance cannot at present afford to buy me an engagement ring. Would it be proper for me to announce our engagement without a ring?

A. Certainly. A ring is, after all, just a symbol, and you will be as fully "engaged" as you would with the world's largest diamond. And above all, don't apologize to anyone for your lack of a ring! This is YOUR business, and no one else's.

Summer Jobs are Tougher to Find Here

DIANNE WALTERS, 1520 Blackhawk Lane, Mount Prospect, obtained summer employment at the Charles Bruning Co., Inc., Mount Prospect. She applied for a position last February. She will be a senior at Prospect High School. (B8

Situation Now Tight: Editor

Palatine News Editor

High school and college students seeking summer employment in northwest suburban industry are finding personnel managers more selective than ever.

The squeeze of a swelling school-age labor force and the desire of industry to acquire long term employes with skills and special abilities is pinching off job opportunities for many students.

John Brownlee, manager of the northwest office of the Illinois State Employment Service, described the labor market in the northwest area as "probably the tightest of any in the country in many respects."

He said the students lacking special skills and ability are finding relatively few opportunities for summer employment. The same is true for high school graduates without special training of some kind.

Opportunities, however, are readily available for those who can meet the requirements of a machinist, punch press operator, sales, engineering, design, waitress positions.

BETWEEN 700 AND 800 high school students have applied for summer work, Brownlee related, and some 125 have been placed. It is easier to place an individual if he or she has some college training or some special experience, but still employers are more inclined to hire on a permanent rather than a temporary basis.

For high school students seeking summer work, Brownlee said, more seem to be hired by retail chain store for relief, part time or extra work. The expansion of O'Hare airport, he said, is opening many jobs in this area, but most positions require special talent, skill or ability.

It seems those students successful in obtaining summer employment generally were the first to make application, some as early as last Christmas.

KENNETH BRADSHAW, personnel manager at United Air Lines in Mount Prospect, said that between 300 and 350 applications have been received by young people seeking summer jobs. Some 40 persons were actually hired, he said, and most of those made application around beginning of the year. The positions filled are about half clerical and half operational, he explained, with little special skill required.

Sons and daughters as well as outsiders are employed by United Air Lines, with a view toward having some of the summer help rejoin the airlines upon graduation from college or high school.

At the Charles Bruning Co., Inc., Mount Prospect, 20 of more than 250 high school and college students applying for summer work were placed on the payroll, with positions here also going to many of those who made application as early as last Christmas.

WALTER LANGE, personnel manager, said most of the summer help is used to facilitate operation of vacation schedule or extra projects and hold positions that generally require no special ability or skill.

At the Pure Oil Co. home office in Palatine, nine clerical positions were filled with summer workers, as were three grounds keeping positions. Russell Larson, personnel manager, said applications were received there "by the hundreds," with 150 written applications and that many more telephone and off-street inquries.

Last year Pure Oil Co. did not hire summer help at all, filling positions with graduating seniors who eventually were absorbed into routine jobs.

JERRY MANLEY, of Employment, Inc., reflecting on the firm's six years of experience, noted that finding summer jobs for high school and college students this year is a little unusual in that most industry seems to be holding out for permanent employes.

He said his office has been "swamped" by students seeking summer employment. Some girls, he related, are so discouraged they said they were going to start telling prospective employes that they will be permanent, a practice Manley said he discourages by pointing out "What can you expect of industry if you do that."

According to Manley, those high school students who have had commercial training or experience with accounting are more likely to find work.

BUT ONE GIRL, he reported, an expert stenograph and well based in office procedures and equipment operation, could not find summer employment. As a result, she had to take a permanent job and delay going to school for at least a year while she works for expenses.

Girls seeking summer work outnumber boys 3-1, said Manley.

Brownlee, whose state office serves an area north of Irving Park and west of Cicero Avenue, said industry seems to be providing only fair cooperation in the youth summer employment problem. "But it all depends on the law of supply and demand," he explained, stressing the growing necessity for applicants to offer some skill or special experience if they intend to fit into the job market.

Several years ago, construction used to be a good field. But that industry has slowed some and there are enough trained union men to fill jobs that are available, Brownlee explained.

NEW PLANTS relocate with new machinery that require additional skills by the operators, Brownlee pointed out, explaining the absence of increasing number of positions available in proportion to new factories in the northwest area.

"Education is playing more and more of a role," he emphasized.

The diversification and the modern equipment of new plants in the northwest area makes them capable of competing in the national markets, Brownlee explained, so the over all business climate is rather stable and not really a strong factor in determining availability of summer jobs.

BROWNLEE, NOTING that there is "a good supply of young people who are anxious to work," urges that there be cooperation between schools, and employment agencies in the future. He cited the importance of industry to plan work routines in such a manner as to utilize summer college and high school help.

Special training also will assist the summer job hunter, making his service worth while for industry that daily grows more specialized. (B-8

County Vows Strong GOP

Hayes Robertson, chairman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee, last Thursday told the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Organization that he would strive for a strong party in the county during the coming months.

The one-time primary gubernatorial candidate told the local members that the central committee plans to beef up its efforts in Chicago's wards with volunteer help for all over the county. He urged the locals to sign up at the headquarters if they wished to offer their help. (ACM

Today's Agriculture

CORPORATION FARMS—The words "corporation farm" has been used to imply that the family farm no longer has a place in agriculture, this is not all fact. The family farm in its method of operation is predominant in agriculture and will continue into the future. Yet many farms may be incorporated as a family unit.

In a recent survey of 35 farm corporations in Illinois, N. G. P. Krausz, University of Illinois professor of agricultural law found all but a few of them are family owned corporations. The stock is held by the members of the same family. The main reason for incorporating was to prevent splintering of the farm land into small tracts and to reduce the size of the parents' estate by gifts of stock to children.

The value of stock issued by these corporations varies from less than $25,000 to more than $1,000,000. Most of them fall in the range of $25,000 to $250,000.

A substantial number are providing some fringe benefits to employees. These benefits include health and accident insurance, disability insurance, continued salary during illness or disability, life insurance and retirement funds.

The corporate employees usually include the directors and officers. The benefits generally are treated as a business expense of the corporation. Corporations with stock valued at more than $50,000 usually offer more fringe benefits than smaller firms.

Fewer than half of the corporations have buy-sell agreements in case a major stockholder dies or retires. Under such agreement, the stock is sold back to the corporation or other stockholders rather than to outside persons. A few of these agreements include life insurance on the stockholder, with other stockholders or the corporation as beneficiary. This insurance provides ready cash to buy the stock from the heirs of the deceased stockholder.

The following list of advantages is given for incorporation:

1. Limited individual and corporate liability.
2. Easy distribution and transfer of ownership.
3. Continuity of operation.
4. Possible increased efficiency.
5. Tax advantages—regular corporations—at certain levels of income
6. Means of improving credit status and pooling capital—this is an important point with the increased capital requirements of agriculture today.

Some of the disadvantages of incorporation are pointed out—

1. Initial cost of incorporation
2. Tax disadvantages
3. Formality of organization and operation
4. Restricted market for shares
5. Loss of dower and homestead

Anyone interested in further information about incorporation of a family farm—should they wish to obtain the University of Illinois circular 797 on "Corporations"—this circular is available in our County Extension office, 201 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights.

Foundlings Home Exhibit Feature

An historical showcase exhibit on the Chicago Foundlings Home will be shown for approximately the next three weeks by the University of Illinois School of Social Work.

The glass enclosed exhibit is on display in a showcase window off the front lobby of the University's modern College of Pharmacy building, 833 S. Wood St.

THE FOUNDLINGS Home, founded by Dr. George E. Shipman in 1871, is today located in a modern building at 1720 W. Polk St., where it provides a maternity home for unwed mothers, a nursery and a detailed adoption program, among other services.

The exhibit shows pictures of the first home, at 15 S. Wood St., Doctor Shipman, the pen he used in 1871 to make entries . . . and other snapshots showing the evolution of the Home to its curent modern quarters.

Another feature of the display is the tracing back of FAITH'S RECORD, the official alumni publication of the Foundling Home, from an 1877 issue to present day publications, including one with a picture of Dr. Karl A. Meyer and some of the children who were born there.

DR. MEYER, the world renowned surgeon - philanthropist and medical superintendent of all Cook County institutions for over 40 years, is president of the Foundlings Home board of Trustees, and is generally credited with having gained much of the needed financial support which enabled the Home to open its modern building in 1960.

The Chicago Foundlings Home has 50 families in the northwest suburban area, all of whom are adoptive parents.

Salesman Pleads Guilty in Death

MILWAUKEE, (UPI) - A door to door salesman pleaded guilty Monday to fatally stabbing a customer.

Gene Ostrowski, 21, charged in the Feb. 1 death of Henry L. Bruseth, 62, pleaded guilty to a charge of third degree murder before Circuit Judge Herbert J. Steffes.

Ostrowski had told police that Bruseth accidentally stabbed himself in a scuffle. He said the fight started when Bruseth refused to pay for a package of room deodorant tablets. (B8

Boat Safety Checks Are Announced

A stepped-up program of courtesy motorboat examinations by Coast Guard Auxiliary Examiner teams, and increased safety patrols by auxiliary members will highlight the activities of the Northwest Suburban U.S.C.G.A. Flotilla 22-18 during Safe Boating Week July 1-7.

Alfred F. Banas, 32 S. Linden Ave., Palatine, chairman of the local auxiliary's Safe Boating Week committee, said this week that each boat passing safety examinations would be awarded a decal showing it meets Coast Guard standards. The examinations will be held July 1 and July 7 at harbors and marinas throughout Chicagoland and the Chain O' Lakes. Local harbor masters or marina personnel may be contacted for further information. (B8

3 NEW Savings Features

NEW WINGS
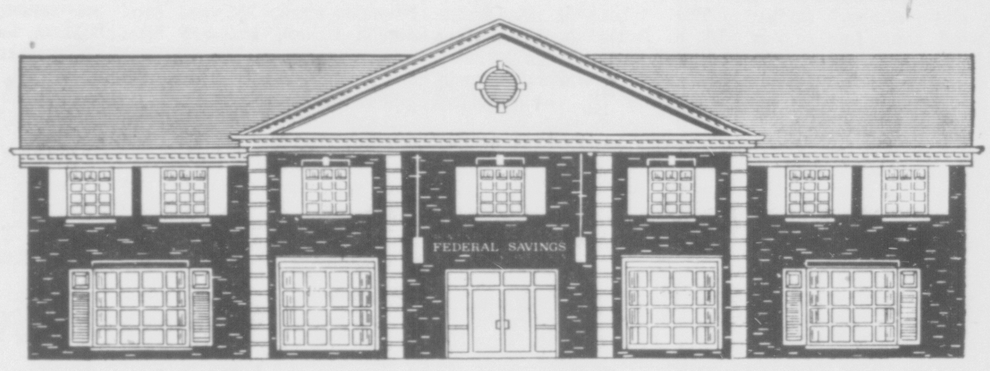
—and 4,000 square feet of new facilities



So fast has Arlington Heights Federal Savings grown (current assets: $26.5 million) that we must now announce the expansion of our new Williamsburg Colonial building—far ahead of the schedule we envisioned when we opened these doors in December 1958. Plans being drawn up will add 4,000 square feet of office and service space, including two second-floor wings, a relocated Drive-Up Window, and a new Walk-Up Window in an enlarged rear lobby. Work will begin in late summer for completion in time for Federal Savings' 10th anniversary next spring. The expansion program means more comfort and convenience for our Federal Savings patrons.

NEW OFFICE HOURS
for increased efficiency and service

A thorough, two-year survey of customer activity, with charting of peak and low loads, has prompted a new schedule of office hours, effective July 1, 1962. It adds up to 59 hours a week of customer service, with full staff availability at all times when office hours are maintained.

Transactions handled at the Walk-Up and Drive-Up Windows will include all those normally completed at the tellers' windows—savings additions and withdrawals, payments on home mortgage and home improvement loans, registered checks, traveller's checks, and cashing of customers' checks.

FULL-STAFF OFFICE HOURS

Burglary Prevention Week Proclaimed Here

The coming week has been declared as Illinois Burglary Prevention Week, during which Arlington Heights Police Chief L. W. Calderwood hopes to make home owners more aware of the precautions they may take to frustrate the attempts of would-be burglars.

This is the time of the year when burglars and prowlers have easy pickings, Calderwood said, with many citizens going off for weekends or vacations and virtually abandoning their homes to burglars.

The unconcerned and careless attitude of many was largely responsible for the 37 burglaries committed in Arlington Heights last year, even though most people didn't intentionally invite intruders to ransack their homes, he noted.

HE LISTED the following steps as precautionary measures for home owners who will be absent:

1.) Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks on outside entrances for safety latches on the windows.

2.) Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.

3.) Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights in the home on and off each evening.

4.) NEVER LEAVE valuables lying around; keep them in a safety deposit box.

For persons leaving for a weekend or longer, Calderwood also suggests:

5.) Notify the police department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away.

6.) CANCEL ALL deliveries, such as milk, laundry, cleaning. Also, be sure to discontinue the newspaper or arrange to have it sent to your vacation address.

7.) Have a neighbor or the post office hold all mail until you return.

8.) Arrange with a friend to mow the lawn and sweep your sidewalk once a week. Also ask him to pick up any circulars or handbills that may be left on your porch.

9.) LEAVE YOUR shades and blinds as you normally do; closed blinds keep the sun out, but also make an effective screen for the burglar.

10.) Never advertise your departure with an item in the local paper. Give the story about your vacation to the newspapers after you've returned. (A

Warning Issued To All Parents

Police Sgt. Maurice English this week urged parents to warn their children not to speak to strangers in cars or on the streets.

It is especially necessary to remind the children of this safety factor during the summer, since they are out of school and there are so many persons on the streets, he noted. (A

With them is James R. Kerr, vice-president of Bell Savings. The association conducts its new buildings survey monthly to show building trends in comparison to prior years. Tabulations, made from reports sent in by community officials, are used by planning boards, schools, industries and other groups. (A

FRO MSHERWOOD

The view from the Space Needle was the high point of her trip to Portland and the World's Fair for Mrs. Herbert Conner, 1117 Burgoyne Road. She'll be returning there to live in the fall, and enjoyed house-hunting and traveling with her husband, who is being transferred. Now she is in Sherwood, enjoying a family reunion with her sister, Mrs. Frances Peters of Pompano Beach, Cal., and her eldest son, Terry, home from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The charm bracelet, which includes charms commemorating her participation in bowling, golf, and bridge, was presented at a recent luncheon given for Mrs. Conner by Mrs. John Auld and Mrs. Carl Palmer at the Palmer home.

A graduation trip to the east coast gave the Wallace Olson family the opportunity to travel together before Steve enrolls at the University of Wisconsin. They visited the Senate in session, and saw Washington, Boston, New York and Niagara Falls before returning to 1219 Watling Road. Steve, a recent graduate of Arlington High School, was salutatorian of his class, although he had transferred from La Crosse, Wis., in his junior year. Mrs. Olson's mother, Mrs. Grace Schuchert of Sparta, Wis., was a house guest of the Olsons.

The Ted Carlsen family, 1314 N. Harvard, spent the weekend at their summer home in Lac du Flambeau, Wis.

FROM RIDGE PARK

Several Ridge Park families are hosts to visiting foreign students this week. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schuler, 922 N. Kennicott, welcomed a boy from Brazil. Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hannum, 1020 N. Fernandez, entertained Juan Araya-Martinez from Chile, who has been attending high school in Mount Vernon, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. John Bloschinsky, 1003 N. Wilke, had as their guest Mario Delgado-Dominguez, of Chile.

All three families, incidentally, have sons who graduated from Arlington High School this year. The Bloschinsky's son, John Robert, will be enrolling at Northwestern University in business administration this fall. Mark Hannum will be attending Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., in liberal arts.

The Hannums celebrated a double graduation this year by welcoming relatives and friends at a small party. Their younger son, Jim, graduated from South Junior High School.

THE WILLIAM D. Rudys, 933 N. Princeton, attended a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neumann, of Lincolnwood, vice president of Mr. Rudy's company.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rubenking are expecting Glen's brother and his family, the Earl Rubenkings, from Alexandria, Va., as house guests this weekend. Recently, they entertained in honor of Norbert Karaus of Indianapolis, also welcoming the Joseph Barthel family.

Other Ridge Park graduates include Sue Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Reeves, 816 Kaspar, who enrolls this fall at Colorado State, Greeley, Colo. Their older daughter, Trilla, is home from Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington, and they also are entertaining Mr. Reeves' mother, Mrs. Charles Reeves of Hamburg, Iowa.

Mrs. Jerome Winters, Mary Louise, Donna, and friends attended the Riverview Ramble Tuesday night.

DONNA CUNNINGHAM, 802 N. Harvard, graduated recently from Arlington High School and will be entering Northern Illinois University at DeKalb to study physical education. Her parents, the V. A. Cunninghams, welcomed relatives for a buffet supper in her honor. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cunningham, of Chicago; aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. F. Guarine, of Franklin Park, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heindl, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Signaigo, of Des Plaines; and friends, Kathy Finch and Tim Cavers, were present.

Congratulations to Lois Jean Molitor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Molitor, 920 N. Salem, who graduated from Arlington High School. Her parents welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Roland Nicolaisen of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ruch of Mount Prospect for a graduation party. Lois's fiance and his parents, Richard Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, were present also. Lois will be an August bride.

Two graduations in one day made an occasion for a family get-together at the home of the William Lees, 1012 N. Ridge. Kathy graduated from South Junior High School, and Mrs. Lee's nephew, Roy Prince, from Wheeling, was also a graduate, so the two families had a double celebration. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Prince, of Wheeling, Mrs. William Lee of Chicago, Misses Sophie and Hannah Kopittke of Chicago, Mrs. Anne Benson of Chicago and Mrs. Jean Musgrove of Northlake. Sunday Mr. Lee made his confirmation at Faith Lutheran Church.

HOUSE GUESTS of Jack and Virginia Bartik, 643 N. Kaspar, have been David and Dorothy Dzuirkiewicz, their nephew and niece, of Chicago, Dorothy will be here all week.

Mrs. Arthur Hughes, 647 N. Kaspar, found out first-hand how neighborly her new neighbors were. She was guest of honor Thursday at a coffee, but when the hostess's son became suddenly ill and had to be taken to the doctor, the neighbors took over and continued the coffee. Lending a helping hand were Carol Wille, Delores Niell, Margaret Schlickman, and Virginia Bartik, along with assorted children. Peggy Miley and Vicky Slater, who helped with the children, met the Hughes' older daughter, Carolyn, also a high school student, who has just returned from Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hall, 1009 W. Oakton, moved Tuesday to Baltimore, Md. As their youngest daughter, June, is being married Saturday in First Presbyterian Church here, they are having a busy week. June was honored at showers given by Mrs. Charles Klehm and Miss Bonnie Benson. (A Still another Miner Junior High graduate, June 14, was Stephen Hedberg, 1104 N. Pine Court.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wszelaki of Centralia were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schlack, 622 E. Clarendon, for two days of last week. The Schlacks also enjoyed a 2-day visit from grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kimpling of Virginia, the week before.

House guest of the Pete Johnsons, 709 E. Olive, last Wednesday and Thursday was a niece, Jane Hancuff of Sherman Oaks, Calif. The Johnsons hosted a family reunion dinner party June 17 for their guest. Numerous relatives from Chicago and the suburbs attended. Miss Hancuff ended her midwestern vacation last weekend.

The George Pisors family, 711 E. Clarendon, drove to St. Joseph Convent in Milwaukee June 20 to attend the ceremony during which their eldest daughter, Sister Agnesellen, became a professed nun. They were joined by numerous relatives, including the James Pisors family of Dallas and Mrs. Alice Sands of Kansas City, Kan.

During the same ceremony an aunt, Sister Francis Joseph of Buffalo Grove, took final vows among a group of 30. After the ceremony the more than 50 newly professed nuns visited with relatives on the convent grounds.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph Kramer, 912 E. Oakton, hosted a dinner party last Thursday evening for their out-of-town guests, a sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Albert, of Miami. Guests also were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dolan of Glenview. Joining them later in the evening were the Nick Molitars of Prospect Heights, another sister and family, and the Warren Rapps, mutual friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, 1158 N. Dryden, hosted a family reunion dinner party last Thursday evening. Guests of honor were a brother, Richard Lowe, and his bride-to-be, Miss Dawn Winsauer of Des Plaines. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Jennison of North Canton, Conn., Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Lentz of Nappanee, Ind., sisters and spouses, besides grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lowe of Des Plaines. Gaily colored patio lights and music for dancing added a festive touch to their first-time-in-10-years get-together.

Friday evening they were among the group of 25 guests attending the rehearsal dinner held at a restaurant in Algonquin. The couple were married Saturday in Trinity Lutheran Church, Des Plaines. Following the 6:30 p.m. ceremony a dinner and reception was held in the American Legion Hall in Des Plaines.

THE MEN'S golf outing sponsored by the Arlington Greens Community Association, was held Saturday at Rob Roy Country Club. Prizes were awarded to Dick Fagala for low gross, Dick Sims for low net and Howard Schick earned the "blind bogey." Guest of the group was Tom Jarvis.

Jeff Reed, 1148 N. Hickory, celebrated his ninth birthday Sunday. A family trip to Chicago's south side and the matinee performance of the circus was his way of observing the occasion. Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Petrillo of Chicago, joined them for cake and ice cream later in the day. Jeff had just returned last Thursday from a 10-day jaunt of cities in Nebraska and Iowa, accompanying his dad on a business trip.

The Fred Dargatz family, 1184 N. Beverly Lane, returned home Monday after a 10-day trip to the nation's Capital. They enjoyed seeing all the sights in Washington, including tours of the Senate, House and Washington monument. They were 4-day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gaul at nearby Bethesda, Md. Before starting homeward they spent a day touring historic Williamsburg, Va.

The Thomas T. Barretts, 1154 N. Hickory, arrived home Sunday from a 10-day vacation trip to St. Paul, Minn., where they visited grandmothers, Mrs. John Faricy and Mrs. Lawrence Barrett. Their trip coincided with the vacation trips of brothers, Donald Barrett of Colorado Springs, and James Faricy, a Stanford University student. (A

On June 16 Willam John Hankley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hankley, 724 N. Hickory Ave., received his degree from Northwestern University's Engineering Technological Institute. Bill, who had been attending the university on a scholarship, completed his four years of study in three years. In the fall he will accept an assistantship at Northwestern and will continue his studies for a bachelor of science in electrical engineering. Bill will spend the summer in Lexington, Ky., where he is employed by the IBM Corporation.

After the commencement exercises at McGaw Hall, at which Marquerite Stitt Church spoke, Mr. and Mrs. Hankley entertained at home. Relatives from Clarendon Hills, Markham and Chicago came to offer Bill their congratulations.

After a 6-month cruise in the Orient, Lt. (j.g.) Edward A. Fritz is back home with his family, the W. Edward Fritzes at 301 N. Douglas Ave., Aboard the Oklahoma City, flagship of the 7th fleet, Lt. Fritz took part in the Laotian mission. He also visited Japan, Hong Kong, Manila and the Hawaiian Islands.

THE ANNUAL Fritz family reunion was scheduled this year to coincide with Edward's return home. So on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fritz and Edward journeyed to Mount Calvary, Wis. where they joined 50 other members of the family for a day of feasting and catching up on all the latest happenings.

Mrs. Carl Carlman's brother, Gene Kassel from San Francisco, has been a visitor at the Carlman residence, 311 N. Lincoln Lane. Mr. Kassel had business in Hartford, Conn., and both to and fro he made Arlington Heights a stopping off point. While in town the Carlmans took Mr. Kassel to Arlington Park race track.

Since it's been three or four weeks since Mary Elizabeth Cockrell and her classmates at Regina Dominica High School last saw each other, Mary Elizabeth decided it was time to get together again. Approximately 50 girls were her guests Sunday evening for an outdoor party. Eating, gossiping and singing-along made for a merry evening for the girls, all of whom will be high school seniors in September.

Saturday morning's rainy skies cleared in time for the wedding of Mickey McDermott and Jackie Olmsted in St. Lambert's Church in Skokie. Mickey is the grandson of Mrs. Thomas Loftus of N. Dryden Ave., and she was among those present at the wedding breakfast at the Orrington Hotel in Evanston and later at the reception for 250 people at the same hotel.

THE FINE JUNE weather has been perfect for picnics and backyard parties, and the Arthur Templin family of N. Dryden Ave. have enjoyed both. A week ago Saturday they were hosts at a backporch party for fellow employes of Mr. Templin's at Factory Mutual Engineering Division. This past Saturday they attended a company picnic in the Des Plaines forest preserves.

Sunday Mrs. Templin will act as godmother for her nephew Scott John Brandt, who was born May 20. Scott is the son of Mrs. Templin's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Brandt of Springfield. The baby will be christened at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Evanston, rather than in Springfield, so that area relatives will be able to attend the ceremony.

A happy birthday wish is sent to Claudia Scully who celebrated her 9th anniversary on June 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vlach of N. Beverly Lane celebrated their 17th wedding anniversary Saturday with friends aboard a cabin cruiser on Lake Michigan. After an afternoon of sailing, Virginia and Dick topped off the day with dinner at the Sahara.

CONGRATULATIONS are extended to Victor Trumpy Jr. who will enter the University of Wisconsin in September on a scholarship from the Jewel Tea Co. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Trumpy of 417 N. Dryden Ave., Victor has worked an average of 15 hours a week at the Jewel store in the Market. He was in the top 10 per cent of the June graduating class at Arliington High School.

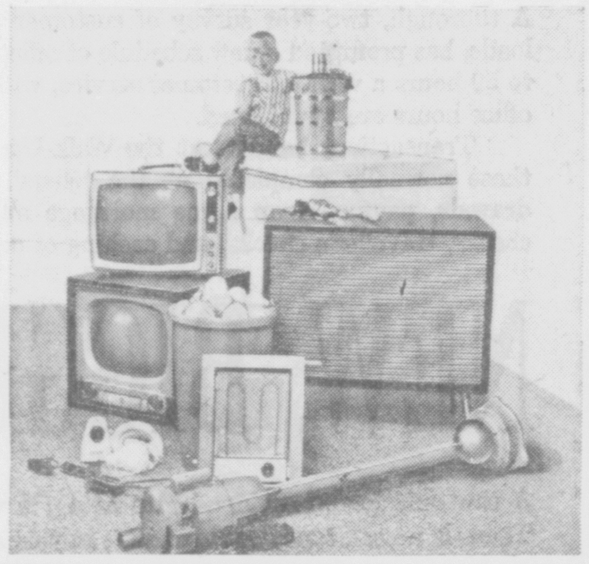
"What can I take apart?" asks Baby Matthew. With him are the refrigerator, toaster, food mixer, roaster, coffeemaker, can opener, knife sharpener, meat slicer, fry pan, hot dog cooker, hand mixer, disposer, 2 shavers, blender (behind Matthew).



Young Brad enjoys results from the ice cream maker. Under him a 21 cu. ft. freezer, 2 TV sets, hair dryer, stereo hi-fi, wall heater, drill, pump motor, electric scissors, fire starter, light bulbs: 75-watt (10), 25-watt (13), 100-watt (16), 3-way (50-100-200-watt)—4, and 3 fluorescents—30, 20, 15-watt.

Mr. Robert Bettenhausen poses atop the color TV set, along with an air conditioner, sewing machine, electric blanket, bottle warmer, phonograph, hair clippers, projector, radio, 2 heat pads, vacuum, and tree lights.

Little Bill reports:

46¢ worth of electricity a day
runs all these appliances for the Bettenhausens

Most folks are mighty surprised at the number of electric helpers they own. The Bettenhausens were. They now have many more electrical appliances than they started with and are actually using about three times as much electricity. But the Bettenhausens, like all of us, are paying less for it per kilowatt hour than they did years ago. One reason for this is the Power Grid System which connects our power lines with companies in thirty-two other states.

With this system we can often buy (or sell) power at advantageous rates which helps keep the price you pay down.

That's another reason why it costs so little to live better electrically today!

The R. Bettenhausens live in Tinley Park, Ill. Average cost of their electricity was computed by adding their electric bills for last year, Sept. 7, 1960, to Sept. 7, 1961, and dividing by 365 days. Naturally, costs vary according to a family's living habits.

On Mate Selection Medic Gives Advice

(UPI)—A prominent medical columnist Tuesday advised American women to select healthy mates who are lean, sensible, even-tempered, inclined to moderation and had long-lived ancestors.

Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen, medical editor of the Chicago Tribune, admitted that "This type of husband is difficult to pick out." For those not so fortunate as to find the ideal spouse, Van Dellen recommended, in a speech in Chicago to the Women's Auxiliary of the American Medical Association, "Don't push your husband so hard that he leaves you a widow." # Local Clinic Gets $32,000

Some $32,000 has been allocated to the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic, Arlington Heights, by the state of Illinois.

The money is part of grants totaling $2,058,057 for community mental health clinics and other special mental health services announced by Gov. Otto Kerner.

THE BULK of the money comes from the mental health fund, an appropriation earmarked by the general assembly from funds collected from patients and their relatives for care in state mental institutions. Some $299,700 represents federal mental health funds.

Funds from the communities almost match, dollar for dollar, the state and federal grants for the local programs. (ACM

MOUNT PROSPECT

Eight Junior High Camp Fire Torchbearers served as counselors aides at day camp. Janet Thompson and Barbara Johnson assisted with the nature hikes, and Randi Hagen, Barbara Daish, Jennifer Luce, Leni King, Diane Airey and Beverly Potter assisted with the songs, dances and games.

Elu Ta Ki Ka Chon Camp Fire girls report a pleasant visit from Jean Allison of Winterhaven, Fla., originally a member of their group. The girls picnicked at the home of their leader, Mrs. Sally Hagen, to celebrate Jean's visit.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Okiciyapi Camp Fire group, taking part in the June 18-19 overnight at Prairie Club Lodge, cooked a taste-tempting supper over an open fire and enjoyed group singing and dancing before closing the initial session with an early morning gab-fest in the lodge's dorm.

The call of many birds and the rustling of small animals in the surrounding wooded area brought sleeping to an end, and the enticing smell of breakfast steered the Junior High and High School Camp Fire Girls to the dining area.

Discovery of a baby mole in the tall grass by several members of the Tacinca Camp Fire Group kept many of the girls anxiously watching its delightful antics.

A challenging game of kick ball, with one of the other groups, further amused the girls before they took off on a morning hike.

Returning to the campsite, the Okiciyapis cooked their last meal over the open coals before packing their gear and setting out for home.

Accompanying the girls on the 2-day camping trip were Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg, guardian and Mrs. Richard Chlupsa, sponsor. Shirley Allen, Nancy Chlupsa, Rose Marie Kelly, Nancy Lyons, Nancy Roth, Paula Schomburg and Nancy Staadt participated in the event.

TACINCA CAMP Fire girls planned their overnite at the Prairie Club as a rank requirement towards Fire Maker Rank. All three meals which the girls planned and shopped for were cooked out-of-doors. Guardians Mrs. Ruth Platt and Mrs. Agnes Saidikowski accompanied the following girls: Linda McDougall, Diane Oldenburg, Ellen Olsen, Colleen Peickert, Karen Platt, Marla Rubenking, Rosemary Saidikowski, Gail Vogel and Gail Whiteside.

Chickiyapi Camp Fire Girls, who were also present at the Prairie Club Lodge, slept in tents. There were 10 girls participating, under the guardianship of Mrs. Hazel Lowell and Mrs. Mildred Engelbretsen. After being awakened at 5:15 a.m. by the birds twittering, the girls took a hike before cooking their breakfast over a camp fire.

JUNE 18, To-He-Cum Camp Fire Group met at the Arlington Heights Railroad Station, bound for Chicago, on the 10:33 a.m. train. Once downtown, they went by boat to the Michigan Avenue bridge, which was a new "first" for many of the girls. After eating lunch at the B & G cafteria, they walked up Michigan Avenue, and toured the "Tribune" newspaper.

Another return boat ride on the Chicago River back to North Western Station, brought the girls back just in time to board a 3:30 train to Arlington Heights. Fourteen girls enjoyed this trip accompanied by Trudy Kendall, leader, Lois Hodges, co-leader, and Lurena Conway, a sponsor mother. Girls in this group have just completed fifth grade at Park School. # Vacation Traffic is T'riffic as Summer '62 Arrives

Summer officially arrived at 3:24 last Thursday afternoon, but Arlington Heighters were too busy doing summer-type things and going summer-type places to notice. The pre-nuptial party season approaches its peak and traffic is t'riffic as local folk or their out-of-town visitors jam the highways. The post-Christmas lull is definitely over.

Current hectivity, sometimes called "hectic activity," at 811 N. Wilshire is being climaxed this week as the Edward Deppmans leave here for a new home in Moline and the John Haynes family of Denver moves in. A week ago Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Deppman returned from eight days in the east that combined a 4-day vacation at Lake Placid with four days attending business matters in New York. Prior to that, Mrs. Deppman was tarewelled by 24 neighborhood friends at a coffee given by Mrs. William Youngstrom, 803 N. Wilshire.

SATURDAY night Marilyn Smith and Ellen Everhart cohostessed at a surprise farewell party in the Smith home, 909 S. Dunton, for Carolyn Smith who leaves July 3 for a year in the Netherlands. The guest of honor and the hostess are not related except through their common interest in church, school and club activities and it is through her Presbyterian Church affiliation that the going-overseas Miss Smith is among the coming year's foreign exchange students.

Through the interdenominational International Christian Youth Exchange, Miss Smith will be the temporary daughter of a family in Haarlem, Holland and her foster parents' son, Rob Meloen, will come here to live with Carolyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Smith, 611 W. Wing. They will meet Rob in New York Aug. 4 at about the same time Carolyn will be meeting the Meloens after a month in a New Amsterdam training school.

Nine local girl friends wished Carolyn well Saturday night and gifted her with the accessories to outfit a tote bag that was the gift of the hostesses. Carolyn's parents joined Marilyn's in sharing the evening's fun with their daughters and friends.

ANOTHER "FOREIGN" exchange was effected over the weekend as former Arlington Heighters, the Harding Miller family now of Indianapolis, left a daughter here to visit and took back a local son to stay with them. Reunited for at least a week and possibly two are the Millers' daughter Becky, and her best friend, Patricia Strothers, 1007 N. Vail, and their male equivalents, Jeff Miller and Hank Taylor, 1201 N. Dunton.

Hank returned to Indianapolis with the Millers Sunday as Becky settled down with the Strothers for a stay everyone hopes will last through Patricia's July 2 birthday.

The Jack Keller family weekended in Elkhorn, Ind. for a belated Father's Day-graduation celebration with Mrs. Keller's father, S. H. Gibson. Extending greetings to Grandpa was Susan Keller who received in exchange, congratulations upon her recent high school graduation. Sue plans to attend Indiana University in the fall.

MR. AND MRS. Michael Lanciloti, 3008 Schoenbeck, returned Friday after a 2-week visit in Boston with their son, William.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gore of Los Angeles returned to the west coast last Thursday after a 10-day visit with Mrs. Gore's parents, the Earl Rileys, 738 S. Mitchell. They jetted here June 11, were welcomed that evening at a family dinner in the Riley home, then left next day with Mrs. Gore's parents to vacation at the family home on Lac LaBelle in Oconomowoc, Wis.

Immediately after their return to Los Angeles, Gore reported to Fort Ord in Monterey where the couple will make their temporary home during his term of service in the army.

Mary Dralle received congratulations Sunday upon her recent high school graduation at an outdoor party at her home, 1037 S. Dunton. Also rating an achievement award was her Dad who did all the barbecuing for the 50 suburban and Chicago friends, relatives and neighbors who came to honor Mary.

Among the guests were Mary's grandmother, Mrs. Therese Probst, and her great-aunts, Miss Charlotte and Miss Corinne Boone, all of Chicago. Monday John Jr., Mary's brother, turned 16 and he, too, had a share in Sunday's crop of congratulations.

THE JAMES Loudons entertained Saturday with a cocktail party and open house to "introduce" their new home at 615 W. Maple to local and Chicago friends. They formerly resided at 746 S. Dunton.

Two local neighboring families returned Saturday from 2-week vacations in Florida, one to exclaim about the beautiful weather and the other to challenge Florida's right to be called "The Sunshine State."

The L. J. Lubers, 844 S. Dunton, are sun-tanned and exuberant after a stay on the west coast of Florida with Mrs. Luber's brother and his family, the Robert J. Terrences of Tampa. They enjoyed deep-sea fishing and Mrs. Luber reports that "my husband hooked a real scrapper and we had to knock him on the head to settle him down — the fish of course, not my husband."

They returned via the Smoky Mountains and visited in Murfreesboro, Tenn. with Mr. Luber's brother, John and his family.

AT THE SAME time the Lubers were soaking up sunshine in Tampa, their neighbors, the Peter Eriksen family, were just plain soaking on the east coast where relief from torrential rains came on days when it only rained a little bit. Relenting somewhat in their description of the weather, the Eriksens admitted the sun shone when they toured Silver Springs and the famed Cypress Gardens. After 3600 well-washed miles, the Eriksens returned Saturday and have since acquired their tans.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown, 509 S. Chestnut, returned last Thursday from two weeks in the East where Mr. Brown attended a 5-day convention in Philadelphia of the American Newspaper Publishers Association. They also enjoyed a few days in New York City.

Peter Rocca is home at 117 S. Fernandez for the summer after completing his first year in the Holy Cross Seminary of Notre Dame University.

MRS. RUSSELL Larson and Mrs. Richard Dalbke were cohostesses recently at a welcome-to-the-neighborhood coffee for Mrs. Austin Pickering, formerly of Texas. In the Larson home at 620 S. Walnut Mrs. Pickering met 18 women who are her neighbors since the Pickerings' move to 616 S. Walnut.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lattner came home to 1018 N. Vail Sunday night after a 2-week tour through the Smoky and Blue Ridge Mountains, and a visit in Washington, D. C. with friends. In historic Gatlinburg, Tenn., which they have toured before, they visited something new and novel, a ski lodge.

Despite the lack of "ski-able" snow in Tennessee, enthusiasm for the sport is booming there and Gatlinburg's Alpine lodge is attracting much attention. Water will be piped up the mountain so that snow can be artificially created, and comes winter the southland will have its first enduring ski slopes.

THE PRE-NUPTIAL party whirl for Miss Nancy Baker, who has been feted in Beloit and Aurora as well as locally, was climaxed Sunday at a pre-reception party in the Aurora home of Dale Booth, brother of the groom-to-be, David Booth. Nancy and her parents, the Edward H. Bakers, 638 S. Dunton, were presented to 100 relatives and friends of the groom's family.

A round of bridal showers for Miss Baker began during the school year at Beloit College where the bride-elect is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. One spring night in the sorority house, Miss Baker's sisters surprised her with a round-the-clock shower, each gift suitable for use during a specific hour of the day or night.

Early this month five high school friends of Miss Baker and their mothers were guests at a surprise luncheon and personal shower for the bride-elect, given by Miss Diane Burger, 446 S. Banbury.

Last Thursday night a final shower brought Miss Baker good wishes and gifts for the kitchen from 14 more local friends. Party hostesses were Miss Diane Ainslie and Miss Nancy Miller in the Ainslie home, 106 E. Rockwell.

Miss Baker will be married Saturday in the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights to David Booth, son of the Harry Booths of Aurora. The groom attends the University of Oregon where he is working on a fellowship for his Ph.D. degree in chemistry, and the couple will make their home there.

A FAMILY gathering Sunday in the Erwin Clausing home, 913 S. Vail, celebrated the host's June 27 birthday.

Brian Lee, infant son of Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Boman, was baptized in Faith Lutheran Church on Father's Day and the occasion marked at a family gathering in the Boman home, 107 S. Kennicott. Adding their blessings to the day were the baby's paternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Boman, here for a visit from their winter home in Madiera Beach, Fla. en route Sister Bay, Wis. for the summer.

Marilyn Meyer, 1205 N. Dunton, was 12 years old Tuesday and celebrated at a luncheon party in her home with six school and neighborhood friends.

MR. AND Mrs. Charles H. Watkins, 105 S. Drury, spent the past week visiting friends and relatives in Minneapolis and Webster, S. D. During their stay in Webster, they attended a family reunion at which 300 relatives gathered for the event at a resort at Waubey Lake. Many of the relatives attending the reunion originally came from Norway and were early settlers in the Waubey Lake area.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson, 111 S. Wilshire, and their children, Sandra and George, returned Sunday from a week's vacation at Gulliver Lake near Manistique, Mich. During their stay in Michigan, they visited Mackinac Island and the locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. R. S. Burdick of Council Bluffs, Iowa, spent the past two weeks in Arlington Heights visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Means, 1101 Mayfair.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas F. Gutzman, 344 S. Windsor, and their daughter, Barbara, are home from a 10-day motor trip to the east, during which they visited several eastern colleges and campuses and then vacationed at Cape Cod and Boston. Enroute home they stopped to visit two former Stonegate neighbors, the J. David Everards of Short Hills, N. J. and the John Vanniers family in Armonk, N.Y.

MR. AND Mrs. Ian MacLachlan, 1230 Woodford, had as their weekend house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wight of Cranford, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dietze, 330 S. Windsor recently returned from Gainesville, Fla., where they attended the wedding of the latter's mother, Mrs. Hale Sturges, to Harry W. Warfel.

Former Stonegate resident, Mrs. Clair Owen, and her children, Jeoffrey, Richard, Randall and Sarah Anne, are here from their home in St. Petersburg, Fla., for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, 211 S. Stratford.

Before coming here, Mrs. Owen and her three sons motored through Shenandoah National Park and went on to Warren, Ohio, to attend a large family reunion. Her youngest child, Sarah Anne, joined the others here Monday, when she flew in from Florida with her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Nelia Owen.

Mrs. Owen happily renewed old friendships at a block party the Sullivans gave in her honor, and another given by the Walter Kellins at which she met many of her friends including the William F. McMurrays of Newark, N. J., a Kenyon college classmate of Mrs. Owen's late husband.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Dunlop, 1115 Mayfair, has as their overnight guests Wednesday, Mrs. Larry Coyte and her five children, who are enroute from their home in Jeffersonville, Ind., to their summer home in St. Croix River, Wis.

Michael Barton marked his 18th birthday at a surprise party Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton, 321 S. Windsor. The party had a Hawaiian theme and guests included several of his Loyola Academy classmates.

Michael, who was a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship examinations was graduated from Loyola Academy in Wilmette earlier this month and will enter the Massachusettes Institute of Technology in Cambridge in September.

MR. AND MRS. John Hall, 1305 Woodford, entertained at a dinner party Friday for Dr. and Mrs. Gustav Soltz and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freiburg of Chicago.

Saturday, the Halls donned beachcomber costumes to attend a luau at the Elks Club in Waukegan, where they were guests of Dr. Edward Wones.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Eugene Baughman, 517 Banbury, had as their house guests during the week, Mr. Baughman's sister and brother-in-law, the Walter Coopers of Burlington N. C., and their three sons.

The Clyde A. Ferry family, 637 Bristol, were hosts to Miss Loreta Kiefer, an exchange student from Brazil, during her 2-day stay in Arlington Heights this week.

Mrs. Garwin Dawley, 905 Mayfair, entertained at a luncheon June 20 for her aunts, Mrs. Phillip Nelson of Fort Dodge, Iowa and Mrs. H. Logue of Denver, both of whom are visiting relatives in the area.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Kelly of Philadelphia and their sons, Tim and Brian, arrived in Arlington Heights Monday for a 2-week visit with the James Davises, 713 Lyndon.

Bill Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mann, 304 E. Fairview, having finished his sophomore year at Marquette University in Milwaukee where he majored in Spanish, will spend the summer working in Arlington Heights, and in September will leave for Spain, where he will spend a year studying at the University of Madrid.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carlson, 631 S. Burton, and their children, Karin and Brett, spent the weekend in Manchester, Iowa, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glass. The Carlsons' Scarsdale neighbors, the John Drums, joined them for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, 700 Lyndon, have as their house guest for a month, Mrs. Campbell's nephew, Michael Scully of Cheshire, Conn.

MR. AND MRS. James O. Carns and their daughter, Christene, are spending the summer here with his parents, the W. H. Carns, 106 S. Stratford.

Following his graduation from Rose Polytech Institute in Terre Haute, David Starnes joined several of his fraternity brothers for a week of water-skiing in Cumberland, Ky., after which he returned to start work as a chemical engineer in the research department of the National Alluminate Corporation in Chicago.

His sister, Debby, a June graduate from Arlington High School, is spending the summer working at the Fahey clinic in Des Plaines, and plans to enter the school of nursing at Marquette University in Milwaukee.

David and Debby are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Starnes Jr., 605 Burton. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Yowell, 441 S. Forrest, on their June 20 wedding anniversary. By way of celebration, they attended a performance at the O'Hare Inn Theatre after dinner at Henrici's.

Receiving congratulations on their June 23 wedding anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. Don Cook, 525 S. Forrest, who marked the day by having dinner at Simonini's in Algonquin. They were accompanied by his brother and sister-in-law, the Robert Cooks of Evanston.

Another Arlington Acres couple celebrating a June anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sealock, 521 S. Prindle, who were married 18 years Sunday. Here for the weekend and to join in a festive dinner Sunday were Mrs. Sealock's mother, Mrs. Mary Page of Trenton, Mo., and her sister Mrs. Romalie Pickett of Ottumwa, Iowa.

LAST WEDNESDAY Margaret Marshall, 432 S. Forrest, had as dinner guests Florence Berger, the foreign exchange student who graduated from Arlington High School earlier this month, and her American sister, Kathy Baker. Florence left Saturday for a limited tour of the United States, including a visit to Washington and a meeting with the President, after which she will return to France.

Best wishes are extended to Cherie Mertens 425 S. Gibbons, on her June 22 birthday.

Mrs. William Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, was hostess at a "coffee" Friday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Robert Morgan who recently moved next door to the Bayuks. Guests were six immediate neighbors.

Kim Slusser's seventh birthday, June 24, was celebrated at a party Saturday afternoon for her sister, Missy, and Sharon Conway, Kris and Karen Soukop, Kathy Oravetz, Pam Brown, Shari Landon and Jill Fedderson.

Kim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Slusser, 516 S. Prindle.

MR. AND MRS. Lyle Longrie, 429 S. Forrest, are entertaining a house guest, Mrs. Longrie's niece, Joan Karkocki of Elmwood Park, for the week. Marcia Longrie is enjoying showing her cousin around the neighborhood and introducing her to friends.

The Longries' oldest son, Chuck, who recently graduated from Prospect High School, left Friday morning for Lackland AFB, Texas, to begin training.

The good wishes of the Longries friends and neighbors go with Chuck who will be in the service for at least four years.

Jack Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, spent the past weekend in Northwest Community Hospital, victim of an accident. Jack fell while working in the garage near the rafters and suffered a broken and badly cut nose in addition to other cuts and bruises. Although he is now at home, his injuries will require the services of a plastic surgeon.

CYNTHIA Curtin's 15th birthday Sunday was dampened by her dad's accident as far as family celebration was concerned, but her gift from her friend Sandy Dabovitch was a trip to Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus after lunch at Stock Yards Inn as a guest of Sandy and her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ganzer, 408 S. Prindle, have just returned from spending a week in Overland Park, Kan., visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGurn. The Ganzers were accompanied by their four oldest children, William, Joan, Mary and Thomas.

While the sisters were together, the two couples took occasion to celebrate their wedding anniversaries which fell within two days of each other.

THE CHARLES Miner family, 421 S. Gibbons, spent the weekend in Indiana, where they attended the wedding of Arlyn's niece, Miss Diane Schmidt, to Kenneth Howerton in Portage on Saturday. From there they drove to Miller to spend the night with "Grandma" Lustgarten.

The wedding held special significance for the Miners as Gail was her cousin's bridesmaid.

Best wishes for a happy year go to Dick, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stoehr, 441 S. Prindle, who observed his 13th birthday June 20 at a family dinner party.

Mr. and Mrs. James Evanger, 436 S. Forrest, can't help feeling lonesome this week. Their children, Mike and Laurie, are spending a week in Peoria, visiting an uncle's family.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to L. Q. Yowell, who entered Northwest Community Hospital Sunday for surgery.

A quiet anniversary dinner at home was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Al Zmrzly, 521 S. Forrest, who were married 21 years June 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byrnes, 437 S. Phelps, chose to celebrate their 16th wedding anniversary Saturday with friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Brunsfeld. The two couples had dinner at the Studio in Morton Grove. (A

Driving School's Injunction Denied

A driving school's motion for a temporary injunction to restrain Arlington-Prospech High School District 214 from continuing adult driver training classes was denied last Friday.

Judge Cornelius Harrington ruled from the bench in the Circuit Court of Cook County that the plaintiff had not shown for the purposes of his entry, that school districts do not have the right to teach driver education for adults.

ACORN Auto Driving School, Inc., had held that a law providing for schools to teach all persons between the ages of 15 and 21 prohibits schools from teaching persons older than 21.

The school district contended that the law simply defines one specific area for teaching.

The attorney for the plaintiff, Harry R. Booth, said an appeal to the Appelate or state Supreme Court is being considered. The final ruling on the case was to be issued Wednesday. (A

Angered Housewives Barricade Intersection

THE INTERSECTION of Golf and Busse Roads, scene of an accident Monday morning in which two Arlington Heights women were killed, was blocked by housewives from Elk Ridge Villa Monday afternoon. The women blocked traffic for a half hour in an attempt to get a stoplight installed at the dangerous intersection. State Police were at the scene, and after much argument convinced the demonstrators to allow traffic to go through. The women threatened a similar demonstration in the future, if action is not taken to install a traffic signal. At present there is only a two-way stop on Busse Road. Golf Road traffic travels straight through. Homeowners in Elk Ridge Villa and Golfview subdivisions have been asking for the light for months. The residents contend that the intersection is too dangerous as it is, and that children will be forced to cross Golf Road to go to school next fall. Traffic also backs up on Busse Road at the intersection during rush hours. There have been about 60 accidents at the intersection since 1958, and 20 since January, area residents say. Killed in Monday's accident were Ethel M. Lenehan and Ruth Waterbury, both of Arlington Heights.

Amateur Canoe Regatta Slated In Lincoln Park

Part-time paddlers and off-hour oarsmen from all over the Midwest will compete at the Central States Amateur Canoe Regatta, July 1, on the waters of the Lincoln Park Lagoon, foot of Webster Ave., Chicago.

The regatta, which is sponsored by the Lincoln Park Boat Club, features a full-scale program of canoeing and kayaking events for all types of canoe craft.

The events are open to all comers, regardless of age or previous boating experience, according to Peter Theis, chairman of the boating extravaganza. Entry blanks may be obtained by contacting Henry Price at DI 8-2466.

HEADLINE EVENTS include 1,000 and 500 meter dashes for men and women in Olympic racing and cruising kayaks, as well as similar events for racing and cruising canoes.

There will also be a number of novelty races for cruising canoes and cruising kayaks with mixed crews.

In the special events catagories, contestants clad in swim suits will try their skill at Eskimo rolling, while others armed with cushion-tipped poles will joust in canoe tilting matches. In still another specialty event, boaters without paddles will jockey for position in canoe bobbing races.

THERE WILL BE more than 15 separate events — all open to the public including a water polo match put on by the Illinois Athletic Club.

The area in Lincoln Park near the boat club will be decorated with streamers and placards, and thousands of picnicking spectators are expected to line the half-mile lagoon race course to watch the events.

The regetta takes place on the 52nd anniversary of the Lincoln Park Boat Club, which has sponsored many regattas in its long history and has served as home club for many championship skulling teams.

Not since the mid-1930s, however, has there been a major canoe regatta in Chicago which is open to the general public. Chairman Theis said the boat club is even prepared to lend a limited number of canoes and kayaks to contestants who do not own boats.

The first event in the Sunday afternoon regatta begins at 12 noon. The water polo match is at 2 p.m.

St. Viator Drops Two Legion Tilts

Collecting only one hit in 14 innings, St. Viator's American Legion baseball team suffered two Ninth District setbacks last week.

Coach Frank Mariani's nine handcuffed by Des Plaines' Bob Lorentz, 7-0, with the talented hurler recording a no-hitter. St. Viator picked up just one hit in a 9-1 loss to Mount Prospect.

The locals were slated to meet Palatine last Friday, but that game was postponed because of rain. The two clubs will get together this Thursday, June 28.

Currently boasting a 1-5 mark in the Ninth District, St. Viator was slated to tackle Northlake, also 1-5, last night (Wednesday). Viator will journey to Park Ridge Saturday and then meet the Arlington Heights post Monday.

Hoffman Estates and St. Viator will hook up in a Fourth of July headliner.

Garden Liquors On Top

Garden Liquors took sole possession of first place in the Arlington Heights Park District Classic 16-inch softball league, as the Pure Oilers dropped the Turfs out of the top position.

Garden Liquors breezed by the Pioneers for their third straight win as they beat the latter, 18-3.

The Turfs suffered their first defeat at the hands of the Pure Oilers in a real close contest, 14-13.

Bob Scuba downed the Matics 10-7 to stay one game out of first while the Sigwalts held on to the same position winning over the Strats 14-8.

In the final game Hofbrau edged out Meyers Dairy 16-14.

United States Meets Poland In Dual Meet

Gold medal winners from the Rome Olympics and current world record holders will be on display June 30 and July 1 as the United States meets Poland in an international dual track and field meet at Stagg Field, Chicago. It will be the first meeting between the two countries on American soil and the first time Chicago has been the site of a match between two track and field powers.

Thirty track events are scheduled over a two-day period with each day's action beginning at 4:30 p.m. Fifteen final events will be run each day. There will be no trials. Ten of the thirty events will be contested between Polish and American women athletes.

Some of track and field's finest performances resulted in the two previous meetings between the United States and Poland. Almost 100,000 spectators crowded into the Warsaw stadium in 1958 to see the Americans defeat Poland 115-97 as Jerzy Chromik of Poland set a world record in the 3,000 meter steeplechase and Polish athletes bettered four national records.

America's Phil Coleman, of the University of Chicago Track Club, set an American record in the race against Chromik.

Two Clubs Unbeaten In Softball

Co-leaders remain undefeated in the Arlington Heights Park District Sportsmans 16-inch softball league after the fifth week of play.

Bruns Real Estate coasted to an easy win over the Soft-Tees 22-7 while the Greens handled Able Electric 15-7.

One of the leaders will have to step down as the two are scheduled to meet in this week's play.

In other games the Elk Grove Dems edged out the Knights of Columbus 10-8 and the Village downed the Waterman Pops 17-8.

Allowance Is Hiked

The mileage allowance for High School District 214 employes using their own cars for school business has been increased one penny—from seven to eight cents a mile.

The board of education approved the increase June 20, following the recommendation of Supt. Harold Slichenmyer.

He pointed out that it would be in line with the policy of the state which now provides an eight - cent - per - mile reimbursement for travel by vocational teachers. (ACM-E

RADAR FISH FINDERS

by ED LANDWEHR

You may know LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, as the company that services (and sells) television . . . or the people who repaired radios for many years. But, did you know that we service many other kinds of electronic instruments, too.

Stereo and high fidelity sound equipment . . . auto radios . . . communication systems . . . in fact, any instrument that has sound passing through it electronically. We can even service the latest "Fish Finding Radar" systems that are becoming so popular with fishermen.

Add the most modern servicing equipment to know-how and experience, and it totals up to an assurance of satisfaction for you. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700 next time.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY
UNUSUAL SECRETARY

If you take dictation flawlessly, spell like a human dictionary (well, almost, anyway), type without error, and like to work with little supervision . . . then read on . . . this opening may be for you . . . or it may be for a friend whom you know.

The Williams-Gray Company, after 50 years in the Chicago Loop, recently moved to Mount Prospect, with its own new building at 401 East Prospect Avenue. The company deals in paper mill supplies. Its partners are away for weeks at a time, in the north woods, the timber country of the south — wherever paper mills are located.

So someone has to "keep the store." A secretary at Williams-Gray works with little supervision. She must have the usual tact and diplomacy that all advertisements mention, but she must have a lot more. Judgment is required.

She must, largely on her own, attend to correspondence, follow up on actions and act for those who are away.

The pay is good, the hours regular. Fellow employes are all hard working, well educated and good companions. Working conditions are pleasant. Williams-Gray's building is air conditioned, and has its own private parking lot. Rail and motor transportation facilites are ideal.

The woman who will fill this job is probably presently employed — possibly in Chicago — and probably lives somewhere near Mount Prospect — it could be south to Elmhurst, north to Barrington or Wheeling, or east to Morton Grove or Glenview.

She need not be "young." We'd prefer someone under 40, if only that she'll stay with us longer — because most people stay with us a long time.

This is a very good job, for a very good secretary. If you are interested and can fill the bill, phone us for an appointment. If you're not interested, but know a friend who would be, ask her to call us.

Buying Auto Can Still Be A Joy If You're Careful

Exercise Care In Selection

by BILL HALES

Buying an automobile — new or used — can still be a joy. All that is necessary is to deal with a reputable firm.

The fact is, despite the "fast shuffle" tag that has been placed on the auto sales industry, that most auto dealers are honest, responsible men, intent on a fair profit and keeping satisfied customers coming back for years to come.

But responsibility is a two-way proposition. It behooves the customer to insure good business practices by taking an active interest in what he is getting for his money.

The man who shops around, compares prices with several dealers, and investigates auto financing programs, is the man who will not only get a "good deal" but insure perpetuation of a free and competitive price system.

"LOOK FOR a good deal, but don't be caught by the wily big city dealer who hides facts until immediate time of delivery," advises Morton Kantoff of Morton Pontiac, 714 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

"I mean the guy who uses 'bush' tactics to extract more money."

"Bush" tactics, explains Kantoff means costs added on to the original quoted dealer price.

ABOUT NINE years ago, to insure fair consumer and mutual business practices, the Chicago Automobile Trade Association asked the Chicago Better Business Bureau to organize a special section devoted to business ethics.

The result is the Automobile Division of BBB, headed by Carl Kal Dalke, a BBB vice-president.

Dalke and his staff keep a stern watch on auto sales practices in the Chicago metropolitan area. This includes processing consumer complaints and scanning mass media outlets for false and misleading advertising.

"WE HAVE A substantial file on auto dealers," says Dalke. "But we don't give comparative ratings. It's up to the consumer to decide for himself."

The reports are available to the public. All that is necessary is to send the name and address of a given auto dealer to the BBB, 14 E. Jackson, Chicago 4, or telephone the request, WE 9-4171.

Dalke emphasizes that all reports are provided in written form.

"WE DO NOT give reports over the telephone," he said. "But we will accept telephone requests for written reports."

The reports give a brief biography of the dealer's background, length of operation, and his record, including the number of consumer complaints.

The reports include the dealer's "adjustment" record. This means his cooperation in making adjustments for dissatisfied customers, and his willingness to publish corrections for false or misleading advertising claims.

HOW CAN THE BBB force dealers to rectify complaints? It has no legal enforcement arm, said Dalke, but it does have what many consider a far more effective method.

"Initially, we try to correct complaints through cooperation with the dealers," said Dalke. "We ask them to publish corrections for false or misleading advertising claims.

"If this doesn't work we ask the advertising media, the newspapers, radio and television stations, to demand a corection.

"IF ALL else fails we send out 'Not in the Public Interest' notices to all advertising media. The notice specifically states the violation, including public response and a detailed report our or investigation and efforts to seek corrections.

"We have received excellent cooperation from mass media in this area."

The notice, in effect, is a boycott on dealer by advertising outlets.

"IF HE CAN'T advertise, he can't sell," says Dalke. "Faced with this, the dealer will usually come around and make amends, and correct his bad practices."

Kantoff also points out that the small town dealer has to prove responsibility because his clientele can spread the word about a "bad deal" in a smaller community much faster than in the big city.

Many "quick buck" big city operators may plan on staying in business a short time, or on selling a customer only once, he says.

"BUT WE HAVE to depend on our customers coming back again, he said. "You can be generally assured in buying from a dealer close to home that he is a reputable dealer."

Of course, there is no sure way to avoid the pitfalls. But the BBB has a new pamphlet available which is very helpful.

Dalke points out that auto dealers have distributed 150,000 copies of the pamphlet, and many banks and finance companies also plan to give them to customers.

Titled "Buying A Car," or the ABC pamphlet, it is available at most dealers or can be had by writing the Chicago BBB.

PORTIONS of the pamphlet are paraphrased below:

PRICE — Remember, a "fully factory equipped" car means a stripped down auto; a motor, manual transmission, and sometimes a heater. Everything else is "optional equipment."

Federal law requires auto manufacturers to post a "suggested retail price" on all new cars. This "list" price is just that, a suggestion. Dealers may sell above or below this figure.

TERMS — Illinois has no legal limit on finance rates, so charges for so-called "easy credit terms" can pile up. The smaller the down payment, the more you pay in the long run.

If you are short on credit rating or cash, you might be looking at the "no money down" advertisements. This usually means signing a separate small loan for the down payment.

This allows the dealer to show a "paper" down payment in order to sell the contract to a finance company. If you do this, make sure your salary can cover two separate payments.

GUARANTEES — New cars usually carry a factory warranty of 90 days or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first. They are only as good as the dealer who gives them.

"LOOK FOR A good deal but don't be caught by the wily big city dealer who hides facts until the immediate time of delivery," advises Morton Kantoff (right) of Morton Pontiac. talks over sales methods with one of his salesmen. (B8

Used cars are sold with or without guarantees. The usual is 30 days. A fifty-fifty warranty means you pay half the regular charge for parts and labor. If the contract reads "as is" or "as shown" this means no guarantee.

DRIVING TRIAL — Watch out for this gimmick "Free driving trials" are not free and can be a trial—on your patience and pocketbook. At best it is an exchange privilege if you don't like the first car you purchase. But you'll find that exchanging it for another car always costs you more money. Remember, as soon as you put down the deposit or sign a contract, the car is yours.

GIMMICKS — All dealers are in business to make a profit. Don't get taken in by miracle discounts and the old story, "we lose money on every deal, but make up for it in volume."

SHOPPING—When you check competitive prices, compare model for model, equipment for equipment.

TRADE-IN ALLOWANCES — Always check the net cash difference on the new car and the trade-in. Don't fall for the "over-allowance." The $300 or so the dealer may give you is just added on to the sale price of the new car.

PURCHASE ORDERS AND CONTRACTS—Don't sign blank forms. Make sure every space is filled in or crossed out. Ask for a breakdown on this check list:

Cash sale price; itemized list of accessories; state and local sales tax; trade-in allowance, cash down payment; cash balance difference; finance charges, types ofinsurance included; cost of each coverage; number of payments, and amount of each payment.

Insist on the approval (with signature) of the dealer or his authorized representative, such as the sales manager — not just the salesman. Otherwise, the deal is blinding on you, but not the dealer.

Get all agreements in writing and keep copies of each.

DEPOSITS — Don't make a deposit until you are ready to buy. It legally binds the deal. The time to shop is before, not after, you buy.

TAXES — Federal excise tax is included in the manufacturer's "suggested retail price." State and local taxes, commonly "sales tax" must be added. You can't license the car without a separate receipt showing you paid a total sales tax of three and one-half per cent on the cash delivered price or, in case of a trade-in, on the net cash difference.

(In Chicago and most suburbs, state sales tax is three per cent, and one-half city tax in Chicago and most suburbs, state sales and most suburbs.)

CREDIT STATEMENTS—Don't lie about your credit rating. If you have had a repossession, wage assignment or a delinquent account, tell the dealer. He will find out anyway when he checks your credit. A phony credit application is a good way to lose a deposit or a trade-in.

SERVICE — Make sure the dealer has the service facilities to handle his sales volume.

Lutheran Home Head Honored for Service

A surprise party last Sunday marked a double anniversary for the Rev. John M. Kempf, 65, executive secretary and chaplain of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, 800 W. Oakton, Arlington Heights.

About 275 friends and residents of the home honored him for his work during 40 years in the ministry and 20 years at the home. Arrangements were made by the home's board of directors, aided by Mrs. Kempf.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER at a special afternoon worship service was the Rev. A. R. Kretzman of St. Luke's Lutheran, Chicago.

The service was followed by a buffet dinner, highlighted by presentation of gifts, including a book of letters from friends all over the country. Among the congratulatory letters were comments from Gov. Otto Kerner, Chicago Mayor Richard Daley and directors of many welfare agencies.

One of the special guests for the celebration was the Kempfs' son Bruce, who teaches at an Army school in Japan, his wife and son. Another son, Don, of Raleigh, N. C., was unable to attend but wired his best wishes.

THE REV. MR. Kempf, born of missionary parents in India. served congregations in Idaho, Washington and Oregon and as executive field secretary of the Lutheran Institute for the Deaf in Detroit before coming to Arlington Heights. (ACM

Continuance Is Granted To Everson

The case of Oscar Everson, Wheeling Township Road Commissioner, has been continued until Sept. 5 in Cook County Criminal Court.

Everson, against whom three indictments have been returned by the grand jury, is charged with illegally receiving $196 in the servicing and renting of equipment, according to Asst. States Attorney Marvin Aspen.

Everson's trial was to be heard by a jury, beginning Tuesday, June 26. Judge Irvin Lanesman granted the continuance June 20. Everson has been accused by a former foreman, Richard Schmidt, of demanding "kickbacks" for some work performed. (ACM

Trace JD to Society Ills

CLEVELAND, (UPI) — Four juvenile judges Monday attributed the nation's rising juvenile delinquency rate to failures of society—not the youngsters.

Judge Joseph B. Felton of Salem, Ore., told delegates to the 25th annual conference of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges, "Delinquency is a symptom of the underlying problem of our society.

"We have seen a breakdown of our families with at least 50 per cent of the youngsters who are getting into trouble coming from homes where parents have divorced."

JUDGE BYRON B. Conway of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., said, "Our children's behavior reflects the moral tone of the nation. We don't discipline children the way our parents did—nor do we set a good example by our own conduct."

According to Judge William H. Henchey of Woburn, Mass., "Over-indulgence has spoiled as many children as has neglect. Children learn how to spend money easily long before they learn how to earn or save it."

JUDGE HARRY W. Lindeman of Newark, N.J., said "we have failed to teach children that they are responsible for their own conduct. Not only children but also parents are full of excuses and blame for others when they come into court."

Judge Lindeman said many boys and girls today appear to lack a "fruitful religious experience" to help guide them in growing up." (B-8

Clearbrook School

$2000 Launches Fund Drive for Retarded

Contributions totaling more than $2,000 launched the fund drive for construction of the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children at a meeting June 19.

Checks were presented by the Seventh District Women's Clubs, $1,942.96, and the Arlington Heights Nurses Club, $143.

The goal for the drive is $161,000, including $39,500 for furnishings and training equipment.

The school, with five classrooms, will be built on a three and one-half acre site at School and Campbell in Rolling Meadows, donated by Kimball Hill. It is planned for use by 50 children and five teachers, with provisons for expansion.

AT PRESENT, the school is conducted in the Community Church at Rolling Meadows, with an enrollment of 30 youngsters taught by three teachers.

Explaining the drive for a school building, the board of directors says the main support has come from the parents of children in the school who organized the classes in 1956, but many civic organizations have given their support.

"Clearbrook is truly a community venture, supported by the community and serving the community need," they say. "While the present Clearbrook enrollment is 30 children, the new facility for 50 may soon be taxed."

CHILDREN IN the school are from Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Elk Grove, Hoffman Estates, Wheeling and Des Plaines.

Heading up the fund drive is Richard E. Riley of Arlington Heights, general chairman. His co-chairmen are George Bombach, Palatine, industry; William E. Trude, Arlington Heights, builders and contractors; Donald E. Swanson, Wheeling, civic and service organizations; and George A. Harris, Arlington Heights, local business.

"I Speak for Taya," a 30-minute sound film narrated by actor Zachary Scott and presenting the activities of one day at the school, is available for a program for any interested group. (ACM

Uniformity Sought For Highway Signs

CARBONDALE, (UPI)—One of the first steps toward standardizing signs and traffic signals on all roads in Illinois was taken here Wednesday at a conference sponsored by the Illinois Division of Highways' Traffic Bureau.

Vernon Kupel, traffic engineer at the Carbondale Highway Office said some 70 municipal, county and township officials were to attend the conference at Southern Illinois University.

KUPEL SAID the state recently adopted federal regulations which set larger sign sizes and changes the wording of several signs.

Although city, county and township road systems are not legally required to follow the state's lead, road markings must meet the new government standards to qualify for federal aid on highway construction, Kupel said. (B8

Film on Latvia to Highlight Meeting

"My Latvia," a film describing conditions in that Soviet satellite, will be presented as part of the program of the Republican Women's Club of Wheeling Township when it meets tonight, Thursday, in the community room of the Arlington Heights Savings and Loan.

Guest speaker will be Teodorf Zierins of Chicago, who escaped from Latvia in 1951. Coincidentally, June 28 is the 11th anniversary of his arrival in New York City from Latvia. His presentation is scheduled for 9 p.m.

Latvia was first occupied by Soviet troops in 1939, following the Hitler-Stalin pact which divided eastern Europe into "spheres of influence" for Russia and Germany.

THE SOVIET Union began its conquest by forcing the Latvian government to accede to its demands for military bases, and in 1940 caused the overthrow of the established government and its replacement by Soviet puppets.

Zierins' anti-Communist activities in the United States have earned him unfavorable mentions in Latvian newspapers.

The business meeting of the club, which is open to all Republican women, will begin at 8 p.m. Membership chairman is Mrs. Bert Jordan, CL 9-3089.

1947 Reunion Set Saturday

The 15-year reunion of the Arlington High School class of 1947 will be Saturday night at the Itasca Country Club, Orchard Street.

The dinner-dance will begin at 7:30 p.m., with Clarke C. Robinson of 212 N. Eastward, Mount Prospect, as master of ceremonies. (AM

'Tropic of Cancer'

Milw. Judge Rules Miller Book 'Obscene'

MILWAUKEE, (UPI) — Circuit Judge Ronold A. Drechsler Friday, June 22, ruled "Tropic of Cancer," the controversial novel by Henry Miller, was obscene in the first decision under Wisconsin's 1957 obscenity statute.

Drechsler said in a 19-page decision the dominant can be classified as dirt or smut." Drechsler said he read the book three times.

Dist. Atty. William McCauley started the obscenity suit. Atty. David B. Bartell, who represented novelist Miller, the Grove Press and MacFadden Publications, Inc., said he will recommend a State Supreme Court appeal.

Under the ruling involving the statute, the book would stand as prima facie evidence in a criminal case if anyone is charged with selling it in the county. A conviction could bring up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

MILLER WROTE "Tropic of Cancer" more than 30 years ago, relating the experiences of an American in Paris during the depression. The U.S. Customs Department for years had banned it from being brought into the country, but last year the ban was lifted by the Justice Department.

"Vulgar, vile profane and indecent words or language was found upon 112 pages," the judge said. "The book abounds in four-letter words and derivations from some of them, conservatively, 20 of such four letter words were counted."

Drechsler said the use of such words tended "to establish, the court believes, that the book as a whole has no significant literary, cultural or educational character."

On some 75 pages, the judge said, he counted 35 descriptions or portrayals of "sexual acts, bouts or episodes."

He said the book had to be judged as a whole under the statute and "the bad dominates the book."

Drechsler cited portions of the book to support his position that it had no literary, cultural or educational character.

They include the central character's intercourse with many women, some of them prostitutes — "one of such scenes being portrayed with his wife's picture on the wall of the room."

"THESE ARE the most glaring examples which support the conclusion of those (prosecution) witnesses and the court's views that the book is repugnant to decency and the moral standards of the community and has no literary, cultural, social or educational value in this area."

"One of the foundations upon which this nation rests is its morality," said the judge. "The level of morality in this area is at a higher plane than that in others of similar or larger population.

"Books such as 'Tropic of Cancer' both corrode and erode the foundation and would lower the plane of morality toward that of such other places. May it never be lowered to that of the scene of the theme of the book."

Chief Justice Samuel B. Eptein of Cook County Superior Court ruled in February of this year that the book was not obscene. His ruling came out of a stein of Cook County Superior police chiefs from halting the sale of the book. Some northwest suburban communities were involved in the litigation. (A14

Safety Flags Are Offered by Firm

The Cook County Farm Bureau is furnishing highway safety flags to anyone driving tractors or other equipment on street or highway.

To facilitate pick-up, complete sets of flags, staffs and brackets are available at the Farm and Garden store of Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co., at 510 E. Northwest Highway (next to water tower), Arlington Heights. Cost is $1.25 per complete set. Telescoping sets are slightly higher.

The Farm Bureau is reminding everyone that it is a state law that all tractors and equipment must have red highway flags on six foot staffs when traveling on thoroughfares.

THIS IS to warn traffic of a slow-moving vehicle beyond hills and grades. Many serious accidents have been avoided since inception of this law.

Highway fusee type flares are available at the Farm and Garden stores as well.

When the driver has trouble on the highway at night and during fog and storms, human lives are at stake unless flares are put out.

The Farm Bureau urges folks to pick up their flags and flares as soon as possible.

Young Adults To Attend Play

The Northwest Suburban Young Adults have purchased tickets for the Highland Park Theatre production of "Gypsy," to be presented Sunday, July 8.

Tickets for the play may be purchased from the group. The group will meet at the Des Plaines Methodist Church at 4:30 p.m., and eat in Highland Park before the show.

For reservations please contact Kay Dodge, CL 9-4073.

Unincorporated Areas

Building Led By Wheeling

Wheeling Township paced 21 other townships in Cook County in May for the estimated valuation of building which is to be undertaken in its unincorporated areas, according to a report by the Cook County Department of Building.

Total estimated valuation amounted to $1,213,000, figured on the basis of 73 building permits issued. The number of permits issued was second only to those taken out in Stickney Township, which had a total of 75, representing $864,200 worth of construction.

MAINE TOWNSHIP was second in the estimated worth of proposed projects, with its building calculated at $1,066,025 for 52 permits issued.

The number of permits and estimated valuation in unincorporated areas of other northwest Cook County townships included: Elk Grove, 43 permits, $636,200; Palatine, 29 permits, $581,000; Schaumburg, five permits, $83,400.

Total number of permits issued by the building department for May reached 448, representing $6,853,425 worth of construction. The department reported that the month was ahead of April in both the total of permits and estimated costs but behind May of last year.

IN APRIL, there were 362 permits and a valuation of $5,160,000. In May 1961, there were 456 permits representing $7,554,560 building valuation.

The department pointed out, however, that in these two previous months, apartment construction accounted for the majority of permits issued in May of this year. (B8

'Service' Can Enliven Leisure Time

New Horizons For Free Time

(This is the last in a series of articles on National Recreation Month now being observed throughout the nation, sponsored by the National Recreation Association. Theme for the month is "New Horizons For Your Free Time." Theme for this last week in June is "Recreation Through Service.)

by MELDA LYNN

Usually when we think of recreation we are inclined to visualize active sports, arts and crafts and other activities which are designed mainly to put "fun" into our lives.

However, a surprising number of people wouldn't walk across the street to see or participate in a ball game or a swimming meet, wouldn't take a part in a play, paint a picture or rough it in the woods on a camping trip.

THESE PEOPLE as well as those who do enjoy "active" recreation however, find a need to be useful as well as active. They want to spend at least part of their leisure time in activities which serve others.

Millions of Americans are finding new horizons for their free time by volunteering their time and talents to their communities and churches. Sometimes their services are in direct contrast to their everyday routines of life-sometimes they compliment their daily routines and at the same time bring them a respite from the "paying job" tensions.

Volunteer service, they find, provides two major needs. It provides a kind of public service which gives them a change while giving a sense of being needed. At the same time it provides needed support and help for organizations which serve the young, the aged, the ill and the healthy residents of the community.

YOUNG PARENTS find recreation in volunteer work with scouts, church, Y and other youth groups. A growing number of women whose children are out of the toddling age find they enjoy spending at least part of their leisure time helping with children in the hospitals, by participating in library reading groups, by working with the American Red Cross, Community Chest, American Cancer Society, church service groups and any number of other civic organizations.

Women in northwest suburbs give 3.400 hours of volunteer service each month to the Northwest Community Hospital. The volunteers range from great grandmothers to young mothers in their 20s.

They assist in the business office, x-ray department, record department, nursing wings and emergency room. A special treat for women whose children have grown, or those who have no children of their own, is provided to those who help in the pediatrics department. The hospital historian is a volunteer. Other volunteers find recreation through service in the gift and coffee shop.

ALL, WHETHER they actually call it recreation or not, find it a respite from washing dishes, dusting the house or any other daily homemaking routines.

Next month teenagers will be given an opportunity to find new horizons for their leisure time by also serving as volunteers in the hospital. The Candy Stripers will assist in the institution along with the adult volunteers beginning July 3.

In Palatine, teenagers are getting fun out of assisting and visiting with senior citizens at a home for the aged. Palatine Girl Scouts have been conducting a baby sitting and story telling service throughout the year as a pleasurable way to spend some of their leisure time.

APPROXIMATELY 350 volunteer workers assist the Northwest Suburban Chapter of the American Cancer Society by rolling bandages, sewing, transporting patients to and from hospitals and in doing clerical and research work. They also conduct an extensive information program.

The women are not alone in their desire to volunteer their leisure time. Most suburban civic and governmental boards are exclusively managed by men. They serve in the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Jaycee and Chamber of Commerce organizations and provide leadership of value to all the communities in which they serve.

PROBABLY THE most thankless volunteer service — because it often seems very remote from recreation and plagued by criticism from all it serves — is given by members of school and park district boards. The members, mostly male, give many hours each week, without compensation, to direct community necessities.

These volunteers, by giving their time and talents to the community, do so because it offers them an opportunity to participate in free, satisfying and varied activity.

A man or woman with a world made up of only work and family responsibility — with time dictated by those whom they must serve — finds recreation in volunteer work, which demands discipline to serve reliabily,, dependably and willingly.

SUCH SERVICE, when properly valued goes a long way towards bringing satisfaction to the person giving it.

One professional recreational director aptly summed up recreation through service when she said, "Everyone who helps someone adds a new dimension to life. To assist people in a friendly and understanding way is to do a great service — and the rewarding personal experience is simply enormous."

VOLUNTEER WORKER Mrs. Charles E. Swingley, 144 S. Lincoln, Palatine, checks the gift cart at Northwest Community Hospital where she serves as a Pink Lady. Thousands of residents in the northwest suburbs find recreation through service to others. (B8

MRS. DAVID BRADSHAW, 218 W. Daniels, Palatine, a volunteer Pink Lady at Northwest Community Hospital, serves as an assistant in the admittance office of the institution. Volunteers give approximately 3,400 hours of service per month to the hospital. Mrs. Bradshaw is shown with Mrs. Annise Basil and her son, Jim, of 426 S. Windsor, Arlington Heights, in the hospital office. (B8

Garden Club Sets 2nd Special Meet

The Garden Club of Illinois will hold the second of its three special summer meetings for affiliated clubs and members, including the Arlington Heights Club, July 10 at Ravinia Park.

Mrs. Robert Ruhl, president of the hostess Ravinia Garden Club, urges members to pack a picnic lunch to be eaten at noon, with coffee served by the club. In the afternoon they will attend the rehearsal of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at Ravinia Park with Aaron Copland conducting and baritone William Warfield as soloist.

Members holding Ravinia coupons may use them upon entering the park. Those without coupons may pay an entrance fee of $1.25. Ravinia can be located by taking the Tri-State Tollway to Deerfield Road, east to Greenbay Road and then south 1½ miles to the park's entrance. (A

RARE OLD COINS

ON DISPLAY IN OUR LOBBY
JUNE 28 thru JULY 14

See the history of our country reflected in this exhibit of rare, old coins, shown through the courtesy of the Club of Illinois Numismatists. There will be a "gem proof" of a silver dollar, a type set of gold coins, the different half cents, a nickel three-cent piece, the unusual three-legged buffalo nickel among many others. Be sure to see this interesting exhibit—through July 14.

"COUNTERFEITELLER" —ON DISPLAY THIS WEEK

See if you can spot phony money. The Counterfeiteller contains seven genuine United States bills and seven bogus bills. The machine signals with lights whether or not you know your money. Learn how to protect yourself from a possible future loss.

We're Off Boating... Have Life Preservers

Chain of Lakes Is Popular for Day

(Mrs. Connie B. Howes of Northbrook, a free lance writer and housewife, this week presents information on boating opportunities in the area north of Chicago. This is the seventh in a series of 10 articles prepared by Mrs. Howes for Paddock Publications. The series is entitled, "We're Off in Chicagoland.")

by CONNIE B. HOWES

Whether you are a "windbagger," "stinkpotter," or just plain fisherman at heart, what could be more fun than a day of boating with the family?

The Chain of Lakes area, located North on Route 12 and centering in the town of Fox Lake, is the most convenient and popular place for people living in this area.

Where do you find a place that rents boats? Everyone who has been in the area knows of the multitude of resorts and marinas, almost all of which have rental boats. You can write the Chain of Lakes Resort Owners Association, c/o Happy Acres, Antioch, Illinois for a list of these resorts and their facilities. The cost is 25 cents including a map of the area.

Another way to obtain information is from the Jaycees, who maintain booths in both Antioch and Fox Lake.

MOST RENTALS are row boats, with or without a motor. A wooden boat rents for $2.25 a day, a metal boat of the same size, usually 14 feet long will cost $3. Life jackets or life preserver seat cushions rent for 25 cents each per day. Motors under ten horsepower, usually three or five horsepower, can be rented for $4.50 a day including gas.

I would like to insert that these fees are an average, not to be misunderstood as a standard price rate.

If you desire to rent a boat with a motor rated at ten or more horsepower, you then must comply with the Illinois Small Boating Law which requires additional gear, beside life preservers for all aboard, of a Coast Guard approved fire extinguisher (those so approved state it on the label) and a horn or whistle. These also may be rented for $1 a day.

WHERE YOU go on the Chain of Lakes is a matter of personal desire. For those who like sightseeing, a trip around the shores of the various lakes is enjoyable. Fishermen will find the areas set aside for fishing marked off with red and white buoys. These areas are out-of-bounds for speedboats, and therefore the fishermen are not bothered with other boats speeding by.

The channels connecting the lakes are well marked. While in a channel you must maintain a low enough speed in order not to create a wake from your boat.

Past Barney's Island in Fox Lake is the northern entrance to the Fox River. You can go past Wilmot, Wis., before you arrive at a dam and must return. The south exit to the Fox River is through the northwest section of Pistakee Lake. You can travel down the Fox River past McHenry, through the locks, and down to Algonquin.

THE CHAIN of Lakes State Park and Oak Point State Park, off Route 172, are on the northern branch of the Fox River. Overnight camping is popular at these areas. Another smaller park is located by the McHenry Dam.

If you plan a picnic itis best to stay at the resort where you rented the boat. Most resorts provide picnic benches and grills for a $1 charge and request you purchase your beverages from them. Otherwise you could plan a boat picnic. Most of the land is privately owned along these lakes and the river. The only public picnic areas are the State Parks.

Beside the Chain of Lakes area there are many other places to go boating in Northern Illinois. You will find boats to rent along the Rock River between Rockford and Beloit. South of Rockford by Bryon on Route 2 is a lanching ramp for those who own a boat or canoe. This area has beautiful river scenery at any time of the year.

THE MISSISSIPPI River still commands much of the magic that Mark Twain wrote about because of the wilderness maintained on both sides of the river. Southern Wisconsin has Lake Geneva, and a short distance farther on Route 12 is the Lauderdale Lakes.

Those who own and trail their boat can get a complete list of launching sites in the midwest from The Daily News Public Service Bureau for 25 cents.

I am sure you will find your favorite boating area. Remember the same basic rules of the highway apply to the waterways, and courtesy is always the most important of these rules.

Kerner Declares:

Most Unemployed School Dropouts

(UPI)—Lack of education and training is the principal cause of unemployment in Illinois, Gov. Otto Kerner said in a speech Sunday.

Speaking to a summer outing in Morton Grove of the Independent Order of Svithoid, a Swedish social organization, he said a study made by the Committee on Unemployment showed three-fourths of the state's 250,000 unemployed today were yesterday's school dropouts.

"These men and women," Kerner said, "are the unskilled, unemployed Illinois citizens who have had to turn to government for help and assistance, and who cost the county, state and federal government millions of dollars to maintain."

Nationally, Kerner said, seven million drop-out youngsters will be entering the work force between 1960-1970 who will have condemned themselves to a life of "uselessness." (A-14

Bait-Selling Kids Ordered To Collect State Sales Tax

RHINELANDER, WIS., (UPI) — The really small businessmen of Rhinelander, just like the Wall Street listed corporations, were seeking tax relief this week.

But how do youngsters ranging in age from 7 to 14 tell the state they think it is silly for them to have to collect a sales Tax on angle worms and night crawlers they peddle to fishermen?

The Rhinelander Daily News revealed the story of the state tax department's crackdown on one of the favorite free enterprise plans boys in this resort area have used for years to raise money to pay for their ice cream cones and sodas.

Summer after summer, youngsters have been gathering worms and selling them for bait to anglers who flock to the lakes and streams clustered around Rhinelander.

THE BOYS even make their own market prices — agreeing to sell angle worms for 10 cents a dozen and the fatter night crawlers for 25 cents a dozen.

The didn't know it, but their troubles really started when the 1961 legislature late in the session passed a compromise tax bill after bitter partisan wrangling that was to affect the boys for the first time this summer.

The bill included a 3 per cent selective sales tax, and one of the taxable items included sporting goods. Fishing worms apparantly fall in this category.

The state tax department recently sent investigator Klyde H. Kopan here to see about enforcing the new law, which also touched on other seasonal occupations.

AT FIRST, the parents of the boys in the worm business couldn't believe their children were really law violators. The Daily News got wind of the story when one parent went so far as to call the police department and ask it to check to see if Kopan really was a tax investigator.

Kopan, said the parent, had been going around town telling the boys they'd have to collect sales taxes on their worm transactions and turn the money over to the state.

Kopan was legitimate, all right, police said.

Taxation red rape could all but snuff out the youthful free enterprise.

First of all, the boys have to pay $2 for a peddler's permit from the state. Then they have to keep monthly records of their sales tax collections and make monthly payments of the tax collected.

"It's kind of silly for the state to send an investigator here to harass our boys when he could be working somewhere else checking areas where much more revenue could be involved," a newspaper spokesman quoted parents as saying.

THE PUBLISHER of the newspaper was reported so angry by Kopan's investigation that he placed an immediate call to Gov. Gaylord Nelson. But he couldn't reach him.

The governor was at the state Democratic convention in Sheboygan explaining to the party in tense words that he faced a really hard fight for election to the U.S. Senate this fall because too many adults — the voters — were holding him responsible for the tax law. (A14

March Sales Taxes Gross Five Million

City sales taxes collected in April on March tax liability grossed $5,305,799, while county sales taxes for the same period grossed $314,914, according to a report released last week by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The collections from 1,150 cities and villages, and 65 counties represent a tax of one-half per cent on retail sales in municipalities and portions of counties not in municipalities.

Included in the gross collections for municipalities is Municipal Service Tax in the amount of $78,213.

THE LIST OF municipalities and the amounts certified to the state treasurer includes Addison, $3,668,58; Arlington Heights, $18,077.53; Barrington, $7,073.45; Bartlett, $595.05; Bensenville, $7,338.98; Bloomingdale, $467.97; Buffalo Grove, $149.45; Elk Grove Village, $4,799.54; Hanover, $432.21; Hanover Park, $194.03; Hoffman Estates, $1,792.49; Itasca, $1,022.39.

Also Long Grove, $204.31; Mount Prospect, $11,796.23; Northbrook, $7,726.77; Palatine, $9,507.86; Rolling Meadows, $6,056.90; Roselle, $2,451.99; Schaumburg, $338.20; Streamwood, $198.45; Wheeling, $4,693.43; and Wood Dale, $767.11. (A-14

SUBURBS CHALLENGE CHEMICALS

Is Bug Spray Silencing 'Sounds of Life'?

Growing Concern Shown by Experts

by TOM EDWARDS

(Second of a series)

If on a windless day every power device in the northwest suburbs could be shut off simultaneously for a few moments, and everyone would pause to listen attentively to what they could hear — what would they hear?

Silence, unearthly silence, would be what the vast majority would hear, a lifeless silence. Or maybe a mosquito would buzz, a housefly drone, or an English blackbird vent his rasping voice. Unlikely would be the buzzing of a bee.

For an insidious, invisible death is stalking the land, according to a welter of extremely reliable reports, and the proverbial bees and birds are two of its first victims.

THE SOUNDS OF life are really few — people working, leaves rustling in the wind, people laughing and crying, a wolf howling — and birds calling and singing. These are the main ones, with the wilderness sound of the wolf practically extinct.

But outside of humans, the voice of the animal kingdom is birds. They provide the song of spring, the song of sunsets and sunrises, of meadows and brooks, the sky and clouds, the lonesome voice of approaching winter, and even the feeling of summer's heat is transcribed by their calls.

The cheery wren bursts forth with the new day, the gray mourning dove's soft, melancholy note traces the sun's final descent.

For other animals, the sudden silence or disturbed chirpings of birds are warnings of danger, especially the scolding alarm of a special sentinel, the bluejay.

BUT NOW even the bluejay is strangely still — and man might do well to heed and inquire into nature's warning, the silence of songbirds.

It isn't "witchcraft," Rachel Carson points out in a penetrating series of three articles in the New Yorker Magazine (beginning with the June 16 issue).

The malady, the sweeping pestilence, is of man's own making, his own creation. It is "contamination of the air, earth, rivers and seas with dangerous, and even lethal, materials," she says.

"IT IS WIDELY known that radiation has done much to change the very nature of . . . life; strontium 90 (from atomic fallout) . . . takes up its abode in the bones of human beings, there to remain until his death," Miss Carson evidently assumes is common knowledge.

"It is less well known that many man-made chemicals act in much the same way . . .," lodging in living tissues, causing deterioration and death. Almost 500 new chemicals are produced annually, she informs. About 600 chemical poisons have been devised in the last 15 years to eradicate "pests," weeds, rodents and insects, and are offered for sale under several thousand different brand names.

Her article goes on to display a vast array of information which has been accumulated here and there, but has received little publicity.

Far from the metropolis of New York, one little hamlet of about 600 homes in the northwest suburbs, Buffalo Grove, took action June 7 to rid itself of one contributing source of the artificial pestilence.

It directed the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District to cease its DDT spray operations in the village, and instead use the tax money that will be saved thereby to eliminate mosquito breeding places.

FROM BUFFALO GROVE to New York and California, it appears that a full-scale uprising against the array of chemicals is approaching. The usually docile citizenry may actually rebel against the poisons which are being literally and actually forced down their throats by the commercial suppliers and the prattling products of "higher learning" caught up in the economic web of commercialism, guised under the name of "science and progress."

Examples of destruction of all life caused by the use of insecticides and herbicides can be collected from throughout the world. But plenty are right on hand in the northwest suburbs.

Two Mount Prospect residents have reported seeing birds dying in trembling, paralytic spasms as the result of DDT sprays, used most extensively for Dutch elm disease control.

AS A CONTROL for Dutch elm disease, the evidence indicates poison sprays do more harm than good. Des Plaines has ceased spraying; Barrington is weighing it; Lake Forest, Batavia, and Toledo, Ohio, have abandoned it. Biologists at Michigan State University have vehemently attacked DDT use. "Experts" that used to recommend it highly have modified their recommendation, and a growing number of experts say it is next to useless.

Dr. George J. Wallace of MSU said, "The current widespread and ever-expanding pesticide program poses the greatest threat that animal life in North America ever faced. . ."

Kenneth Marble, 604 W. Sha-Bonee, Mount Prospect, an amateur bird watcher, angrily points out that every spring he has taken pleasure in observing the annual "wave" of warblers on their annual migration to Canada. This year he has not seen one warbler near his home.

"NOR HAVE I heard" their songs, he said. He picked up between 8 and 10 dead robins and bluejays in his backyard this spring.

Other birds, he says, missing or practically non-extistent in his neighobrhood are tanagers, grosbeaks, thrushes, catbirds and thrashers. He lives in a wooded, extensively landscaped section of the village, and the village is sprayed with DDT for Dutch elm disease and mosquitoes.

His wife reports that the formerly numerous bees are gone from her rose garden. Not only are insecticides killing the birds, but are killing their food supply. Only grackles and blackbirds seem to resist the sprays.

But one of the main dangers here is that it has been almost irrevocably proven that insects rapidly become immune to the chemical poison, since they breed rapidly and in huge numbers. On the other hand, warm blooded animals do not.

ALTHOUGH the pesticides may temporarily decimate the population of most all insects along with the specific ones being sprayed for, they will rapidly come back, even if the spraying is continued. It will take much longer for the birds to return, if indeed, some are not actually exterminated first.

In the absence of their greatest enemy, the birds, and perhaps other natural controls, the insects may return in greater numbers than ever. And the lack of bees could eventually result in pollination problems, unless they prove to be as durable as some of their hard shelled cousins. Ths is unlikely, since they live in colonies, with only one egg laying member, the queen.

One of the most serious local DDT incidents involved Mrs. Henry Heller of Des Plaines. One night a mosquito abatement district spray truck went through her neighborhood late last summer. Her bedroom windows were wide open.

Her husband, a medical doctor, said she became sick and fainted in the bathroom. She was "deathly sick for several days," and has been anemic since. He said the poison has disturbed the blood manufacturing process of her body.

CHEMICAL applications are not limited to DDT for Dutch elm disease and mosquito control. Many others, some far more deadly, are used widely by farmers and in airplane broadcast spraying of forests and countrysides by governmental agencies.

New modern chemicals are absorbed by plants, through their leaves and roots, and become part of our food supply. They enter our water supply, float through the air, are ingested by herbacious animals and appear in meats and milk.

Poisons found in milk are concentrated into higher doses when the milk is reduced to butter. Cattle and horses have been killed by ill - conceived spray programs, some covering millions of acres.

THE NEW POISONS, mainly classified as chlorinated hydrocarbons and organic phosphates, accumulate in organs rich in fatty substances, the adrenal glands, testes and ovaries, the thyroid, liver, stomach and kidneys.

Five parts of DDT per million in the liver have been known to bring about some disintegration of that organ, it is reported. It is highly suspect in degenerative diseases and cancer, and more recently, as a cause of retarded children.

Durable, many of the new poisons remain potent in the soil for from four to 12 years, so that each spraying adds to the concentration in the soil.

One part per 100 million of DDT is reported to be toxic to fish. A related compound, dieldrin, is five times more toxic than DDT, and sometimes 40 times more toxic. Another relative, aldrin, in the amount of an aspirin tablet, is enough to kill 400 quail. Combination of various poisons may be worse.

IN HUMANS, and larger animals, harmful effects of intakes of such poisons may not appear until many years later.

Besides animals, the insecticides may disrupt the whole biological cycle of life, destroy beneficial bacteria, fungi and insects in the soil. For instance, it can kill nitrogen-fixing bacteria, which live on roots in a vital symbiotic relationship with the plant.

In the extensive research on the harmful effects of tobacco, being investigated is the possibility of inhalation of insecticides used on the tobacco leaves.

Herbicides, plant killers, are being spread with abandon along railroad rights-of-way, roadways, and over millions of acres of utility company easements in the United States to kill off brush and trees.

BESIDES DEATH, sterility and sickly offspring among wild animals are by-products of insecticides. Birds' eggs may not hatch, and even pigs have become infertile.

"Man can hardly even recognize the devils of his own creation," writes Albert Schweitzer.

Ecologist Paul Shepard said man "idealizes life with only its head out of water, inches above the limits of toleration of the corruption of its own environment."

"It is ironic to think that man may determine his own future by something so seemingly trivial as the choice of his insect spray," according to Miss Carson's series in the New Yorker. The results, of course, will not be apparent for decades or centuries . . . Future historians may well be amazed by our distorted sense of proportion.

"HOW COULD intelligent beings seek to control a few unwanted species of weeds and insects by a method that brought the threat of disease and death even to their own kind?"

It would probably be better to eat the insects we seek to destroy rather than the poison we use to do so. (A-14

WHERE ONCE THERE WAS LIFE, cathedral-like arches of elms such as above in Mount Prospect may now be a symbol of doom and death. Dutch elm disease threatens to wipe out such vistas of elms along village streets. The poison sprays being used to control the disease threatens to exterminate bird life in the immediate area, and cause degenerative diseases among even humans. Most villages are now spraying DDT solutions intensively on elms. But the bulk of the evidence indicates that far, far more harm is done by the spraying than good. Yet village officials, on the advice of tree experts in the spraying business, persist — and the leafy bowers are becoming as silent and deserted as the empty street above. (A-14

Golf Mill Theatre To Show 'El Cid'

"El Cid," opens Friday at the Golf Mill Theatre for an exclusive northwest suburban showing.

Few figures in history have fired the imagination of poets, balladeers and playwrights as much as the romantic 11th century warrior-hero known as El Cid.

His exploits on the battlefield, his unquenchable devotion to his God and his king and his turbulent love for the beautiful Chimene, have been immortalized in every art form, except, until now, the motion picture.

CHARLTON HESTON handles the role of El Cid, a man of heroic proportions who combines fighting prowess, a sense of responsibility, justice, and leadership. Sophi Loren is Chimene, the love of his life.

The film will be shown at four performances on Friday and Saturday, and at three performances on Friday and Saturday, and at three performances on Sunday thru Thursday. Free coffee is served every evening in the color TV lounge of the Golf Mill Theatre. (Bill

Roselle Pair Killed In Traffic Accident

A 24-year-old Roselle motorist and his 10-year-old passenger were killed in an accident June 23 at 8:45 a.m.

The accident occurred on Illinois 62 at Roselle Road, when Thomas G. Rasmussen, 24, of 6N525N Garden, Roselle, according to state police, failed to stop at a stop sign.

His car tangled with another one driven by Robert E. Nebel, 47, of 80 Oriole trail, Crystal Lake.

Both the first driver and his passenger, Keith Rasmussen, 10, were pronounced dead on the scene by Dr. Richard Howell, 35, of 1015 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights.

Nebel was injured and taken to the Northwest Community Hospital, in Arlington Heights. Both of the dead bodies were removed to Tharp's Funeral Home, 32 Chicago, Palatine.

TOTAL DAMAGE was reported to the Rasmussen car, and the Nebel car was damaged to the extent of $900, it was reported.

An Addison motorist was injured the same day at 5:20 a.m. at Forest Preserve Drive and Oak Park Avenue, in Norwood Park Township.

Herbert Kaul, 27, of 410 Byron, Addison, state police said, was slowing down for a traffic signal, when his car hit the curb and swerved into a traffic signal. Damage to the car was $2300 and the injured man was taken to Resurrection Hospital in Chicago. He was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

In another accident the same day at 10:30 a.m., on Meacham and Illinois 62, Frederick R. Scholler, 47, of 11 Webster Ln., Roselle, was northbound on Meacham.

STATE POLICE report that he said he had observed irregularity in driving of an unknown vehicle headed south. He slowed momentarily and his vehicle was struck in the rear by a car driven by James E. Keyes, 683 Love St., Elk Grove Village. Keyes said he was unable to stop because of a wet pavement.

A passenger in the first car, Hilda D. Scholler, 41, was injured and taken to the Northwest Community Hospital. Damage to the first car was $125; to the second, $200. Keyes was charged with following too closely.

Also, on the same day, at 7:45 p.m., John R. Ryan, of Manchester, New Hampshire, stopped at a traffic light on U. S. 12 at Foundry Road.

A car driven by Frances C. Mendreski, 35, of Des Plaines, approaching from behind, failed to stop in time to avoid striking the other car. Everyone in both cars were injured, including both drivers.

PASSENGERS injured in the Ryan car were: Eileen Kent, 16, of Des Plaines; William K. Repholtz, 18, of San Francisco, Calif.; Laury D. DeBuhr, 23, of Waterloo, Iowa, and Diane Longini, 16, of 5133 N. Kenmore, Chicago. Also injured in the Mendreski car was Hamilton B. Hankins, 51, of Des Plaines.

Damage to the first car was $200; to the second, $150.

Mendreski was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

In another accident, at 12:50 a.m. the same day, at Touhy Ave. and the North Western railroad tracks, two miles west of U. S. 45, Engineer Edward Drenning, 42, of Helensville, Wis. was headed north.

Ruperta C. Guzman, 27, of 265 Arlington Heights, Route 1, Roselle, state police said, stopped at the gates to wait until the train went by.

A third driver, Roy M. Swanson, 20, of Naperville, was headed west and traveling too fast, police said, to stop his car which plowed into the Guzman vehicle.

Both motorists were injured and taken to Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. Damage to the first car was $1000; to the second, $700.

Neither the train engineer nor two passengers, W. W. Jacobs, of Stoughton, Wis., and Charles McCann, of Janesville, Wis., were injured. Damage to the train was $40.

Swanson was charged with driving too fast and Ruperta Guzman with violation of an instruction permit. (A14

U. S. Should Insist Aid Goes to Masses

ASPEN, COLO., (UPI)—An anthropologist suggested Monday that the United States must either insist that its aid to underdeveloped countries benefit the poverty-stricken masses or abandon the aid.

Prof. Oscar Lewis of the University of Illinois, addressing the 12th Annual International Design Conference here, said the Alliance for Progress funds must do more than just "rickle down" to the masses of South America.

"Our policy makers are tremendously concerned about improving the image of the United States among underdeveloped nations," Lewis said. "Yet, when the United States offers loans and aid to the very government which is suspect by poor citizens of a particular country this may tend to damage our image rather than improving it. We might be better off to just stay out completely, unless we can find a system for making sure that the aid helps to solve the problems of the poverty - stricken masses."

HE SAID a two-year anthropological study of poor families in Mexico revealed that most of the people have a "positive image" of the United States, but very little confidence in their own government.

Lewis made his comments during a panel discussion, which also featured Robert Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, and Harrison Brown, a geochemist at the California Institute of Technology.

Brown said that mankind is in danger of losing some of its freedoms because of increasing population and the increased complexity of society.

"Although growing populations do not necessarily call for governmental growth," he said, "the population upsurge taking place in our modern technological society tends to limit individual freedom of choice.

"OUR SCIENCE and technology have placed powerful weapons of persuasion and coercion in the hands of rulers of nations. Once these weapons fall into the hands of totalitarian rulers, our freedoms are in danger, and once these freedoms are lost, under these circumstances, they may be gone forever."

Weaver commented that everyone fears big government, but that "our nation, as complex as it is, will continue to have big government, big business, big unions and big rascals." He said maintenance of freedom in the face of this bigness depends on effective communication to an informed and intelligent electorate.

Dismiss Bigamy Charge

A bigamy charge against Tibor Szomolay, resident of the Car-Del Motel on Rand Road, was dismissed last week by Judge C. R. Behrens of Arlington Heights.

The state produced no witnesses to substantiate the complaint of Mrs. Mildred Szomolay, Arlington Heights. Szomolay was put on a year's probation on an assault and battery charge, and ordered to pay $25 per month support to Mrs. Szomolay, who is expecting a child.

Szomolay denies he was ever married to a Mrs. Louella Kundert of Chicago, who has taken him to court in Chicago for support of a child she claims is his. When the matter came up in Domestic Relations Court last Friday, his attorney won a continuance until September. (AK

'Modernity' Is Hit by Clergyman

CLEVELAND, OHIO (UPI)—The president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod warned that its members cannot remain aloof from the "practically unbearable tensions of the cold war, and mad armaments race and the ever increasing inroads of atheistic communism."

The warning was made last week by Dr. John W. Behnken of St. Louis in the presidential address opening the convention of the church which has about 2,400,000 members in this country.

The 78-year-old minister said that one matter of concern was reports that purity of doctrine is being sacrificed by today's generations.

"WE MUST ASK in all seriousness whether some are influenced by European neo-orthodoxy, whether the floods of present day European theology are threatening our century-old position on the verbally inspired, infallible, inerrant word of God," he said.

"If someone is influenced by such modern theology, this demands that proper corrections be made." (A14

Aid to Advanced Mathematics

District 21 Teacher Explains Modern Math

Past Trends Are Discussed Here

by GLENN ERICSON
5th Grade Teacher at Twain School, District 21

In recent years, parents and teachers have been exposed to a trend in education known as modern math. Recent articles in the Chicago Tribune and in the Wheeling Herald have given examples of what is being done in these newer programs.

When the subject of this newer math is brought into a discussion, there are usually some questions brought into mind. What is modern mathematics? Is it really something "new" or "modern"? What do these terms mean to the classroom teacher? Should she be frightened that she does not have enough experience or education to teach something "new" or "modern" in mathematics?

Before we look at the new concepts of mathematics education, it may be interesting to first examine past trends.

In the 20's and 30's mathematics was fragmentized into myriads of little items. It was fragmentized to such extent that one research study of this period points out that to teach the addition of proper fractions, some 80 different facts must be taught. To teach this addition, it was sufficient to drill the child on each of the 80 facts.

TODAY WE would look upon this as rather amusing and even pathetic if it were not for the fact that arithmetic programs in our schools still make considerable use of this concept of the learning process. One need only cite the 40-odd times we teach something "just a little bit new" about the process of division.

The past quarter century also produced another movement which is mathematically and psychologically unsound. This is the "social-utility" movement. This movement was widely acceptable by teachers.

It has three main proponents: (1) only arithmetic which is useful should be taught, (2) way to make arithmetic interesting is to make it useful, (3) teach meaning of arithmetic through the social uses of the subject.

This philosophical position is unacceptable for several reasons: (1) We do not have a crystal ball to tell us what is useful. (2) Arithmetic is interesting because it is arithmetic and not because it is useful. If a child understands the basic principles of arithmetic he will have no difficulty making applications of it in his daily life. Children, and adults, have difficulty with application when they do not understand mathematics.

THESE movements have resulted in a program which has not led smoothly into the study of advanced mathematics. Our present program is a stranger to mathematics as it is studied in upper grades. In content, it lacks modernity in its exclusive attention to computational aspects of the subject. Arithmetic, as practiced in the schools, is not mathematics.

Widespread study of the school mathematics program since World War II has resulted in a number of significant innovations and shifts of emphasis that are perhaps only beginning to affect the classroom teaching. One such movement that is readily apparent is the extension of the "meaningful mathematics" approach from the elementary grade into the junior and senior high school. This is accomplished by more emphasis on basic mathematical principles, less emphasis on social applications.

A consequence of the strictly mathematical emphasis has been the introduction of a number of new terms, some new ideas, and some new approaches to very old ideas that are basic to mathematical understanding.

The introduction into the curriculum of new mathematics is a gradual development that usually takes place from the top down. It is the opinion of a number of educators that certain changes could take place in the elementary school that would not only help to bring about a smoother transition into a modernized high school program, but would have a very definite positive effect on the curriculum.

ESSENTIALLY what is being suggested for the elementary school is the adoption of some modern vocabulary and a few basic concepts.

The objective of teaching mathematics in the elementary school is to increase a child's ability to think with the ideas of mathematics. The job of the school is to help a child develop, expand and clarify these ideas, and to provide for his continual development in the ways of thinking that make use of these ideas.

This brings us back to the questions asked at the beginning. The first questions asked, what is modern mathematics? The best answer to this is that it is more psychologically sound and correct method of teaching mathematics. Is it really "new" or "modern"?

Yes and no. No to the extent that the basic ideas that are taught in the experimental programs are new. They are the basic ideas that we have always had in mathematics. Yes, the mathematics is new if we consider the language used and the approach employed.

SHOULD A teacher be frightened that she does not have the experience or education necessary to teach something "new" or "modern"? It would be possible for some teachers to become frightened at the prospect of teaching this new math.

However, this fear can be alleviated if the teacher is given some education into this math. She will have very little difficulty teaching this newer material and will have a more rewarding teaching experience than she had with the conventional program.

The important factor in teaching mathematics, as it is with teaching any subject, is the preparation planning, background and resourcefulness of the teacher. "behind the book." If we want to improve the quality of education, we must not only raise the quality o materials, but we must raise the quality of teaching.

Basically there are four major changes being proposed by these newer mathematics programs. For one, much of the traditional content of arithmetic will be taught sooner. This marks the reversal of an unfortunate trend that began 30 years ago.

EDUCATORS ARE becoming much more interested in a "stretched out curriculum" rather than merely a "stepped-up curriculum." We are becoming much more in favor of spreading learning over a longer period of time, but introducing the basic concepts at an early age.

Another change is give greater prominence to the mathematical aspects of the subject. This is being accomplished by the introduction of the new vocabulary and the new approaches I spoke of earlier.

The newer programs are fine, practicable means to accommodate effectively differences in learning ability.

The fourth change that is being proposed, is the use of the discovery method in learning. This is one of the major changes. Essentially, this means that the child is able to discover, on his own, the principles of mathematics. It is no longer what we tell the child, but rather what we don't tell him that matters.

IF THE CHILD is able to make discoveries on his own, he then develops more personal attachment to his work. The traditional programs we have today do not allow for this sense of personal attachment.

The traditional programs we are using today do not live up to the standards set by the educators in modern mathematics. There are some basic differences that are apparent.

What are writers of traditional programs doing about these differences? To date, the most common practice has been a "cut-and-paste" method of revision. This has been accepted in the past, but now educators are realizing that these programs are not doing the job.

The experimental programs are providing the type of mathematics teachers want. This is being proven in school after school all across our nation. Actually, the term experimental should not be applied to the programs themselves. They have proven themselves. The term experimental is better applied to those classrooms using the materials.

ONE PURPOSE of these programs has been to put pressure on users of the traditional programs to make some changes. Slowly these changes are being absorbed into the textbooks of the traditional programs. The question is, "can we wait until these programs wake up to the fact that they are so far behind in their thinking that a 'cut-and-paste' method will not correct it?" A major revision is necessary.

There have been a relatively small number of new programs developed, and only some of these have received widespread attention. Yet it is very surprising how much influence these few programs have had.

The most talked about programs have been the Madison Project, the University of Illinois Project, the School Mathematics Study Group, the Greater Metropolitan Cleveland Plan, the Encyclopaedia Britannica Materials and the Hawley-Supper material.

If your child comes home from school with a mathematics paper that contains things you have never heard of, don't panic. Sit down with him and let him explain to you what he is doing. You will be surprised at how quickly he has learned his arithmetic and with what enthusiasm he explaines his newfound love for mathematics. (ACM

MORE THAN TWO TONS of good will items for Comas, Peru, including vitamins, school supplies, toys, records and tools, were shipped out of Glenview Naval Base Saturday from the Arlington Heights Inter-American Friendship Organization. Packed in thirty-two 55-gallon drums and about 40 cardboard boxes, the materials were loaded from the truck by Wayne Brennan, left, organization president, and Jim Kalinowski of Kehe Motor Service, which supplied free transportation to Glenview.

Bulk of Schools' Budget Earmarked for Salaries

Eighty-eight per cent of the $2.26 million educational budget given preliminary approval by the District 25 Board of Education will go for salaries.

This amounts to $1,977,615 of the proposed 1962-63 budget. The largest share, $1,359,250, is for regular teachers, an increase of $197,646 over the past year. Some $25,000 goes for substitutes, up $4,000.

The increase is attributed to the addition of 26 new teachers, whose salaries add up to almost $143,000, and to revamping of the salary schedule, which boosted the sum by $54,975.

THE REMAINDER of the salary allotments go to administrators, clerical help, special teachers and consultants, nurses, and plant operations and maintenance men.

Eight per cent of the planned expenditures, $195,835, is for items such as teaching aids, tests, textbooks and libraries.

The final four per cent, $87,850 is allotted for the treasurer's salary, legal fees, elections, between-schools transportation, auditing, tuition to other districts, fuel, utilities and contingencies.

THE BUDGET was prepared by district Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh, with the assistance of suggestions from administrative and other staff personnel. Work on the "financial blueprint" was started in January, he explained; estimates of receipts and expenditures were made in comparison with the past three years.

The board last Thursday voted to have the budget submitted in tentative form at its July 9 meeting. If approved, the appropriations must then be open for public hearing for a month before the final okay is given.

Board Votes For Free Enterprise

Students in High School District 214 will continue to purchase their physical education uniforms from retail merchants.

This was the decision of the board of education June 20 in denying a request from athletic directors that the uniforms be sold in the schools.

THE CONTINUED necessary support of merchants as taxpayers was noted by board members before making the decision.

Uniformity of color and material, development of a number system to prevent loss or theft of the uniforms, prompt availability and slightly reduced cost were the reasons given for the request.

The physical education department used to sell the uniforms, but dropped the practice when it became too much of a burden. (ACM-E

Guard Against Food Poisoning Outbreak

The approaching hot weather will bring with it a wave of acute gastroenteritis, an inflammation of the lining of the stomach and intestines. The disease, discomforting but seldom fatal, is usually caused by food poisoning.

Outbreaks may occur at any time of the year. These often follow social events at which large groups are served meals prepared well in advance and kept warm. Picnics and dining at insanitary roadside stands are additional hazards in the summer.

Insufficient cooking, improper refrigeration, lack of cleanliness, or handling by a disease carrier may be responsible.

CERTAIN types of food, such as custards, salads, and meats, are fertile ground for the rapid development of the organisms responsible for gastroenteritis. Allergy to certain foods may result in so-called "stomach upsets."

The disease falls into two general types—toxic and infective. The former is caused by toxins, the poisonous product of animal or vegetable cells already present in the food. Symptoms appear in from two to four hours.

In infective cases, the disease may be caused by several types of bacteria. The incubation period is from 12 hours upwards.

AMONG THE symptoms are a loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal pain, fever, and colic.

Normally, simple treatment may cause the symptoms to disappear within 24 hours. Therapy includes bed rest. When vomiting and nausea end—and not before—clear fluids may be given, such as warm tea and strained broth. If these are tolerated, bland cereals, simple puddings, soft boiled eggs, gelatin, and other bland foods may be added gradually.

Never use laxatives in the presence of diarrhea. If symptoms persist, medical assistance should be sought.

THERE IS another form of food poisoning that requires quick medical attention. This is known as botulism, and is caused by toxins in spoiled meat or improperly canned foods. The poison affects the nervous system and causes a paralysis of a number of organs. Symptoms usually appear within 24 hours. The first usually is double vision—that is, one object being seen as two. Vomiting may or may not occur. Swallowing becomes difficult.

Since death may occur in about two out of three instances, medical help should be sought at the first sign of trouble.

A prevention of botulism is the discarding of a bulging tin can. Foam on food in jars is a sign that spoilage is present and should be thrown away. Gastroenteritis may be prevented by complete cooking, cleanliness in handling, and proper refrigeration if net served immediately. (A-14

Five Motorists Are Ticketed in Wrecks

Tickets were issued to five motorists involved in Arlington Heights traffic accidents during the past week.

Fred M. Walters of 415 E. St. James, Arlington Heights, was charged with following too close after his car, a 1954 Ford, struck another car from the rear at the Kensington and Northwest Highway intersection Monday.

The Walters vehicle hit a 1949 Buick driven by David E. Hahnfeld, 1005 N. Wilke, Arlington Heights, as Hahnfeld started up after stopping at the intersection while driving west on Kensington.

A CHARGE of disobeying a traffic signal was filed against Francis E. Schneider of Marengo following another accident Monday. The Schneider car, a 1956 Chevrolet, going west on Northwest Highway, struck a 1952 Kaiser driven by Sam T. Nordmeyer of 17 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, heading south on Vail.

Police records show Charles Morgan of Rolling Meadows was charged with following too close and failure to have a current driver's license after an accident Saturday. Morgan's car, a 1957 Chevrolet, hit a 1962 Buick driven by Mary E. Bradle of 606 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, as it was turning into a shopping area at 411 S. State.

FAILURE TO yield was the charge in a two-car mishap Friday, filed against Gilbert J. Welter of Chicago. A 1956 Lincoln driven by Welter, turning onto Northwest Highway from Race, pulled into the path of a 1961 Ford driven by Earl E. Hughes of 514 E. Fremont, Arlington Heights.

Harry Saalfeld of 635 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, was charged with driving too fast for conditions Friday. His 1961 Ford struck a 1959 Chevrolet driven by Sharon E. Emery of 15 W. Davis as the latter, going east on the 1000 block of Northwest Highway, attempted to turn. (A

GOD AND COUNTRY AWARD, the Boy Scout religious honor for Protestants, is presented to Mack W. Borgen (left) at Arlington Heights First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Paul L. Stumpf. ## High Scout Awards For Local Youths

The "God and Country Award," an exclusive religious honor conferred on Boy Scouts of Protestant faiths, was recently given to two local Explorer Scouts at Arlington Heights First Presbyterian Church.

Mack W. Borgen, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Winston Borgen, 538 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, and David Duros, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Duros, 15 Glenbrook, Prospect Heights, received the colorful medal and ribbon for lengthy service to their church from the Rev. Paul L. Stumpf, who said it was his first such presentations in 32 years of ministerial service.

BOTH BOYS are members of Explorer Post 36 which meets in Prospect Heights.

The God and Country Award is given to Scouts who have performed outstanding services to their church and have undertaken special studies under their religious leaders.

Candidates for the award, one of 10 recognized by the Scouting movement for boys of all religious denominations, must engage in study, experience and service in the five areas of Christian faith, Christian witness, Christian world outreach, Christian citizenship and Christian fellowship. (A

Fund Drive to Take in Area

The planned united fund drive for Arlington Heights is tentatively set to include smaller areas around the village.

But the additional areas have not yet been determined and are open for consideration, said Tom Stewart, acting fund committee chairman. One area suggested is Prospect Heights, since Dr. Martin Meisenheimer of 107 E. McDonald, Prospect Heights, has been added to the board of directors.

The expanded plan is indicated in the name chosen for the drive, the Arlington Heights Area Combined Appeal.

AT A MEETING last Saturday, the directors set up the by-law, which were turned over to attorney Steve Jurco, a board member, for review. The board will meet July 22 for ratification of the by-laws, then file for a charter and incorporation by the state as a not-for-profit organization.

Board membership is set at 21. Other new members are Charles Wilson, Willis Jensen, Daniel Kain and the Rev. Robert O. Bartz, bringing the total so far to 13.

Officers and committees will be chosen and the organization lines drawn after the incorporation request is filed. The fledgling group is receiving assistance from the Suburban Community Chest Council in its establishment.

THE EXECUTIVE secretary of the council, Harry L. Blout, suggested at Saturday's meeting that the board set a goal of $1.50 to $2 per capita for the October drive. This would mean a total of $50,000 to $70,000.

A $3,000 sum will be donated by the council to help get the campaign rolling. About 10 agencies will be included in the charity list.

Although originally slated as a project for investigation and action by the Community Council, the Combined Appeal is now a separate group from the council. However, it will seek the endorsement of the council, as well as other civil groups, for the drive this fall, Stewart explained. (AF

Issue Warning On Mail Boxes

Postmaster Virginia F. Dodge of Arlington Heights this week warned that it is a federal offense for anyone but the owner of a mail box and the mailman to use it at any time.

The warning came after the local office received several complaints that children have been damaging and placing trash in rural mail boxes.

Calderwood won't be entered in the event on Sunday, July 8, but the 25-mile race will be run with the cooperation of the Illinois State Police and the police department Heights. # Two Local Delegates To Attend NEA Confab

Section one of the Lake Shore Division of the Illinois Education Assn. will send two delegates and three other representatives to the National Education Assn. Convention July 1-6.

Section delegates will be Mrs. Winona McKown from Cardinal Drive School, Rolling Meadows, and Mrs. Marjorie Olson from Prospect High School.

Mrs. McKown is a Palatine resident. Mrs. Olson lives in Barrington.

THE THREE others from section one attending the convention will be Chester Raasch, first vice president of Lake Shore Division; Wayne Schaible, chairman of section one; and Mrs. Naomi Allen, chairman of the Welfare and Ethics Committee.

Raasch is principal of Miner Junior High School in Arlington Heights, and an Arlington Heights resident. Schaible is principal of Twinbrook School in Hoffman Estates, and lives in Hoffman. Mrs. Allen teaches at Central School, Mount Prospect.

SECTION ONE of the Lake Shore Division consists of the Palatine, Wheeling, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights, Feehanville, Schaumburg, Mount Prospect and Elk Grove elementary school districts; and Palatine and Wheeling township high school districts.

The theme for the convention is "Teach for Tomorrow." The NEA is active in promoting legislation to further education in the United States. (B8

Record Is Reached In Processing of Inheritance Taxes

Attorney General William G. Clark announced that a new monthly record for processing inheritance tax files in Cook County was set by his office in May. Four hundred fifty-six estates were processed, for a total assessment of $3,971,572.18, which compares with 364 processed estates, for a total assessment of $1,357,117.90 for the month of May, 1961.

Clark also announced that 2,127 estates had been processed in the first five months of 1962, and, as a result of these cases, a total of $10,365,133.69 had been assessed.

"REVENUE," SAID Clark, "is one of the most important problems in Illinois today." He stated that his office was concentrating on the collection of all revenue legally due and owing the State in an attempt to assist the hard pressed general revenue fund. "It is unfair," said Clark, "to the good citizens who pay their taxes, to allow the delinquent taxpayer to avoid his fair share of the cost of government, thus increasing the tax paid by the honest citizen."

Clark praised John T. Jarecki, First Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Inheritance Tax Division. Jarecki resides at 705 E. Fariview, Arlington Heights. Clark also had praise for the performance of all of the employes in the Inheritance Tax Division. (B8

Five Named To Convention

Five residents of the northwest suburban area have been named delegates to the eighteenth annual convention of the Marine Corps League, Department of Illinois and its auxiliary, July 19-22.

They are Ted Krzywda, 1710 Bonita, Mount Prospect; Charles Roehl, 508 W. Willow, Prospect Heights; Vic Young, 617 N. Elmhurst, Mount Prospect; Lucile Roehl, 508 W. Willow, Prospect Heights, and Gertrude Smith, 209 S. Potite, Barrington. (B8

Pvt. Hauff Surrenders

TOKYO, (UPI) — Pvt. Richard W. Hauff, the First Cavalry Division soldier sought by U.S. Military Police since June 15, surrendered Monday to military policemen in Seoul, Korea.

Hauff, who has been charged with larceny and fraud involving approximately $20,000, was in pre-trial confinement when he escaped from the custody of a guard on the Yongsan Military Reservation in Seoul.

Officials said Hauff eluded his guard when he was brought to the main post exchange on the pretext of initiating arrangements to make good checks cashed there.

Hauff previously had been convicted by a special court martial on charges of being AWOL, according to army authorities here.

FREQUENT newspaper, radio and TV bulletins had been issued by local army authorities for the 27-year-old Hauff, a former Arlington Heights resident.

He achieved notoriety two years ago as owner of the Mount Prospect Country Club and an alleged pal of syndicate hoodlums. He sold the country club prior to entering the army, and the club is now municipally-owned. (B8

Transfer Locale Of Classes for Handicapped Here

Expected future growth in High School District 214's program for educable mentally handicapped students was viewed June 20 as the board of education moved the program's location for the coming year.

The special classes will be transferred from Prospect High School to the new Forest View High School.

L. S. Jenness, principal-elect of the new school, recommended that the board consider establishing two locations for the program in the future, one at Forest View and one at the planned fourth high school in Wheeling.

JENNESS, who has been assistant principal at Prospect, has served as supervisor for the program.

He cited the district's projected enrollment as the reason for his suggestion. The program now has a maximum enrollment of 15 students in a total student population of about 5,370, and more might be eligible, he said. One half of one per cent of all students in the district are expected to be classified as educable mentally handicapped.

With a predicted enrollment of 10,000 when the Wheeling school is completed in two years, the estimated number of eligible handicapped students would be 50 to 100. The program would then have to be expanded, and it would be wise to split it into two sections, Jenness suggested.

SUPPORTING his recommendation, he said, "With this program, we are removing an almost certain tax burden from future tax rolls, because all educable mentally handicapped students must be potentially employable."

The program was moved from Prospect High because the room used there is too small and not acceptable to either the teacher or the Illinois State Department, which provides partial financial support. It is also needed for other purposes.

An unequipped foods room at Forest View will be used next year, divided with temporary partitions.

The board will review the situation after the 1962-63 school year to determine what arrangements may be needed in the future. (ACM-E

Salary Schedules Are Under Study

The educational committee was designated to study salary schedules for professional personnel in relation to teachers' salary schedules June 20 after District 214 Board of Education turned down a recommended salary increase.

The board denied an increase from $8,400 to $9,400 for Mrs. Ivah Hufnagel, school nurse, which was proposed by Supt. Harold Slichenmyer in keeping with the established salary schedule.

The major reason given by dissenting board members was the $100 allotment to Mrs. Hufnagel for serving as head of the nursing service, which includes two nurses.

SLICHENMYER explained the allotment as similar to that given to the head chairmen of other departments, such as English. Each department in each of the schools in the district has a chairman; one of the chairmen for each course, such as English, serves as head chairman for the district.

The remaining $900 of the increase was recommended in consideration of Mrs. Hufnagel's nine years of experience before joining the school district in 1952. The board gave approval for allowance of outside experience for professional personnel such as psychologists and nurses last January. (ACM-E

Organizations Help Their Local Library

by BETTY AINSLIE

The Arlington Heights Memorial Library is able to offer such a splendid array of good books because it is helped frequently by various organizations.

For instance, Chicago northwest suburban Chi Omega alumnae donated money for the purchase of "The Encyclopedia of Biological Sciences," by Peter Gray, and seven volumes of plays.

The play collections, published annually by Dodd Mead, contain the best of the plays presented each year.

A number of travel books are also gifts to the library. They helped establish a large collection for the use of everyone who likes to dream about possible trips.

IF YOU haven't made all your plans for vacation trips this year, or if you have and would like to check on things to enjoy at your destination, pick up one of these travel books—brand new on the shelves—now.

Teachers particularly might be interested in "A Guide To Study Abroad," 1962-63 edition, by John A. Garrity and Walter Adams. This is a comprehensive handbook for students and teachers who plan or hope to study in Europe, Latin America or the Near or Far East for several weeks or summer vacation.

It examines in detail five hundred study offerings abroad.

Tuition, living expenses, housing, low budget travel through European Student Unions and ways to cut the cost to the bone are described.

SO YOU'RE interested in Mexico? Try "Terry's Guide to Mexico" by James Norman. Here you'll find everything of interest to the casual vacationer as well as the sportsman, student, amateur explorer or orchid hunter.

This book is different because it is divided into handy departments, all indexed, covering Mexican travel information and background. A special "Where To Go" section offers different types of Mexican vacations for every budget and even covers retirement possibilities.

Part one of this book tells about visas, travel costs and tips on health. Part two is the history and culture of the country mixed in with geography, art and literature. Part three covers the major highways, air and rail routes. Part four explains in detail all the fascinating regions of the country, things to see, and hotels, restaurants and shops.

ALSO ABOUT Mexico is the new "Rand McNally Guide Book" by Herman and Juanita Liebs, who are veteran travelers of Mexico. This is a vacation book geared to the automobile traveler and includes large touring maps, how and what to pack, and costs on everything.

Mobile travel books suggest what to see, where to go, and how much it will cost. These books cover the entire United States and give addresses and prices of motels and hotels.

"New Horizons U.S.A." by Pan American is a complete guide to travel by air to any part of the United States. This book tells what kind of weather to expect, usual temperatures for all months of the year, what to wear, where churches are located, good restaurants, shops and stores, and where to find spectator and participation sports.

A VERY cleverly written travel book is a new one called "Esquire's Europe In Style" by Richard Joseph. How would you like to rent a castle? You can find many listed, with prices by week or season, in this book.

Even if you never plan to step foot into Euorpe, you'll enjoy reading this book just for fun.

A couple of new books which fall under the travel heading are somewhat autobiographical, but read like novels.

"Small Boat Through Sweden," by Roger Pilkington, is another in a series of small boat books. This time the boat "Commodore" travels little-known waterways in Sweden.

"The Road To Andorra," by Shirley Deane, is an account of the way of life in the small republic high in the Pyrenees where there are no stores and the people gather food all summer to last them through the winter. (A

Against District 214

Court Turns Down Injunction Plea

The Circuit Court of Cook County, in proceedings conducted last Friday, refused to grant a temporary injunction to restrain Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 from continuing driver training classes for adults.

The suit against the high school district was filed by Acorn Driving School, Inc., contending that the policy of training adults in the mechanics of driving in programs conducted by high school adult education instructors was a violation of the School Code of 1961 and unconstitutional.

THE STATUTE maintains that any high school district is authorized to offer a driver education training course open to any resident of the district holding a valid driver's license, who has reached his 15th but not his 21st birthday.

Attorneys for the plaintiff, claiming to represent the welfare of more than 40 similar private driver training schools, based their plea for a temporary injunction on the contention that the high school district's alleged violation of the code was providing illegal competition for Acorn.

William E. Engelhardt, attorney for the high school district, along with school spokesmen, voiced the opinion that the intention of the controversial statute is to make it mandatory for schools which offer driver training to make such training available to all district residents in the denoted age bracket, but that it does not in any way prohibit a school from expanding that service to include regular adult educational classes.

IN REFUSING to grant a temporary injunction, the court reached no formal order, and recommended that the case be concluded Wednesday, June 27. At press time, it appeared that attorneys for the Acorn Driving School were not fully prepared for their final stand, in which case a motion might be made to continue the procedings Friday, June 29.

Engelhardt pointed out that it is still possible for the plaintiff to make an appeal challenging the constitutionality of the high school district program, depending on the formal order yet to be pronounced.

Northwest Suburbs Gain Four Plants

The Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry has announced the development of 41 industrial projects in the Metropolitan Chicago area during the month of May, representing an investment of over 18 million dollars.

Four of the new developments represent additions to the northwest suburban area.

United Parts Division of Echlin Manufacturing Co. is constructing a plant at 2000 Lunt Ave., Centex Industrial Park, Elk Grove Village.

ALSO LOCATED in Elk Grove will be the new Acme-Wiley Corporation, manufacturer of neon, electrical and metal signs, 2644 Greenleaf Ave., Elk Grove.

Yardley Created Products Co. will relocate its Curtition Chicago Co. division in Arlington Heights, 1430 E. Davis St. The new operations will be carried on in a 30,000 square-foot plant now under contract to D. J. Velo and Company.

Wheeling is the new home of operations of Jay's-Hi-Lift Mfg. Co., manufacturer of hydraulic hoists. The new plant is at 301 E. Industrial Lane, Wheeling. (ACM

New Pastor Will Begin Work Sunday

The new minister of evangelism at Arlington Heights First Methodist Church, the Rev. Gerald B. Robinson, will begin his duties Sunday.

The Rev. Robinson, who comes from Lake Villa, replaces the Rev. E. Maynard Beal, who has been assigned to a Dalton church after two years in Arlington Heights.

No replacement has yet been named for the Rev. Paul Dude, minister to youth for the past year, who is leaving for a church in LeMoille. (A

A Message From J. T. Keefer, Your Pharmacist

BECAUSE HEALTH IS IMPORTANT
Wise laws regulate the practice of pharmacy. We are regularly and unexpectedly inspected by officials from the Board of Pharmacy, The Narcotic Bureau and sometimes the Board of Health and Fire Department.

MEDICINES MUST BE PROTECTED.
If a medicine requiring refrigeration is not kept in a refrigerator, we are subject to a penalty. Many drugs must be dated, for they lose potency and cannot, after a time, be dispensed. Others must be stored away from exposure to light. This applies also to certain patent medicines.

PHARMACISTS ARE EXPERTS.
A pharmacist's license is obtained after many years study in a College of Pharmacy, the serving of an apprenticeship to gain more practical experience and passing a state examination to prove the knowledge needed to protect the public from harm.

DO NOT GAMBLE WITH HEALTH
There are many stores, door-to-door pedlars, mailorder firms and even supermarkets trying to induce you to buy medicines from them.

DEPEND ON YOUR PHARMACY.
We have the knowledge to protect you. Any vitamin or medicine we supply measures up to our prescription quality standards. Our prices are always honest value.

Local Girl and Dutch Boy Exchange Homes

A girl from Arlington Heights and a boy from the Netherlands will exchange families, schools and churches for the coming year in an arrangement which came about quite by chance.

Carolyn Smith of 611 W. Wing St., who is 17 years old today, decided some time ago that she would like to have a foreign student as a guest in her home. But when she made her request, she discovered she was too late to apply in the American Field Service program, which sponsors a foreign student at Arlington High School.

Her father, Lawrence K. Smith, remembered reading about another set-up, the International Christian Youth Exchange ,and suggested she find out more about it. She investigated and found that she could qualify for a trip abroad while a foreign counterpart visited her family.

TUESDAY SHE will leave for New York, where she will meet seven other American students going to Holland, and July 13 she will be in Amsterdam for an orientation program, followed by a week's schooling in the Dutch language at another city. July 20 she will meet her adopted family, the Meloens, of Haarlem, the Netherlands.

Later, the Meloens' son, Rob, 17, will undergo much the same process enroute to Arlington Heights to stay with Carolyn's family and enroll as a senior in Arlington High. The Smiths plan to meet him in New Jersey Aug. 4.

Carolyn will attend Rob's school in Haarlem, a city of about 100,000, and make arrangements to receive her diploma as scheduled, next June.

THE YOUTH exchange, organized several years ago, is sponsored by eight denominations in the United States: Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, United Church of Christ, United Lutheran, Disciples of Christ, Church of the Brethren and American Baptist. It is co-sponsored by various Protestant groups in other countries.

Carolyn's sponsor locally is her family church, First Presbyterian, whose associate minister, the Rev. Eldon McKie, has been her adviser in the program. In Haarlem with the Meloens she will attend a Reformed Church, which is similar to the Presbyterian.

The exchanges are financed primarily through contributions from the local churches and participating families. Altogether, about 70 American students are going abroad and 185 European high schoolers ,including 11 from the Netherlands, are coming to the United States.

NETHERLANDS-BOUND Carolyn Smith of Arlington Heights gets in a cramming session on her adopted country as she assembles her luggage. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Smith of 611 W. Wing St. She will leave Tuesday for Haarlem, the Netherlands to take the place of a boy who is coming to live with her family for a year through an exchange program sponsored by eight denominations.

High School Manager Explains Duty of Aid

John Schaff, business manager at Arlington High School, was one of three speakers addressing a conference on the functions of assistant business managers, held last week at Northern Illinois University, De Kalb.

Contending that an assistant business manager should be trained to take over the operation of the entire business office, Schaff argued that persons serving as purchasing agents and superintendents of buildings should be called by those titles, and not assistant business managers.

SCHAFF SAID his office follows a line of authority and confers with principals "who are responsible for what goes on in their buildings."

He also stated that District 24 differs from others in the 214 differs from others in the ant manager, in that potential managers are hired on an internship basis. (ACM

Board Okays Equipment For Schools

Purchase of equipment costing $31,067.64 for Patton and Olive Schools has been approved by the District 25 Board of Education.

The schools will be equipped for use this fall; Patton will have two kindergarten rooms and four first grade rooms, and Olive will have two kindergartens and five classrooms for first, second and third graders.

About $12,300 of the total will go for classroom and office furniture. Specialized equipment for education and upkeep accounts for the rest. (A

Fourth Fete Planned by Association

Games for the children and a dance for their parents are planned for the Stonegate Association's Fourth of July celebration next Tuesday at Triangle Park.

The children's party, with games, contests and food, will be from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

The dance for the adults with music by Everett Needleman and his band, will be from 9 p. m. to midnight. Tickets are available from block captains.

Mrs. Hugh Hoym Hosts Committee

Mrs. Hugh Hoym, chairman of the Music Committee of Arlington Heights Woman's Club, entertained her committee at a luncheon in her home June 26.

The following members of the committee were present to plan the music study program of the club for the coming year: Mrs. Paul Brna, Mrs. John Galandak, Mrs. George Haebach, Mrs. Edward Pauly, Mrs. Charles Rehfeldt and Mrs. William Willy.

ACA Chapter to Meet on July 1

"Federal Aid to Education" will be the topic when the Northwest Suburban Chapter of the Americans for Constitutional Action organization meets at 8 p. m. July 1 at the Slade Street Fire Station, Palatine.

Featured speaker will be Robert Malcomson, manager of the education department of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

University Hosts 1,400 4-H Members

Nearly 1,400 4-H Club members and leaders representing every county in the state attended the Illinois State 4-H Club Week program at the University of Illinois, Urbana, June 20-22.

Featured speakers for the 3-day event, the second of its kind in Illinois since before World War II, were Mrs. Evelyn M. Duvall, family life consultant, author and educator from Chicago, and Charles T. Vetter Jr., training officer with the U. S. Information Agency, Washington, D. C.

Main objectives of the program were to review and discuss 4-H Club project and activity goals in Illinois and to outline career opportunities available to young people after high school. All delegates were high school sophomores or older.

Career sessions included talks on the need for higher education and what to look for in selecting a career, as well as panel discussions by people on the job in many different career areas.

Project and activity interest groups featured talks on clothing selection, nutrition, flower arrangement, public speaking, photography, insect study and how to give demonstrations.

Entertainment features included a barbecue and a 4-H Club friendship party. A major highlight of this year's program was a special performance by Illinois' first all - 4-H Club chorus, made up of 144 4-H members from all parts of the state. They were chosen on recommendation of their leader and public school music teacher. (B9

AN ORDINANCE creating a working cash fund for the Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County, and DuPage County, Illinois, and providing for borrowing money and issuing bonds of said Village to the amount of $100,000 for the purpose of creating such fund and providing for the levy and collection of a direct annual tax for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds.

* * * *

WHEREAS, the Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County, and DuPage County, Illinois, is a municipality with less than five hundred thousand inhabitants; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees of said Village of Elk Grove Village do deem it advisable, necessary and in the interest of said Village that a fund to be known as a "Working Cash Fund" be created, set apart, maintained, and administered in the manner prescribed in Division 7 of Article 8 of the "Illinois Municipal Code," effective July 1, 1961, and all Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, for the purpose of enabling said Village to have in its treasury at all times sufficient money to meet demands thereon for ordinary and necessary expenditures for all general and special corporate purposes; and

WHEREAS, in order to create such a working cash fund, as above referred to, it is deemed advisable, necessary and in the best interest of said Village that said Village incur indebtedness in the amount of $100,000 for such purpose and issue its bonds therefore in the amount of $100,000; and

WHEREAS, the Village of Elk Grove Village has not heretofore created a working cash fund by the issuance of bonds therefor or the levy of a tax for such purpose; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of Division 7 of Article 8 of the "Illinois Municipal Code," effective July 1, 1961, and all Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, the President and Board of Trustees of said Village are authorized to issue bonds for the purpose of creating a working cash fund:

NOW, THEREFORE, Be It Ordained by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County, and DuPage County, Illinois, as follows:

Section 1. That pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of Division 7 of Article 8 of the "Illinois Municipal Code," effective July 1, 1961, and all Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, a fund to be known as the "Working Cash Fund" of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County and DuPage County, Illinois, is hereby created and set apart in the amount of $100,000, such fund to be maintained and administered in the manner prescribed by the provisions of said Division 7 above referred to, for the purpose of enabling said Village of Elk Grove Village to have in its treasury at all times sufficient money to meet demands thereon for ordinary and necessary expenditures for all general and special corporate purposes.

Section 2. That in order to raise the sum of $100,000 needed for the purpose of creating the "Working Cash Fund" of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County and DuPage County, Illinois, as hereinabove referred to in Section 1 of this ordinance, there be borrowed by, for and on behalf of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County and DuPage County, Illinois, the sum of $100,000 and to evidence said loan negotiable coupon bonds of said Village be issued. Said bonds shall be designated "Working Cash Fund Bonds," be dated July 1, 1962, be one hundred in number, numbered consecutively from 1 to 100, inclusive, be of the denomination of $1,000 each, and mature serially $10,000 on February 1 of each of the years 1964 to 1973, inclusive; that of said bonds, bonds numbered from 1 to 50, inclusive, in the aggregate amount of $50,000 and maturing on February 1 of each of the years 1964 to 1968, inclusive, shall bear interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum, bonds numbered 51 to 70, inclusive, in the aggregate amount of $20,000 and maturing on February 1 of each of the years 1969 and 1970, shall bear interest at the rate of three and one-quarter per ment (3¼%) per annum, and bonds numbered 71 to 100, inclusive, in the aggregate amount of $30,000 and maturing on February 1 of each of the years 1971 to 1973, inclusive, shall bear interest at the rate of three and forty-hundredths per cent (3.40%) per annum, such interest to be payable on February 1, 1963, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of August and February in each year, until said bonds are paid, which said interest payments to date of maturity of principal shall be evidenced by proper interest coupons attached to each bond and maturing on the dates herein provided, and both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the Central National Bank in Chicago, in the City of Chicago, Illinois. The seal of said Village shall be affixed to each of said bonds and said bonds shall be signed by the President and be attested by the Clerk of said Village, and said coupons shall be signed and attested by said officials, respectively, by their respective facsimile signatures, and said officials, by the execution of said bonds, shall adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said Coupons.

Section 3. That the bonds hereby authorized shall be payable to bearer; provided, however, that such bonds may be subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder on the books of the Treasurer of said Village; such registration to be evidenced by notation of said Treasurer upon the back of such bonds so registered. No bond so registered shall be subject to transfer except upon such books and similarly noted on the back thereof unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Such registration of any of said bonds shall not, however, affect the negotiability of the coupons attached to said bonds, but such coupons shall continue transferable by delivery merely.

Section 4. That each of said bonds and the interest coupons to be thereto attached shall be in substantially the following form:

(Form of Bond)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ILLINOIS
COUNTY OF COOK COUNTY OF DUPAGE
VILLAGE OF ELK GROVE VILLAGE
WORKING CASH FUND BOND

Number ..... $1,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that the Village of Elk Grove Village, in Cook County and DuPage County, Illinois, hereby acknowledges itself to owe, and for value received promises to pay to bearer, or if this bond be registered, then to the registered holder hereof, the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) on the first day of February, 19....., together with interest on said sum from the date hereof until paid at the rate of..... per cent (.....%) per annum, payable on February 1, 1963, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of August and February in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached as they severally become due and payable.

Both principal and interest are hereby made payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the Central National Bank in Chicago, in the City of Chicago, Illinois.

For the prompt payment of this bond, both principal and interest, as aforesaid, at maturity, and the levy of taxes sufficient for that purpose, the full faith, credit and resources of said Village are hereby irrevocably pledged.

This bond is one of a series of bonds issued by said Village for the purpose of creating a working cash fund in and for said Village, pursuant to and in all respects in compliance with the provisions of Division 7 of Article 8 of the "Illinois Municipal Code," effective July 1, 1961, and all Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and in compliance with an ordinance duly passed by the President and Board of Trustees of said Village, approved by the President thereof and published, in all respects as by law required.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required by the Constitution and Laws of the State of Illinois, to exist or to be done, precedent to and in the issuance of this bond, have existed and have been properly done, happened and been performed in regular and due form and time as required by law; that the indebtedness of said Village of Elk Grove Village, represented by this bond and the issue of which it forms a part, and including all other indebtedness of said Village, howsoever evidenced and incurred, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation, and that provision has been made for the collection of a direct annual tax, in addition to all other taxes, on all of the taxable property in said Village sufficient to pay the interest hereon as the same falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal hereof at maturity.

This bond is subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder on the books of the Village Treasurer, such registration to be evidenced by notation of such Treasurer on the back hereof, and after such registration no transfer hereof, except upon such books and similarly noted hereon, shall be valid unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Registration hereof shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons hereto attached which shall continue negotiable by delivery merely, notwithstanding registration hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, said Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County and DuPage County, Illinois, by its President and Board of Trustees, has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed and this bond to be signed by the President of said Village and attested by its Village Clerk and the coupons hereto attached to be signed and attested by said officials, by the execution hereof, do adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons, all as of the first day of July, 1962.

Section 5. That for the purpose of providing the funds required to pay the interest on said bonds promptly when and as the same falls due and to pay and discharge the principal thereof at maturity, there be and there is hereby levied upon all the taxable property within said Village, in each year while any of said bonds are outstanding, a direct annual tax sufficient for that purpose, and that there be and there is hereby levied on all of the taxable property in said Village, in addition to all other taxes, the following direct annual tax, to-wit:

For the year 1962, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $16,950 for interest and principal maturing up to and including August 1, 1964;
For the year 1963, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $12,895 for interest and principal;
For the year 1964, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $12,545 for interest and principal;
For the year 1965, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $12,195 for interest and principal;
For the year 1966, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $11,845 for interest and principal;
For the year 1967, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $11,507.50 for interest and principal;
For the year 1968, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $11,182.50 for interest and principal;
For the year 1969, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $10,850 for interest and principal;
For the year 1970, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $10,510 for interest and principal;
For the year 1971, a tax sufficient to produce the sum of $10,170 for interest and principal.

That interest or principal coming due at any time when there are insufficient funds on hand to pay the same be paid promptly when due from current funds on hand in advancement of the collection of the taxes herein levied, and when said taxes shall have been collected, reimbursement shall be made to the said funds in the amounts thus advanced.

Section 6. That forthwith as soon as this ordinance becomes effective a copy hereof certified by the Clerk of said Village, which certificate shall recite that this ordinance has been passed by the President and Board of Trustees of said Village, approved by the President of said Village, and published, shall be filed with the County Clerk of Cook County, Illinois, who shall in and for each of the years 1962 to 1971, inclusive, ascertain the rate per cent required to produce the aggregate tax hereinabove levied in each of said years respectively, and extend the same for collection on the tax books in connection with other taxes levied in each of said years, respectively, in and by said Village for general corporate purposes of said Village, and in each of said years such annual tax shall be collected by said Village in like manner as taxes for general corporate purposes for each of said years are levied and collected, and when collected such taxes shall be used solely for the purpose of paying principal and interest upon the bonds herein authorized when same mature.

Section 7. That the funds derived from such levy be and the same are hereby appropriated and set aside for the sole and only purpose of paying principal of and interest on said bonds when and as the same become due. That the funds derived from the sale of said bonds shall be set apart in the working cash fund of the Village of Elk Grove Village created by this ordinance and shall be used only for the purposes and in the manner provided by Division 7 of Article 8 of the "Illinois Municipal Code," effective July 1, 1961, and all Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto. The said fund and the money therein shall not be regarded as current assets available for appropriation and shall not be appropriated by the corporate authorities in the annual appropriation ordinance.

Section 8. That forthwith after this ordinance has become effective as provided by law, the bonds herein authorized shall be executed and delivered to the Treasurer of said Village and be by him delivered to Barcus, Kindred & Company, Chicago, Illinois, the purchaser thereof, upon receipt of the purchase price therefor, same to be not less than the par value of said bonds, plus accrued interest to date of delivery and a premium of $16, contract for the sale of said bonds to said purchaser, heretofore entered into, be and the same is hereby in all respects ratified, approved and confirmed.

Section 9. That this ordinance shall be operative, valid and in full force and effect upon its passage by the President and Board of Trustees, its approval by the President and its publication as by law required and it shall not be necessary to submit this ordinance to a vote of the electors of the Village for their approval, all in accordance with the requirements of Division 7 of Article 8 of the "Illinois Municipal Code," effective July 1, 1961, as amended, and that all ordinances, resolutions and orders, or parts thereof, in conflict herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS FIREMEN battled a $7,000 blaze Sunday afternoon at a garage at the Paul J. Harth residence, 1423 W. St. James. The building and a 1962 Chevrolet convertible in it were complete losses. The neighboring Richard Heidenson garage at 1421 St. James received $200 damage in the fire. The cause is unknown. The fire department also answered calls for three minor brush fires and one car fire during the week, in addition to providing inhalator service twice and removing one child from a locked second story bedroom. # Your Newspaper Is YOUR SHOPPING GUIDE

In newspapers the news of better products and services is as important to today's modern family as that of current events or features concerning home and family, food and fashion, hobbies and health.

For newspapers are the medium by which most people shop. No other medium supplies the variety and detail of advertising by which one may compare prices and benefits and choose the comforts and conveniences that make for a full living standard.

There's much significance in this for local advertisers. For only in the newspaper can people of all age and income groups find the information and inspiration so necessary for good citizenship and for the enjoyment of a better way of life.

And because newspapers gain their friendship and regular readership, newspaper advertisers are provided the most productive medium of communication with customers.

Arlington Teachers At Knox Institute

Two residents of Arlington Heights are among the 50 high school teachers from 16 different states participating in the summer institute in physics and chemistry at Knox College.

They are George P. Barrett, 1013 N. Kasper; and Francis A. Onorati, Willoway Terrace, Oakton and Higgins.

THEY will receive stipends for study during the eight-week course, which runs June 25 to Aug. 17. Barrett is a teacher at Arlington High School and Onorati teaches at East Leyden High School.

The Knox institute is sponsored by a $66,900 grant from the National Science Foundation. Dr. Herbert Priestley, chairman of the Knox physics department, serves as director.

Exclusive Club

"I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou were cold or hot. So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth."
Revelations 4:15-16

A recent criticism of many churches is that the congregation is more of a club than a Christian fellowship; it hides in a zoned residential community; the building costs a sum which members are proud to mention; contributions to charity are small; the building fund is enormous; to be a member is the respectable, social thing to do.

This isn't new. St. John points out in the above quotation, in which he criticizes the Laodiceans, that this type of church will not survive.

When you attend the church of your choice this Sunday look about you. Is your church a club? Is it expendable?

Church Conventions Are Attended by 2

Two members of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, corner of Euclid and Wolf Roads, will be delegates to church conventions next week in Cobo Hall, Detroit, Mich., that will note the conclusion of the "Augustana Church in America" and mark the beginning of the "Lutheran Church in America" (L.C.A.).

The two men are Pastor Albert W. Weidlich and F. A. Gilbert. The conventions are from June 25 through July 1.

PASTOR WEIDLICH is the area delegate to the 103rd synod of the Augustana Lutheran Church. The Augustana Church began in 1847 when the Rev. T. N. Hasselquist came from Sweden to minister to immigrants in the Galesburg, Ill., region. From that handful of pioneers, the church grew until it now numbers 600,000 members throughout the world. A special service will be held honoring eight ministers on the golden anniversary of their ordination. Included in those honored will be the Rev. Martin Gustafson of Glenview.

Gilbert, a charter member of Grace, and long time treasurer of the Augustana Social Science Service in Chicago, will be an official delegate to the Constituting Convention of the Lutheran Church in America. This new Lutheran body, of about 3,000,000 members, is the result of the merger of the Augustana Church with the Suomi Synod, the American Evangelical Lutheran Church, and the United Lutheran Church in America. Headquarters for the new body will be located in New York.

You and Your Problems

Training 2-Year-Old Perplexes Parents

by DR. G. G. NEUMAN

Dear Dr. Neuman,

I've been having trouble training my two-year-old son. Since I know he is trying, I haven't been making much ado about it. I've been told by well-meaning friends that two or three days of hitting him with a belt when he "misses" would accomplish the job in no time. What's your opinion?

Mrs. W.

We often see parents who become almost frantic in their efforts to train a child. They seem to feel that the worlds will judge them as parents by how well their child is trained. Yet, when toilet-training does occur (as it finally will for most children), it is the child who does it, not the parents.

I might also add that training is a gradual process. The child doesn't wake up one morning fully "trained." What we see is gradually more control with fewer and fewer "misses" as time goes by.

TO PUNISH a child when he "misses" by so drastic a method as hitting him with a belt makes no sense at all. In fact, no child under three is ready for any kind of punishment since his powers of reasoning do not allow him to understand the implications of cause and effect.

As adults, it is hard for us to feel and see things as children do. We cannot go back to the earliest years, when "time" and "good" and "bad" meant nothing at all. These are advanced concepts which we only learn as we grow up.

Even after 3, I believe that no child should be punished physically. The experts differ on the question of physical punishment. They do agree that to give a child a spanking hours after he has done somthing "wrong" just confuses the child, because he has no way of connecting the physical attack with what has happened hours earlier and is already forgotten.

Some experts feel it is all right to strike a child as an immediate reaction to the wrong doing, when the parent is angry enough to do this. However, from my experience with children, I feel that the physical attack by the parent often is an experience that goes deep and sets off feelings and problems that continue to disturb the child for many years to come.

FORCE MAY make a child do what the parent wants, but it also lays the foundation for many of the problems that show up later, in school, on the job, with friends, etc.

The only sound basis for discipline is a good relationship with your child. When your child wants to please you because he loves you, you can help him grow up into a trustworthy adult. I think this is the only meaning that discipline can have.

If you have any question or comments you want to direct to Dr. Neuman, address your letter to Box-18, c/o Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, Illinois. Confidentiality will be respected.

Villagers Anticipate Post, Paddock Party

This Friday, June 29, will be a significant date for local party-goers, for it will mark the second time the exclusive Post and Paddock Club at Arlington Park will have been opened to an area benefit group. Friday evening's affair is sponsored by Arlington Heights Infant Welfare Center and is a repeat of the group's gala dinner dance of last year.

Although the Post and Paddock is famous over the entire country and is located "just a stone's throw from the house," few villagers ever have the opportunity of wining, dining and dancing within its hallowed walls. Friday's party closely follows the benefit sponsored by the Chicago Boys Club at the Post and Paddock when the price tag was more than $100 per couple. Although the donation for the Infant Welfare is not nearly that stiff, facilities open to the guests will be the same and all are looking forward to a fabulous evening.

Cocktails, just switched from 7 to 8 p.m. will precede the gourmet dinner planned by the club's maitre d', Emile, which will be followed by dancing to the music of Frankie Masters and his 12-piece orchestra. The orchestra will also furnish music during the cocktail hour. Dancing will be from 10:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Birth Control Advocates Termed 'Pagan' by Priest

ST. LOUIS, (UPI) — Advocates of artificial birth control were attacked here Monday night by the Rev. John C. Knott, national director of the Family Life Bureau.

He termed them as "pagans" during an address entitled "Love and the Christian Message" delivered before the 28th National Catholic Family Life Convention meeting here this week.

Father Knott told his audience "there is an anti-life campaign abroad in the land."

IN DEFENDING the position of the Catholic views on birth control, Father Knott said, "It is better to be born than not to be born. Whether a person grows to adulthood, whether he achieves maturity in his own living, at least he has been given the start in life, which is existence.

"However, in saying this I am not saying that every couple should have as many children as the wife can physically bear and the husband financially support," he explained. "The maximum number of children is not necessarily the optimum."

In referring to birth control advocates, he said "Some of the pagans are very frank about their opposition to an increasing population. Each new human being is a threat to them since there is a limit to the things of the earth.

"THESE PAGANS are looking not just for existence but for all the good things and the luxuries of life," he pointed out. "They are very frank to state that they don't want more people because it will mean less for them."

Father Knott drew a distinction between two family systems: the Christian American family "who believe in God" and the typical American family "who act as though God did not, in fact, exist."

Both family systems face the same problems, he explained.

"In some cases, the solutions to common human problems, whether of a personal or social nature, will be the same regardless of the type of family system," he said. "In many cases, the typical and the Christian families will arrive at diametrically opposed answers."

Olive Oil Care

In Spain, where 65 per cent of the world's supply of olive oil originates, you'll never find olive oil in the refrigerator; a refrigerated temperature changes its texture and flavor.

Unlike other cooking fats, Spanish olive oil may be stored on any convenient shelf, and, if free of dust and other impurities, will keep fresh at room temperature up to a year.

"SAY, I REALLY GO for this style," seems to be the comment of Connie as Vaccaro nears completion of her hair cutting. "Daddy will like this style, too."

"THERE YOU ARE Connie," says Vaccaro as he brushes some loose hairs from her dress before she leaves the chair. And now its off to show her new hair style to her father. Connie has been having her hair cut in a beauty salon for the past two months.

14-MONTH-OLD CONNIE Gallicchio of Weathersfield checks the mirror as Frank Vaccaro cuts her hair. She holds a brush in her left hand just to make sure the style to her liking.

Never Too Young For Beauty Salon!

by LEE SECHLER

Little girls today are wearing their hair in styles that are much different, for the most part, than did their mothers.

"Short and sweet, simple and neat," is the way Frank Vaccaro, owner of Frank of Hoffman Plaza Beauty Salon, described the current hair styles for little girls.

Shorter hair cuts for all younger girls were recommended by a number of the beauty shops and salons that this reporter talked with.

"I DON'T believe any child should be forced to wear short hair, but she should have hair shaped and be made to realize how important brushing and daily care is," said Vaccaro.

Ponytails and braids, once the main styles of the younger girls, are now passing from the scene. True, you may still see them from time to time, but they are falling from favor. Two out of three salons contacted reported the ponytails were in the minority.

Pixie styles are the most popular with the little girls at this time. And from the pixie comes a number of variations.

THIS IS the main style for the eight and under group of girls, explained Vaccaro. And fathers, it was pointed out, accept short hair more readily than mothers in most cases.

"I think it's because they think back to how their hair was kept and would like to see their daughters wearing it that way, too," Vaccaro said.

Little girls' hairstyles today seem to fall into three basic styles:

1. pixies
2. soft fluff—one inch at nape
3. popular three inch feather cut

FROM THESE three basic styles there are eight to 10 modifications to fit the individual and the length of the hair.

For the younger than teen age girls, there is also the short hair cut with soft hair styling and very little teasing.

It has become quite a trend in the last few years for children to come into a beauty salon.

VACCARO AND Gene Olivo, Olivo's Beauty Salon, both attested to this trend, one which has been a surprise to a number of older hairdressers.

Long hair is not completely out, even though the trend is for pixies and wispy bangs.

Little girls with long hair, report the owners of Arlington Downtown Beauty Shop, can wear it in Alice in Wonderland style. Shampooing for the little girls' hair is a must for a good grooming.

Younger girls entering Frank of Hoffman Plaza Beauty Salon in Hoffman Estates are treated like adult customers.

THEY HAVE appointments and no adult is allowed to push in front of them, explained owner Vaccaro.

"A child made to feel at home in the beauty salon comes out taking pride in the new hairdo. They cannot wait to get home and show it to daddy or an older brother," said Vaccaro.

It was the feeling of all the salon owners talked to, and mothers, that having a child's hair cut and shaped in a salon was desirable.

ONE MOTHER said she attempted to cut her daughter's bangs at home, but had trouble keeping them even. This same mother now places complete trust in her daughter's hairdresser.

The pixie, in case you're interested, replaced the ducktail of five years ago. What's next?

Well, it's hard to say. But whatever the styles to come, you can rest assured father, they will make you proud of your little girl.

Awards Presented To Hairdressers

Unit 47, Illinois Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, held its final meeting of the year in June at Campbell's Hearthstone Restaurant in Palatine. Before adjourning for the summer, president Tom Robinson, awarded achievement plaques to five members assigned to the permanent style body. Those receiving the awards were Dale Blau, Betty Blau, Dorothy Gilmore, Ruth Montgomery and Adeline Pedersen.

Each year a hair styling contest is held within the unit and the winners, achieving the required number of points, are assigned to the unit style body. The plaque of permanent membership is attained by winning three times in five years.

OTHER members of the style body are Armand Gentile and Doris Silver, second year winners and Juanita Blecker, Carol Bruest, Frank DeLicco, Robert Henderson and Robert Orr, all first year winners.

With such a complete and active style body membership, unit 47, composed of hairdressers in the Paddock area, looks forward to a progressive year when it re-convenes next fall for the 1962-63 season.

About That Flower: Our Editors Goofed

We goofed!

Dozens of phone calls have been received at Paddock Publications regarding the June 14 article on flowers dangerous to children and pets. Rhubarb leaves ARE harmful, these callers tell us.

And we agree. Just a few days after our story was published, a Chicago daily printed a story revealing that rhubarb leaves contain oxalic acid of which the leaves harbor poisonous concentrations which can damage the nervous system as well as the kidneys and in one case on record, caused the death of a 4-year-old child.

THERE ARE doubtless many other plants that can cause harm to children. We mentioned only a few of the more common plants in this area such as foxglove, monkshood, larkspur, Christmas rose, castor bean, trumpet owerfl,swnotor bean, trumpet flower, snow-on - the - mountain, cypress spurge and lilly of the-valley. Wise parents will teach their children that both they and the flowers are better off when left untouched.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Consumer Crisis

Long ago, as I recall, there was a movie with Claude Rains called "The Invisible Man." It was sort of horror bit and, as I remember it, in order to be visible he did himself up in bandages. Or something. My name is Mary and I am invisible. So is my family. Johnson and Johnson can't make enough bandages to render this mob apparent to the naked eye.

MARY

It all started innocently enough with me deciding to take about three fourths of my merry little group shopping in a faraway place. What a happy junket we planned. shorts and stuff for number four daughter. Shorts and stuff for number one son. Number three daughter, large, had some money burning a hole in her pocket and a yearning for shoes. Mama had a yearning too. To get the whole thing over with as fast as possible. I am not a good shopper. I am particularly not a good shopper when accomanied by three fourths of my group.

So we sat ourselves down in the shoe department. Which purchase had been given priority. Now I am one who is perfectly willing to take my turn at bat. But, I become a raving tiger when passed over. The clerks were men which, as far as I'm usually concerned, are the best kind. They are suckers for a broad smile and a sweet reasonableness on the part of the customer.

These particular clerks had obviously had a meeting that morning and decided that "Ignore Customer Day" was now in effect. One of them finally waited on the trade and wandered moodily toward the cash register. He kept looking at the box in his hand as though wondering from whence it came. Ah, thinketh I, I should be next. Not so. Having disposed of one of us pests, he was so exhausted he disappeared into the back room to rest up before he had another go at it.

As he went in, another somnambulist came out. At least he came to the doorway and peered myoptically at the landscape. I exposed my teeth in what was supposed to be an ingratiating smile and waited for him to waft himself in my direction. This is where I discovered that we were invisible. Either that or he thought I was going to bite him. He went back to his cage.

I thought seriously of running up a white flag or making smoke signals but settled for waving my arms semaphore fashion. One of them got the message, they called a meeting and decided there was only one way to do away with me. Wait on the idiot. Which he did. We parted, if not exactly friends, at least nodding acquaintances.

Super Markets

Super markets account for 72 per cent of all grocery sales. In 1939, only 28.8% of al grocery sales were accounted for by self-service stores.

Miss Petersen, who will be a junior at Arlington High School, will be a member of a discussion group at the conference to be held at Illinois State Normal University at Normal June 21 through June 23.

The 3-day conference, planned and carried out by the teenagers themselves, will give chapter delegates opportunity to exchange ideas with FHA'ers from other Illinois chapters. Nearly 600 delegates will be present. (S

Amusing the Zoo

Dear Peg:

At least once or twice a summer, we visit the Hawthorn-Mellody Zoo to amuse the animals. That is, I hope it amuses them, although they must be somewhat disappointed by the fact that we really are much funnier. We roar at the lions, growl at the tigers and chatter with the monkeys. We stick our fingers through the fence to see if the sign really means what it says and we buy peanuts to feed to our animal friends—then eat most of them ourelves. We love peanuts.

A trip to the zoo works in very nicely when it's a day like yesterday—too cold for the beach, yet the children won't be convinced (they'd want to go if there were icicles hanging on the piers). So, rather than begging them to keep quiet about the beach, I surprised them with a suggestion that we go to the zoo. Since there are not enough of us to make a really rousing group, we always take a few friends along to bring the number up to a nice eight or nine.

Patrick and Johnnie would have liked to climb the mountain, on the top of which a mountain goat looked down disdainfully and Deidre would have been delighted to go swimming with the seals. Mean old Mama wouldn't let her! The buffalo must have been disgusted to have been called a "moos-cow" by Deidre—so he turned his head and plodded off. The monkeys reached for peanuts and once in a while were lucky enough to get one.

The children enjoyed the replica of an old western village almost as much as seeing the animals. After buying popcorn in the country store, we walked past the false store fronts, looking at the funny pictures and reading the amusing signs. It took quite a while for them to tire of playing cowboys and Indians, as they climbed in and out of the old covered wagons.

However, they finally ran close enough to me to get a hold of them and lead them sort of gently toward the car. We had a wonderful time—hope the animals enjoyed it too . . .

My love,
Patty

Moehling Families Celebrate Gold, Silver Anniversaries

MR. & MRS. HENRY MOEHLING

MR. & MRS. HERBERT MOEHLING
(Community Camera

Twenty-five years ago on May 23 the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Moehling of Arlington Heights also marked the wedding day of their son, Herbert, and Miss Lorraine Sullivan of Palatine. Another son, Melvin, and a daughter, now Mrs. Myron Blum of Arlington Heights, shared the double excitement of that day in 1937.

This year 310 friends and relatives again extended double congratulations, this time at a combination golden and silver wedding anniversary celebration in the Bensenville Fire Station. The gala occasion was delayed until June 9 so that Melvin, his wife and children could be here from their home in Tucson to make the family circle complete.

On the anniversary, Herbert and his wife hosted at a dinner party in their Barrington home where 25 local family members toasted the two generations of "brides" and "grooms." During the same week the senior Mrs. Moehling was feted by fellow members of the Ladies Aid and Dorcas Aid of St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights.

THE JUNE 9 celebration, a dinner and reception, was followed next day by an open house held by the senior Moehlings at 631 Kirchoff Road, their home for all of their married life. There, 100 of the previous night's guests watched as their hosts cut a massive wedding cake and opened their many gifts.

Witnesses to the 1912 nuptials and cake-cutting who were also part of this year's memorable celebration, were the bride's maid-of-honor, her sister, Mrs. Gustav Spring of Elgin, the groom's brother and best man, Herman of Arlington Heights, and their cousin who was also in the wedding party, William Schoenbeck of Arlington Heights.

Here from Manhattan, Kan. to honor her parents and grandparents was the Herbert Moehling's daughter and son-in-law, the Cliff Pavises. The foster daughter of the senior Moehlings, Mrs. Henry Hendrich, was here with her family from Berlin, Wis., and several other relatives from Indiana and friends from Whitewater, Wis. joined the gala weekend doings.

AMONG OTHERS honoring Herbert and his parents were 15 of his St. Peter Lutheran Grade School schoolmates with their respective husbands and wives.

The golden anniversary couple was married in St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights where 25 years later their son and his bride repeated the same marriage vows. From the 1912 union have come 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, with a fifth member of the fourth generation expected soon.

The senior Mr. and Mrs. Moehling are lifelong residents of the area, Mr. Moehling being a native Arlington Heighter. His wife is the former Bertha Clausing of Elk Grove. The Moehling farm on Kirchoff Road is a well-known landmark to local old-timers and the couple remains at home there on the few acres they retained after selling the bulk of their land a few years ago.

Until two years ago when Melvin moved to Tucson, the Moehling children also lived all their lives in this area. Melvin and his family are still here and will remain another week or two, enjoying reunions with old friends, before returning to Tucson. (S

William Fremgen Claims Streator Girl as Bride

Friends and relatives of William H. Fremgen, 823 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, traveled to Streator, Ill. May 26 to witness his marriage to Miss Anna Mae Mull, daughter of the Robert H. Hulls of that town. The wedding took place in Casimir's Church at an 11 o'clock nuptial mass.

The evening before the double ring nuptials, the groom's parents, the William H. Froembgens of the Vail Avenue address, were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held in the White House Restaurant in Streator. Thirty-five guests, members of the bridal party and close relatives and friends, attended.

For the service, performed by Fr. Joseph Prokuski, the church altar was decorated with bouquets of white and pink roses and the pews were marked with white satin bows.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a custom-made gown of her own design. Made of white silk peau de soie, the gown featured a bell skirt with detachable chapel train topped at the waist with a bow. The scooped neckline was re-embroidered with Alencon lace and the long sleeves ended in rose points at the wrists. Her headdress was a coronet of pearls and crystals with a butterfly veil of silk illusion.

White roses and ivy made up her cascade bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. William Eden Jr. of Streator and bridesmaid was Miss Sarah McCollum of Chicago whose dresses and hats were also designed by the bride, and custom-made of deep rose taffeta. The dresses were made with short sleeves scooped necklines and bell skirts and their pill box hats held veils of the same deep rose. They carried nosegays of white and pink roses.

JAMES M. Fremgen of South Bend was his brother's best man and Ronald J. Cherry of Park Forest served as usher.

A champagne fountain and dinner featured the reception which was held in the Streator American Legion Hall. Mrs. Mull received the 135 guests in a light blue silk crepe sheath with lace bodice and draped neckline. She wore a pixie hat of blue and purple flowers and complemented her ensemble with a purple orchid corsage. Mrs. Froembgen chose a light beige silk sheath with scooped neckline and short sleeves. She wore pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Having returned from a week's honeymoon in New York City, the newlyweds have been at home at 222 E. Delaware Place, Chicago, since June 3.

The bride, a graduate of Northwestern University, is news editor for the American Dental Association in Chicago and the groom, a graduate of Arlington High School, St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind. and Loyola University School of Law, is an attorney with the Chicago Title and Trust Co. (S

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Gnve a 'House' About a Shower

By Dolores Haugh

Weddings and brides, showers and ideas, well, here's one, a "House About a Shower."

No need for umbrellas, this one is for the bride-to-be and it concerns every room in the house.

INVITATION

Make up your guest list and then divide it into four parts. One group for each room in the house to be taken care of, kitchen, living room, bathroom and bedroom. Now, you, as the hostess, may classify your guests according to what you think they would enjoy buying, but the guest has the privilege of choosing how large or small the gift may be.

For the invitation, cut a little house out of construction paper with a contrasting roof and shutters, windowboxes under the windows and a little door that opens to say "Shower." Inside the house divide as a floor plan and name the room that guest will help furnish. Write the following opposite the floor plan:

There's going to be a shower
All around this house,
We're keeping it a secret
We'll be quiet as a mouse.
Here is the room we've chosen
We hope you'll join the fun,
And all the guests will shower
With gifts for every one.

State time, place and who is hostessing the party. Have the guest mark her present and to which room her gift will concern.

ENTERTAINMENT

As the guests arrive have them place their gifts in the room designated. When the guest of honor begins to open her presents, if the number is not too large, you may progress from one room to another.

Have them start with the bedroom and if your rooms are too small for each guest to see adequately just have the guest of honor bring the gifts from each room back into the front room, but the unique part would be the progressive idea winding up in the kitchen where coffee would be served, back through the dining room where refreshments would be served.

As a hostess, see to it that each gift is designated on the enclosure card so the guest of honor may write her thank you notes without mix up. If you know the guest of honor is pressed for time, have addressed thank you notes, stamped so all she has to do is the message. You can do this merely by making a duplicate of each invitation envelope at the time you address them and you will have more time than the bride.

MENU

Fancy sandwich loaves can become houses merely by adding green pepper windows and doors, construction paper roofs which can be removed before cutting. A cool salad and fancy French pastry for dessert will be fine. Serve on your best linens with china and silver and don't forget the nuts and mints.

If you have roses in your garden make them the center of things by decorating the loaves, salad and dessert plates with them. Tiny favors such as paper guest towels and coasters will give the guests something to remember about your "house about a shower." (S

Rug Construction Reveals Quality

Examining construction of rugs and carpets in the store can help you judge how well they will wear in your home.

According to Rosemary Bowald, University of Illinois home economist, two parts of construction to check are the density and height of the rug pile.

You can check the density of the pile by counting the number of tufts in a square-inch section of the rug. Or, on a woven rug, count the stitches on the back of the rug. The greater the number of tufts or the more stitches on the back, the greater the density. Also, the less the rug backing shows when the rug is bent, the greater the density. Other qualities being equal, the denser the pile, the longer the wear life of the rug.

A deep pile gives the rug a luxurious appearance. With a dense construction, a deep pile denotes quality. Be sure, however, that the deep pile isn't a disguise for a sparsely tufted rug.

In a rug of the uncut pile type, the higher the twist of the pile and, in general, the larger the yarn, the more durable and more resilient the rug. This rule of thumb applies, however, only if the pile is fairly dense. A high-twist, short-loop rug wears exceptionally well and is very crush resistant. In general, uncut pile rugs have more resilience than cut pile rugs.

Mrs. Upham Speaks To Area Homemakers

"Color in Your Wardrobe" will be the lesson given by Mrs. Claradehl Upham June 28 when she speaks at the meeting of the Arlington Heights Homemakers to be held in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association Building at 1 p.m.

Each woman is to bring one complete outfit in addition to the one being worn. Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. A. Pukszta, Mrs. J. Wiedl and Mrs. O. Adam.

A come-as-you-are breakfast was held in the home of Mrs. Gus Anderson June 5.

At their Craft Day June 14, members met at the Farm Bureau Building to make 120 cloth dolls for an institution. Anyone interested in donating old nylons to be used to stuff the dolls may call CL 3-2640. (S

Sorority Activities

DELTA GAMMA

Delta Gamma Alumnae will be volunteer workers at the annual American Association convention June 25-29 at McCormick Place, handling registration and the taking of visions for the Glucoma screening program.

The booth is sponsored by the National Society for the Prevention of the Blind. Aid to the blind and to the partially sighted is the national philanthropy of Delta Gamma Sorority.

Among the four members of the Northwest Suburban Delta Gamma Alumnae Association who will contribute time to the Glucoma booth is Mrs. Robert Hayes of Arlington Heights.

More than 600 pairs of eyeglasses were wrapped by the Chicago Delta Gamma Alumnae at their final meeting for the summer. The glasses will be sent to New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., a non-profit, nonsectarian social organization in Short Hills, N. J.

This was the second in an annual campaign promoted by Delta Gammas in Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, and Arlington Heights to collect discarded eyeglasses.

The simple non-astigmatic glasses are sent to medical missions where the plastic frames are re-used, and gold and silver scrap go to a refinery. Distribution of new eyeglasses is arranged through hospital and welfare agencies who are given funds for this purpose. When a need is certified, New Eyes for the Needy pays for the prescribed glasses.

Members of Delta Gamma wish to thank all who supported the campaign during the months of March and April in the four suburbs. The response was as overwhelming as the first campaign.

BETA SIGMA PHI

As a climax to a successful year and welcome to summer, members of the Lambda Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and their husbands had a cook-out June 9 at the home of Mrs. Dee McLaughlin, Rosita Drive, Palatine.

Another is planned for members and their children later in the summer.

GAMMA PHI BETA

More than $400 was realized from the recent Gamma Phi Beta Clair de Lune de la Rosa benefit dance held in the Des Plaines Elks Club. Highlight of the chapter's year, proceeds from the affair will go to the Park Ridge School for the Retarded, Countryside Farm School for Retarded Children and the Clearbrook School for the Retarded.

Summer activities for the group will include a member-spouse picnic July 7 at the Mount Prospect home of Mrs. Warren VanderVoort where group singing, games and entertainment will follow a pot-luck supper. Gamma Phi's wishing to attend may call Mrs. Richard Impey at CL 3-7912. (S

Theater to Exhibit Local Artist Works

Theater to exhibit 2-30 ital

A collection of oil paintings by Barbara Tuch of Morton Grove will be shown at the Golf Mill Theatre during the month of July.

Mrs. Tuch received her art training under such prominent artists as Motherwell, Treiman, Czocka, Danhausen and Dong Kingman. Moviegoers will remember Dong Kingman as the creator of the beautiful sets in "Flower Drum Song."

MRS. TUCH, a member of the North Shore Art League and a charter member of the newly formed Skokie Art League, also studied at Pratt Institute and Parsons School of Design in New York and the Chicago Art Institute.

The artist conducts a nursery school in Morton Grove for the neighborhood children, who include her own Kerri and Andy. The wide scope of her talent in florals, portraits, scene and abstracts makes this an unusual exhibit.

The Golf Mill Theatre, as an aid to local artists, has been featuring a new exhibit every month in the theatre art gallery. (S

'New Front' for Females

'Women's Suffrage' Now Applies to State Police

by UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

A new front for women was opened up last week by a ruling from the Illinois Attorney General.

Attorney General William G. Clark ruled that women can now serve in the state police department.

Public Safety Director Joseph Ragen said the present plans call for the hiring of two women to work with investigating branch of the state police.

Ragen, who had asked for the ruling, said "I'm glad to hear" they can be hired.

THE DISTAFF side of the force will be used only for investigators, Ragen said, but he Ragen. Gruelling highway patrolling will be left to the men on the force.

Ragen said the women "undercover" agents will be hired by the police merit board.

"I went before the merit board recently and told the members I thought it would be a good idea to hire women for this type of work," he said.

Ragen termed the two to be hired as "the best women" that can be found. The two will work very closely with men investibators, Ragen said, but he did not say in what area of the state they would be used.

THEY WILL have to take tests and meet other requirements set forth by the merit board, he said.

Police Chief William Morris said recruiting for the women will probably begin in July.

Present requirements for recruits are that they be at least 5 feet 9 inches tall and not over 6 feet. Their weight must be between 150 pounds and 183 pounds. They must be in the age range of 21 and 33 years old.

The force now has 1,100 men, 25 of which is in the investigative section.

IN HIS RULING, Clark said the law authorizes the appointment of "persons" as state highway police. He added that "in this state it is well established that in the absence of clear language to indicate otherwise, words importing a masculine gender may be applied to females."

Where the state legislature is interested in sex of the person who is an applicant or is employed by the state, words which clearly express such an interest are employed, he said.

Clark added that this can be seen in the Illinois State Guard Act which said the members shall be comprised of all "male citizens between the ages of 18 and 55 years." (Soc

Synthetic Materials Now Important in Rug-Making

Synthetic fibers are playing an increasingly predominant role in the carpeting field. According to current predictions, these fibers may even take over from the traditional fibers in the future.

Rosemary Bowald, University of Illinois home economist, describes some of the features of the main synthetics now being used.

Nylon is known for its exceptional abrasion resistance, toughness and durability. The improved continuous filament carpet nylons, such as Nylon 501, Cumuloft or Caprolan, also have a very crush-resistant pile and show soil less than the former nylons. Nylon carpeting is easy to wipe clean with a damp cloth. There is no problem with moths and mildew unless the backing or padding is made of a material that could attract them.

The acrylics, Acrilan and Creslan, and the modacrylics, Verel and Dynel, have been engineered to look and feel like wool and so take on the loft and resilience of wool. These fibers are fairly strong and have high abrasion resistance, although not quite as much as nylon.

One problem with some synthetics is pilling or balling up of fiber ends into unsightly little balls on the surface of the carpet. Carpeting made from continuous filaments (long fiber lengths) minimizes the pilling.

Rugs made from synthetic fibers are also threatened by oily stains. If they are not removed immediately, they are very difficult to remove.

Synthetics are also heat sensitive. Therefore, synthetic rugs will melt from contact with cigarette ashes or sparks from a fireplace. Acrilan and Creslan are flammable; nylon just melts.

Most of the synthetic fibers blend well with each other and the natural fibers. At least one-third to one-half nylon is needed to contribute its outstanding properties in a blend; 20 per cent nylon will give some benefits, and 10 per cent will add strength only. Wool and rayon blends should contain at least 50 per cent wool. In general, a carpet performs like its major fiber content.

Bridal Pair Will Live In DeKalb for Summer

The former Lindanne Clemens of Prospect Heights and her bridgegroom, R. William Howell of Downers Grove, are spending the summer in DeKalb while he works on his master degree at Northern Illinois University.

The couple was married on June 23 in Faith Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights by the Rev. Edgar H. Behrens. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clemens, 209 E. Olive, is a graduate of Northwestern University and has been teaching for the past three months in the Arlington school system.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of the Walter Howells of Downers Grove, received his bachelor of science degree in education at Western Illinois University. This fall he and his bride will travel to Avonsdale, Ariz., where he will begin his teaching career.

For the afternoon wedding rites, Faith Church was decorated with altar bouquets of white snapdragons, carnations, ivy and fern. Organist Theodore Lams of Mount Prospect accompanied Mary Beth Peil. who also served as a bridesmaid, as she sang "Entreat Me Not" and "The Lord's Prayer."

THE BRIDE chose a floor length gown of peau de soie and imported tulle, fashioned with an antebellum look with the sweep skirt of tulle accented by tiers edged in bands of peau de soie. The watteau train of peau de soie was attached to a separate jacket designed to give an empire look to the bodice.

The silk illusion bridal veil, ballerina in length, was held by a flat peau de soie bow, and the bride carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

THE BRIDAL attendants were all gowned alike in royal blue Italian silk dresses with bell shaped skirts and carried bouquets of Sweetheart roses, white shasta daisies and delphiniums with ivy garlands.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Samuel Ulmer, the bride's sister of Grosse Pointe, Mich., and bridesmaids were Mary Beth Peil of Davenport, Iowa, Mary Jane Greenwalt of Wilmette and Mrs. Walter Gauger of Arlington Heights.

Donald Deardorff of Lisle served as best man, while Jack Drinkwater of Naperville, Alan Lemons of DeKalb and Thomas Cline of Downers Grove were ushers.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clemens chose a sheath dress of French blue with matching hat and had a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Howell wore a nile green sheath dress, and her corsage was of pink roses.

Following the double ring ceremony a reception was held in the garden of the Clemens home for 350 guests. The newlyweds left for DeKalb the next day and are now at home in an apartment there. (Jenart (S

Durable Camping Gear Lasts Several Years

A satisfactory camping outfit costs about as much as a two-week hotel bill for a family of four at a resort, says E. H. Regnier, University of Illinois rural recreationist. But, if the equipment is durable, you're set for several years. Your main expenses then will be for food and travel to the camp grounds.

Regnier suggests a tarpaulin tent, 10x10 foot umbrella model, to sleep four. If front and side flaps open, the living space is doubled. An umbrella model also gives more head room.

A sewed-in floor helps to protect you from puddles, crawling insects and drafts. One person can put up a pole version in about 10 minutes.

Air mattresses are replacing cots. Surplus stores sell lightweight summer sleeping bags or plastic air mattresses.

To get quick, intense heat for cooking, use a two- or three-burner folding gasoline stove. A folding oven is nice but not necessary. Be sure to carry your cooking fuel in a safety-can.

You will need a steel or cast aluminum skillet for cooking, which may have a folding handle. Plastic dishes are durable and light to pack.

A wooden packing box with a tight-fitting lid that can be buried and covered with leaves will serve as an ice box. Don't forget gas lanterns and flashlights for night.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

A dog has to cut out for the job—be neither too big nor too small—to snare a hare holing up in a hollow log. For a man to snare his prize—a longer life and a fit one—research indicates that the nutrients in the food he eats also may have to be cut out for the job. Too much protein or too little may get in his way.

IN A RECENT symposium on overnutrition, Dr. Elias Halac of the New York University School of Medicine reported results of his research on protein which point toward this conclusion. Animals withstand stress better when their food contains a normal, rather than an exaggerated, amount of protein.

On a normal protein diet, animals were better able to endure exhausting exercise, lack of water, lack of food and water. They lived longer.

And, contrary to many assumptions, extra-large amounts of protein offered no carryover protection for animals who were later deprived of all protein.

MOST AMERICANS get plenty of protein in the food eaten. U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that the average person consumes 30 per cent more protein than the amount recommended by the top nutritionists who make up the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council.

We can easily get the recommended amount of protein each day by eating the good way: 5 ounces of meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dry peas or beans, 2 servings of milk or cheese, 3 servings of vegetables, 6 servings of enriched or whole grain bread or other cereal foods.

The nutritionists continue to emphasize our need to keep a balance among the calorie-carrying nutrients—protein, carbohydrate, fat—if we want to snare our prize, a longer life and a fit one. (SH

WEAR NEW SHEER GUARANTEED NYLON STOCKINGS FOR 2 WEEKS AS A NO RISK TEST

TRIAL PAIR FREE IF NOT DELIGHTED

Pay nothing unless satisfied AFTER wearing one pair! Six pairs will be sent you prepaid. Wear one pair for two weeks. If not delighted, KEEP IT AS A GIFT, return 5 unworn pairs and you owe nothing and you pay nothing.

STYLE NO. 164 FULL FASHIONED SHEER 15 DENIER — SELF COLOR SEAMS

At last! A sheer stocking that will give you longer wear because instead of being knitted with 400, 476, or even 560 needles, it is knitted with 616 needles. Each needle makes a loop or stitch. There are 2½ million stitches in just one pair of these unusual stockings. The closeness of the weave means longer life and better fit.

GUARANTEED 6 MONTHS AGAINST RUNS AND SNAGS

Your cost for all six pairs, AFTER you are completely satisfied with 2-week test is only 6.95 with written guarantee that means if all six pairs run or even snag within six months of receipt, ALL 6 PAIRS WILL BE REPLACED FREE.

SIZES AND COLORS

Sizes 8½, 9, 9½, 10, 10½ and 11. Lengths proportioned to foot size, from 28 inches on size 8½ to 34 inches on size 11. Choice of 3 latest popular colors: "VISTA" a neutral beige; "DUSTY" a fashionable taupe shade; "MORN" a light tan beige. 6 pairs must be ONE size, all one color or two colors, 3 pairs of each color.

LEE COMPANY P.O. Box 486, Arlington Heights, Illinois, Ph. CL 3-2364

Keep Cool...Cook Out With Jewel Beef!

Discover this cool and convenient new way to prepare a real "man's meal" with Jewel's U.S. Choice Blade Cut Pot Roast!

- Keep your kitchen cool—use your outdoor grill
- Keep your pots and pans clean—prepare the whole meal in aluminum foil!

MEAT BUYING TIP:

When buying meat, remember to select a cut that has sufficient fat on it to insure moistness and tenderness. Also look for bright red color and fine texture. You find these characteristics in U.S. Choice Beef—which is all Jewel sells!

HERE'S HOW YOU DO IT:

1. Place Jewel Pot roast on large piece of heavy duty aluminum foil
2. Place uncooked potatoes and onions on top of the roast
3. Season and wrap meat and vegetables in the foil tightly
4. Raise grill as high as possible above the coals
5. Cook over very hot coals approximately 2 hours or 'til tender

Mt. Prospect Teacher Married in Indiana

The happy cry of "school's out, school's out!" meant wedding bells for Miss Melitta Reimann for it was just three days after saying goodbye to her first grade pupils at Lions Park School in Mount Prospect that she became the bride of Richard M. Quinlan in her home town of West Bend. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reimann Sr. of West Bend, the new Mrs. Quinlan and her groom, the son of John V. Quinlan of Green Bay, Wis., will be residing in Florida where they are also honeymooning.

Their wedding took place June 16 in Immaculate Conception Church in a 10 a.m. service performed by Rev. O. F. Ullrich. The double ring service was followed by a reception in the Sliver Shadow Supper Club in West Bend where 50 friends and relatives of the couple greeted them.

FOR HER MARRIAGE she chose a chantilly lace over satin ballerina dress with button back and removable streamered capelet that covered a sleeveless sequin-trimmed bodice. A crown of alencon lace leaves and pearls held her bouffant veil of pure silk illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Fred Reimann Jr. of Mount Prospect in whose home the bride had been residing, was her sister-in-law's only attendant and wore a light blue, embroidered nylon over satin gown and carried a colonial bouquet of pink baby mums. David J. Quinlan, brother of the groom from West De Pere, Wis., was best man and ushers were another brother, Daniel Quinlan of Green Bay and the bride's brother, Hans F. Reimann of Lorain, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and her bridegroom is a graduate of St. Norbert College in West De Pere. (S

Michigan Tourist Expansion Sought

SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH., (UPI)—Gov. John B. Swainson Friday called for an expansion of tourist and recreational facilities in Michigan.

He also asked for funds to establish youth conservation facilities for unemployed teenagers, and camps for juvenile delinquents.

The governor was the keynote speaker at the Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention here.

SWAINSON said Michigan should give top priority to its outdoor resources and increase camp sites in its state parks.

His youth conservation plan is similar to one already advanced by the VFW on the state and national levels, but the VFW proposals do not include provisions for delinquent youths.

Indian Reservation To Offer Homesites

NEOPIT, WIS., (UPI)—About 6,000 acres of Menominee Indian Reservation will be developed for the first vacation homesites in the area.

According to Leo Bodine, president of Menominee Enterprises, Inc., a recently-formed corporation which is handling business affairs for the Menominees, the area will be known as "Menominee Forest Lakes Vacation Land Homes."

WATERFRONT lots on several lakes and along the Wolf River are plotted and under development for approved home building under a 40-year option "Lease-Buy" plan.

Future plans include a golf course, winter ski and ice sports, recreation buildings and playground areas, in addition to hunting, fishing and boating. (T

Traditional Fibers Still Used in Rugs

Three traditional fibers, cotton, wool and rayon, still play an important role in rugs and carpets.

However, whether these fibers will answer your floor covering needs depends on what features you want. Rosemary Bowald, University of Illinois home economist, describes some of the features of each of these fibers.

Cotton is so low in resiliency that it works better in a flat construction, such as a braided rug or a short, high-twist, dense-pile rug than a deep pile construction. Deep, shaggy pile rugs, such as loop throw rugs, mat down at the first footprint. Cotton shows soil easily, but it is easy to clean. To cut down on the soil problem, look for tweedy patterns rather than plain ones.

Cotton, with its virtues of dyeability, inexpensiveness and no pilling, works well in blends with other fibers.

Good-quality wool stands high on the list of rug fibers because of its many desirable qualities, such as resilience and resistance to abrasion. It dyes well in all colors and depth of color. Therefore, fading isn't so much of a problem as it is for some fibers.

One of wool's biggest drawbacks is the likelihood of moth damage. If a rug has a moth-proof finish, be sure that it is guaranteed permanent. Otherwise the finish can be lost in cleaning.

Poor grades of wool and reprocessed and reused wools are much less desirable in quality than good grades of wool and synthetics.

Rayon is a low-cost rug fiber and dyes well. While it has low resiliency, it is slightly more resilient than cotton. It is usually not so durable as cotton, but it can be very durable if used in the larger sized carpet fibers in high-twist yarns and dense-loop pile construction.

Rayon doesn't show soil as easily as cotton and has more luster than cotton. Wear life is much shorter for a rayon rug than for a wool or synthetic one, but on a limited budget and in a lighter traffic area it can be a good buy.

Improved rayons for carpeting are being made by Avisco and other companies. The label should indicate in some manner the improved rayon to distinguish it from regular rayon.

Vacation Days Arrive Again

Problems Crop Up For Vacationers

by BETTY AINSLIE

Vacation days are here again. That wonderful, soft as velvet, time of the year when every family is bursting at the seams to go someplace — anyplace.

Pop would like it to be Yellowstone. With the boys it's a toss-up between Northern Canada and Gettysburg. Di wants water skiing in Northern Wisconsin, and as long as we all can put in our druthers every year, I'd kinda go for a nice quiet ocean trip to Hawaii.

Funny thing though, we're heading for your usual magic spot of peace and quiet. If anyone would have told me we'd actually enjoy going to the same place five years in a row, I'd have declared only idiots spent time and money in exactly the same vacation location. How monotonous to use up those precious two weeks just repeating yourself. But we did, we are, and we will.

WHAT'S MORE, this spot still holding on to the slower pace of the past with a lot of lakes surrounded by a little land keeps drawing us back every year.

But it's this business of getting going that really makes us need the vacation.

A week before the time to leave, Pop is always positive he couldn't leave now — couldn't possibly — what with other men on vacation and things really jumping at the office just now he can't go. Now this happens every year — but we go and on schedule.

Then there is the farming out of the livestock. Who will take the bird, goldfish and dog — and who wants a chameleon? It's a major decision about the dog. We debate again about taking his huge bulk on a 500-mile drive. Where would we put him when there is not even a peep hole left for the inside rear view mirror what with baggage and all piled so high? Anyway the dog always has the fidgets in the car as he figures the worst, like a trip to the vets, when he's actually given the opportunity to put paw to upholstery.

BUT, ON THE other hand, there is his board bill to be faced at vacation's end which is a rather bitter time to settle still another account.

Talk is even mentioned this year about a carrier for the wagon top so Mac might ride in solitary splendor along a small range near the rear window. But we'll leave him at the vet's as usual, it's merely part of going on vacation to yearly figure the pros and cons of taking him along.

We know he'd be a lovable nuisance and besides he's allergic to water and hates baths and boats, has a large bark and gets too friendly with skunks.

With the assorted goldfish, birds and chameleon parceled out to people who are unfortunate enough to be numbered our friends, we're still only partially ready for vacation.

THERE'S WASHING, ironing, packing, lists to make and lose, things to buy, police to call, papers to stop, TV to disconnect, other appliances to pull from the electrical outlets, refrigerator to clean out and set at low, windows to be checked for locks.

The house to clean so the neighbor who is going to take in the mail won't think I'm a sloppy housekeeper. Those extra two slices of cheese, four strips of bacon, one egg, one orange and lemon to give to that same lucky neighbor along with the address and phone number where we can be reached in case of emergency. Remembering to pay the bills that are standard equipment of every month, before we go this time.

Taking along an iron, electric fry pan and this and that to supplement the things in the housekeeping cabin and thanking my lucky stars that towels and linens are furnished so I don't have to pack them.

Comes the night before the five o'clock leaving time in the morning and Pop has the wild assortment of boxes, bags, suitcases, bundles and packages spread over the garage floor. Then starts the general shouting.

"WHAT! AREN'T you taking the stove and refrigerator this year?" and "Everything, and I mean everything has to be packed tonight, it will take a mathematical genius to get it all in" and "Did you really leave anything in the house?"

You'd think with many years at the game packing would become easier, but it doesn't. The kids just grow bigger and need more room. Pop has just as much trouble getting fishing equipment, boxes, beach toys, life preservers into the same space every year.

Have learned a few things though which might help you to a happier vacation.

1. Notify the police as to the time and length of your vacation, they'll keep a closer watch on your house if they know you are not there. Some friends of ours returned to their home in another suburb after a three weeks vacation in Florida to find their house completely empty of furniture.

BECAUSE THEY had not notified the police or the neighbors no one thought anything about a moving van in the drive which leisurely emptied the house of all furniture. A moving van in your drive couldn't get to first base if your neighbors and police are informed of your plans.

2. Make a list which can be firmly attached to the calendar or bulletin board in the kitchen so items can be checked off as soon as they are packed or bought. This way you won't be apt to lose the list or forget anything.

3. Include one sweater per person along with the summer jackets and then you are ready for any weather changes from cold to hot.

4. Have the car checked, greased and oiled several days before you leave and save all the rush at the last minute.

5. Start placing clothes out on the dresser tops several days in advance and don't do as I do and take far too much every time. Nearly every town has a coin laundry if you run short of clean clothes and you'll need some fresh things when you return home anyway.

6. A FOOT locker or flat bedding box is wonderful for packing clothes for several boys. They are longer and give added length for pants to arrive without creases.

7. Remember a radio, deck of cards and a favorite game or two for days that might be drippy.

There's the final straw hat that must go, the train case with curlers and assorted beauty aids for daughter, pillows that each must have for softening the long ride, the package of comics — Mad magazines — deck of cards and books all shoved before Pop's sleepy eyes at five the next morning.

Well when we all join that 30 million expected to hit the vacation road this summer maybe this year for once I can relax and know I did pack the right things — actually we always bring everything so how could we forget anything. So happy vacation to you too.

Room Shortage At Seattle Fair

by JEANNE WELCH

Reading in a recent issue of "Go," a British travel magazine, a rather petulant account of petty annoyances encountered by the writer in a country inn, I was reminded I want to include in this column, where indicated, the cons as well as the pros of traveling for fun.

As every traveler knows, one does experience poor service, below par accommodations, bad food and other annoyances while traveling. It is the function of the travel reporter, I believe, to report on such, as well as on the dream trip where one is served by genies and the food is ambrosia.

THIS LEADS, not at all coincidentally, into a mention of a rather serious booboo on the part of the planners of the Seattle Fair. Seems somebody forgot to count the guest rooms before they planned the party!

In other words, room facilities in the Seattle area are proving, according to reports, inadequate for the crowds of fair visitors.

If you're planning on being in the Seattle area this summer better be sure you know in advance where you are going to sleep at night. One way would be to investigate the travel agents who offer package tours. They made hotel reservations long ago and may have a few openings left.

I WAS delighted to learn that one of my favorite hotel men, Nick Bicking, now has his own hostelry, the Harbour Inn at Harbor Springs, Michigan, in the Petoskey area, I missed the opening festivities on June 15, but am looking forward to a visit to Harbour Inn soon. The quiet, unobtrusive, but superlative Bicking-style service can be mighty habit-forming.

The Petoskey area, as many of you know, is a beautiful part of a beautiful state, and I expect to find much of interest there to report to readers.

Recent talk regarding tax cuts revives the hope for the elimination of the travel tax, a war time measure which should have been rescinded long ago. Perhaps next summer's vacation dollar will go a little farther, sans tax.

GOING TO Washington, D.C., New York and/or Boston? Eastern Airlines recently carried the millionth passenger on its air-shuttle service between Boston-New York, New York-Washington and return. Flights leave those three cities every hour on the hour from 7:00 a.m. to 10 p.m. The Boston-New York flight takes only 67 minutes. Wonder if Eastern has found any daily commuters among its customers. Vacationers wanting to include any two, or all three, of those cities on their jaunts should find this service very handy.

Ask your nearest American or Pan American ticket office for a copy of the new 12-page Caribbean guide, issued in conjunction with the Air & Marine Travel Service. It features "plan-it-yourself" tours to Haiti, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Trinidad and other lazy sun-soaked vacation isles. The illustrations will set your toes to itching, and costs are not as high as you might think. For instance, a two-week Jamaica-Haiti-Puerto Rico holiday is just $256 per person based on twin-bed hotel rates, and includes most meals.

Here's Sunday Supper Special That's Tops

BARBARA GUTZMAN helps her mother, Mrs. Douglas F. Gutzman of Arlington Heights, pour a rich cheese sauce over tempting Open Face Crab Sandwiches. This is one of this good cook's favorite recipes for luncheons or Sunday night suppers. (SH

by LOIS SEILER

Nice for luncheons or Sunday night suppers is the Open Face Crab Sandwich with Cheese Sauce being featured today.

The recipe has been shared with us by Mrs. Douglas F. Gutzman of Arlington Heights, and it is one of her year 'round favorites.

Simple to prepare, Mrs. Gutzman combines crabmeat with sauteed onions and green pepper. She heaps this mixture on toast and pours a hot cheese sauce over all.

"I've found that Stouffer's frozen Welsh Rarebit is as tasty as any homemade cheese sauce and a real time and work saver," Virginia Gutzman said. She garnishes the tasty sandwiches with crisp bacon strips, and serves a tossed salad as an accompaniment. A white wine is appropriate to serve with this appealing luncheon fare.

An active member of the Eli Skinner chapter of DAR, Mrs. Gutzman is a past regent and vice-regent of this organization and is now state chairman of Good Citizen Girls. She also belongs to the Northwest Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary and devotes one day a week to working at the hospital as a "Pink Lady."

The Gutzmans live at 344 S. Windsor Drive. They have one daughter, Barbara Lynn, 17, who is a high school junior.

OPEN FACE CRAB SANDWICH WITH CHEESE SAUCE

1 large can crabmeat
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon grated onion.
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
1 package Stouffer's Welsh Rarebit (or your own favorite cheese sauce)
6 slices bacon

Saute onion and green pepper in butter. Add crabmeat and stir over low heat until warmed through.

Prepare toast. Heap crab mixture on the toast. Heat Welsh Rarebit according to package directions. Pour over the sandwiches. Top with crisp bacon strips.

Serves 3. (SH

Salad Hint

The simple salad dressing is so often the best. Just toss chilled, dry salad greens in Spanish olive oil until satiny coated, sprinkle with a third as much wine vinegar, add salt and pepper and your favorite dried herb rubbed between the fingers to a powder.

Toss again and serve at once. This is the secret of those superb salads served at top-grade restaurants.

Flavorsome Breads With Gourmet Flair

A special bread, served piping hot, can pick up the most ordinary meal and make it seem to be gourmet fare. Here are two breads with that different touch we are all always looking for.

CINNAMON-ORANGE LOAF

2 (5 ounce) loaves brown 'n serve French bread
1/3 cup soft butter or margarine
½ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup granulated sugar
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ tablespoons orange juice

Cut each loaf of bread diagonally, almost through to bottom crust,into 12 equal-sized slices. Combine butter, brown sugar, granulated sugar, cinnamon and orange juice.

Spread 1½ teaspoons sugar mixture between each slice of bread. String loaves on a long, sharp-pointed skewer, inserting the skewer through the center of each one.

Heat over hot coals, or under a broiler, turning to brown bread on all sides. Yield: 6-8 servings.

ZIPPY HORSE-RADISH LOAF

2 (5-ounce) loaves brown 'n serve French bread
¾ cup soft butter or margarine
3 tablespoons prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¾ teaspoon Tabasco

Cut each loaf of bread diagonally, almost through to bottom of crust, into 12 equal-sized slices. Combine butter, horseradish, Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco. Spread 1½ teaspoons butter mixture between each slice of bread.

String loaves on a sharp-pointed skewer, inserting the skewer through the center of each one. Heat over hot coals, or under a broiler, turning to brown bread on all sides.

Yield: 6-8 servings.

Barbecue Tip

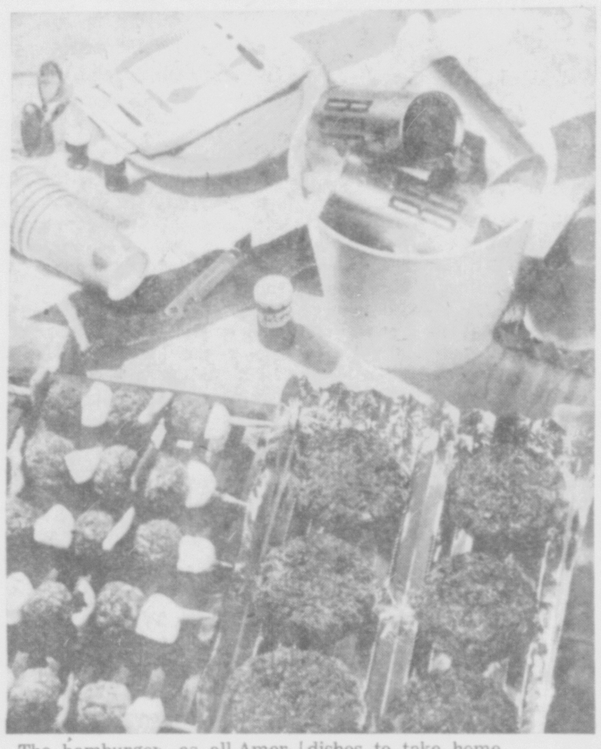
For nice even browning of barbecued meats, brush with Spanish Olive oil before and during grilling. Olive oil clings to the meat better than any other cooking oils and a little goes a long way. (SH

Heavenly Burger 'Bobs' For Fun Under the Sun



The hamburger, as all-American as the ice cream cone and the hot dog, has as many variations as there are sections of the country and then some. Easterners like hamburgers flat and thin, laced with a bit of mustard before broiling. Westerners often add onion and sage and shape the meat into thick cakes, while the South prefers fancier versions redolent of spices and condiments.

HAMBURGERS and picnics have been fast friends for years. A good trick for a picnic or a day in the sun is to season the meat ahead of time with salt, pepper and Ac'cent, shape it into patties, package in suitable aluminum foil, and freeze.

Just before you depart, take the patties out of the freezer — they'll keep cold and fresh until eating time.

When you're ready to cook, bring out the disposable aluminum foil broiler trays to broil the burgers and heat the buns. Serve your hamburgers on paper plates and your beverages in paper cups - no messy dishes to take home.

Another picnic idea is the burger bob, shape meat in balls and alternate with onion and pepper on whittled green sticks. Turn them a few times on the grill, and when done, slide them off the stick into toasted frankfurter rolls.

HEAVENLY BURGER BOBS

1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teasopon pepper
1 large green pepper, cut into pieces
4 small white onions, pared and halved

Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Shake Ac'cent, salt and pepper over entire surface of meat. Toss gently with fork to distribute seasoning. Shape into 12 meat balls.

On each green stick or metal skewer arrange 3 meat balls, 2 pieces of green pepper and 2 halves of onion.

Cook over fire until meat is desired degree of doneness, turning to brown evenly. Yield: 4 servings. (SH

Meat Substitute— Cheese Croquettes

Crisp cheese croquettes provide a welcome change to family or party fare, especially if they are made with sharp Wisconsin natural Cheddar cheese. Rich in high-quality protein, the aged cheese imparts just the right sharpness to this tasty meatless dish.

To make them as tasty as croquettes should be, follow the simple directions given in this Borden kitchen-tested recipe. Serve the croquettes while they are piping hot, surrounding them with cooked green beans. A quick plain or curry-flavored white sauce goes well with the beans.

CHEESE CROQUETTES

(Makes about twelve 2½x1½ inch croquettes)

6 tablespoons butter
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
Dash cayenne pepper
1-1/3 cups homogenized milk
4 eggs, separated
3 cups shredded Sharp Natural Cheddar Cheese
½ cup seasoned bread crumbs

Melt butter in top of double boiler over hot water. Blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually add milk. Continue to cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened.

Pour a little of the hot mixture into the unbeaten egg yolk in a small bowl, stirring vigorously. Add the egg mixture to the hot sauce and stir until well blended.

STIR IN shredded cheese until melted. Remove from heat and stir in bread crumbs. Spread in an 8x10x2-inch pan. Chill thoroughly. Divide mixture into 12 portions. Shape into cones.

Dip into slightly beaten egg whites, then roll in additional bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat at 300°F. (At this temperature a one-inch square of bread browns in 30 seconds.) Drain the croquettes on absorbent paper. Serve piping hot.

Week's Best Food Buys

Independence Day shows its influence on food marts this week. Consumers can help beat the budget by exercising initiative and freedom of choice in store-by-store selectivity.

The University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey notes that general retail price levels on red meats, poultry and eggs, and many produce lines are holding unusually firm, even on traditional holiday movers, irrespective of these supply level conditions:

Wholesale beef generally was weak to lower, except one cent higher on high-demand cookout cuts from loins and hinds. Retails held unchanged.

PORK CLIMBED from ½ cent to 2¼ cents across butts, ribs and loin cuts, sending retails upward except for those few daring stores selecting a few fresh pork items to feature.

Lamb declined at supply levels, retails holding generally firm.

Despite excellent supplies, fryers and turkey retails are unmoved, with just a glimmer of price cracking for eggs here in the light of slashing quotes from eastern markets.

Home-grown produce items are beginning to show in force, enough so to justify more price drops.

MOST MENU budget saving, in view of these conditions, will come from shopping around for "dealer choice" bargains. For the week ending June 30, these possibilities can include:

Meats — beef steaks and ground beef, hams, pork steaks, chops and ribs; poultry — turkey, fryers and large eggs; produce — corn, green beans, cucumbers, carrots, beets, green onions, peppers, local lettuce, blueberries, strawberries, seedless grapes, peaches, oranges, lemons and watermelon.

The July calendar of produce values (* indicates peak supply month) shows a broader range of possibilities:

Fruits — apricots, blackberries, blueberries*, cherries, currants*, gooseberries*, lemons*, limes*, nectarines*, peaches, plums, raspberries*, strawberries. Melons—cantaloupe, crenshaws, Persians, watermelons*.

Vegetables — beans, beets, corn, cucumbers, kohlrabi, lettuce, okra*, green onions*, peppers, radishes, Swiss chard and tomatoes.

TOMATOES are a first-of-the-month problem, though, available supplies rated high priced for generally poor quality.

Fresh pork recorded the most common retail price gain for the week. Without promotional concessions expect spareribs tagged up to 59 cents, rib end roasts 45 cents, loin end roasts 59 cents, center chops 95 cents. Bacon ranges higher. Hams at wholesale are ranging higher, but stores that booked early hold the larger sized from 29 cents for shank and 39 cents for butt halves.

Fryers continue to show competitive tags ranging 27-35 cents, turkeys 35-45 cents, and large grade A white eggs 39-47 cents.

Olive Oil High In Vitamin E

One of the "purest" foods in the kitchen is virgin olive oil—the only edible oil which does not have to be put through a refining process. The Spanish Olive Oil Institute points out that because the virgin oil does not need to be refined, it retains all the natural vitamin and mineral content.

Olive oil is particularly high in vitamin E, laboratory tests have revealed. Those oils with a greenish tinge also contain considerable chlorophyll.

Scrambled Eggs Spanish Style

An impromptu summer lunch for two can be served in a few minutes when eggs are scrambled the Spanish way. Saute a few chopped scallions and 1/3 of a chopped green pepper in 2 tablespoons of Spanish olive oil until limp, but not browned.

Add three eggs which have been mixed lightly with a fork. Season with salt and pepper and two or more tablespoons of tomato sauce. Stir lightly with a fork, lifting to the center as the eggs cook. Serve at once. Overcooking spoils color, texture—and flavor!

OPTIONAL TEES give this picturesque seventeenth hole on Medinah's Number Three lengths varying from 170 to 232 yards — but it is all carry over a lake to the most difficult putting green on the course.

NUMBER THREE'S second hole is another one of those difficult par-three's featuring a rugged carry over Lake Kadijah.

TYPICAL OF MEDINAH'S tree-lined fairways is the 450-yard par-4 fourth where the drive must be pinpointed to get the preferred approach to the tightly-guarded green perched atop a high plateau.

Action Begins in 59th Western Open

Sports

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

ARNOLD PALMER, THE GENERALLY-recognized king of professional golf, and Jack Nicklaus, who is rapidly growing in stature as the number one challenger to that title, will resume their dramatic feud at this week's 59th Western Open tourney at Medinah Country Club.

Nicklaus, the newly-crowned National Open champion, joins Palmer, the defending Western Open titlist, as co-favorite when the firing begins this morning (Thursday) on Medinah's rugged Number Three course.

The two sharpshooters will head an impressive list of entrants, who have bravely accepted the challenge of old Number Three. In the field will be all 30 of the top 30 money-winners on the pro circuit this year.

ARNOLD PALMER

The field also includes the top 12 finishers in the recent USGA Open and many of the finalists in last week's Eastern Open.

Having recently decisioned Palmer in their drama-packed playoff at the conclusion of the regulation 72 holes for the National Open title, Nicklaus has his sight trained on relieving Palmer of the Western Crown. Palmer topped the field in the 1961 Western at Blythefield Country Club in Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Western will mark Nicklaus' competitive debut as the new national champion. The 22-year-old power hitter from Columbus, Ohio, by-passed the Eastern Open at Baltimore last week in order to take a one-week rest before returning to action at Medinah.

Nicklaus will be making his second appearance in a Western Open. He competed in the 1959 championship at the Pittsburgh Field Club, and was the low amateur.

If Nicklaus succeeds in capturing the Western Open, he would become the first player in 52 years to hold both the Western Open and Western Amateur crowns at the same time. Chick Evans last did it in 1910.

Nicklaus won the 1961 Western Amateur in New Orleans and the '62 Amateur will not be played until next month.

Palmer will be competing in his sixth Western Open. In 1955, his first season as a pro, he tied for 16th. In 1957 he failed to survive the 36-hole cut, and in 1958 he tied for seventh.

The last two trips saw Palmer a leading contender from the start. He lost the 1959 event by a single stroke to Mike Souchak as he missed a 23-inch putt on the final green which would have forced a playoff.

In 1961, Palmer led or shared the lead in every round, eventually nipping Sam Snead by two strokes at the finish.

An ironic twist to the impending duel between Palmer and Nicklaus is the fact that the two professionals have been paired together as roommates.

The 12 leading finishers in the National Open, all of whom will compete in the Western, were Nicklaus, Palmer, Phil Rodgers, Bobby Nichols, Gay Brewer, Gary Player, Tommy Jacobs, Gene Littler, Billy Maxwell, Doug Ford, Art Wall and Doug Sanders.

Among other top touring pros on the 1962 money list entered at Medinah are Billy Casper, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Rosburg, Bruce Crampton, Bob Goalby, Mike Souchak, Dave Ragan, Jay Hebert, Lional Hebert, Johnny Pott, Joe Campbell, Don January and George Bayer.

In fact, the field will contain the winners of all 24 tournaments held on the PGA circuit this year with but one exception —Bo Wininger, who captured the New Orleans Open in one of his few tournament appearances.

AMONG THE WIDE RANGE of specialized facilities that have been installed along the periphery of Number Three for this week's Western Open is a mobile service unit trailer from the office of the Secretary of State Charles Carpentier.

The mobile unit will be on hand at Medinah for the convenience of those visitors who wish to renew their drivers licenses, obtain applications for license plates and to receive information pertinent to the various services performed through the office of Secretary Carpentier.

Paddock-Triangle Headliner

Deadline for Derby Entries Nears; Event Slated July 8

Roller skating history will be made Sunday, July 8, when the First Annual Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby is staged along the rough pavement of Northwest Highway.

Scheduled to cover 26 miles from Arlington Heights to Pepper Road, beyond Barrington, and back, the roller skating headliner is co-sponsored by Triangle Roller Rink and Paddock Publications in cooperation with J. J. McCleverty of the traffic safety division of the Cook County highway department.

Also cooperating will be the Illinois State Police and the police departments of Arlington Heights, Palatine, and Barrington.

A world's record is assured in the unique event with the first man crossing the finish line setting a standard for competitors to shoot at in future races.

THE EVENT will begin at 10 a.m. with a celebrity on hand to start the competitors. A female celebrity will present the trophies and medals.

The three handsome trophies, now on display at Krause-Kehe on Campbell and Dunton Streets in Arlington Heights, will be presented to the three winners with medals to all finishers in the 26-mile spectacular.

Only eleven days remain for filing applications in the Roller Derby. A filing fee has been arranged by the promoters with an entry fee of $4 on all applications received or postmarked prior to 12:01 a.m. July 3, 1962.

Thereafter, the fee will be $6.00 and applications will be accepted until one hour before the race time which will be 10 a.m. Sunday, July 8.

THE RACE is open to members of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association with an age limit of 16 and up. Anyone who has an amateur card with the RSROA is eligible.

Four sets of judges will be on hand at the Roller Derby. There will be the starting officials at the Triangle Roller Rink in Arlington Heights, the route judges who will be stationed along Northwest Highway, monitors who will go with the race, and the finish judges and timers.

The highways will be patrolled and escorted.

FREE SETS of wheels and a training track are provided all entries with the track located on the parking lot west of Triangle in Arlington Heights.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Roller Derby should contact Abe Linderman at CLearbrook 5-3316. Applications may be picked up at the Triangle Roller Rink, 1000 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

WORKING OUT IN preparation for the First Annual Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby on Sunday, July 8, are Curt Sexton of Barrington, Loy White of Mount Prospect, and Mike Sexton of Barrington. A training track is provided on the parking lot west of the Triangle Roller Rink in Arlington Heights. Only eleven days remain for filing applications in the First Annual Paddock-Triangle 26-mile race.

Twin-Bill Sunday

Pro Sport Registers Second Victory, 8-3

Exhibiting another robust offensive attack, Pro Sport Center hammered Calumet Park Sunday afternoon, 8-3, to remain unbeaten in the John L. Sullivan baseball league.

Coach Dave Lynk's entry, author of an impressive 11-8 victory over Morgan Park in the season opener, erupted for four runs in the first two frames and then coasted in with the decision.

Seeking its third and fourth straight victories, the Pro Sport Center aggregation will journey to Harvey, Ill. Sunday for a league twin-bill. In the opener the locals will battle the Harvey Cab Co. at 12:30 p.m. with a contest against R & V Tires of Harvey winding up the afternoon.

MARK THORNE, Don Schaeffer, and John Oberg toiled on the mound for Lynk's crew Sunday with Thorne, a fast-balling southpaw, picking up the victory on the strength of a brilliant six-inning stint.

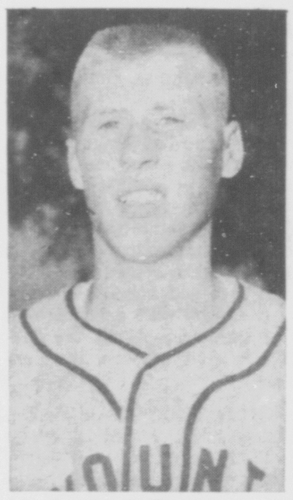
A sophomore at Bradley University in Peoria and former Prospect High School standout, Thorne allowed only four scattered hits over his six innings of work. He struck out eight before giving way to Schaeffer in the seventh.

Don worked the seventh and eighth and was tagged for three runs and two hits. Oberg finished up and yielded a leadoff single in the ninth before retiring the next three batters.

PRO SPORT opened its scoring in the first on an error, hits by Dan Vittum and Gene Dahlquist, and fielder's choice. Three more came across in the second on five safeties.

Fred Empkie singled to lead off the stanza and stole second. Jerry Dixon, Thorne, Fred Lussow and Dahlquist also delivered base hits with Empkie, Larry Webber, and Thorne counting.

In the fourth the locals pushed over two more on three hits. Lussow started things off with his second hit, a single, and Vittum also came through with a base knock. With one out John Lind crashed a triple that brought in two more markers.



MARK THORNE

DIXON AND Thorne scored in the fifth with the aid of only one base hit, Lussow's third single. The Calumet Park pitchers settled down after the fifth and shut out the locals over the final three frames with Lind's eighth inning safety the only base hit.

Thorne scattered four hits over his six innings of work, allowing single safeties in the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth.

Golf Meet Scheduled

The Mount Prospect Jaycees will again sponsor their annual Junior Golf tournament on Monday, July 9, at the Mount Prospect Country Club.

Bruce Rasmussen, pro at the club, is chairman of the event, and he urges all Class C members of the Mount Prospect Country Club to enter the event.

All boys between 14 and 21 are eligible to enter the tournament. They should contact Rasmussen at CLearbrook 9-4200.

Nation's Best At Medinah

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

For Chicago area golf fans, this is it!

Professional golf's star-studded tournament troupe will offer its only presentation to be staged in this area this season in honor of the 59th anniversary of the Western Open.

The four-day extravaganza, which will be enacted over the scenic terrain of Medinah Country Club's Monster, Number Three, will debut shortly after dawn this morning (Thursday) and will continue through Sunday.

A field of 131 professionals and six amateurs will be gunning for the Western crown and an extremely generous cash reward. The tournament carries a net worth in excess of $50,000.

THE FIRST THREESOME is scheduled to blast off the first tee at approximately 8 a.m. today. The remainder of the field will take their first swing at regular intervals until the final group goes off at 2:16 p.m.

A similar schedule is planned for Friday's second round.

At the conclusion of the second round, the field will be chopped down to the leading 75 professionals and any amateurs who might be included within that range.

Another reduction will take place after the 54th hole, thus limiting Sunday's competition to the 50 leading pros and, once again, any amateurs that might be included in that span.

SATURDAY'S and Sunday's field may exceed the prescribed limits, however, should a tie occur for the final qualifying position.

Medinah's Number Three Course truly deserves its affectionate nickname, "The Monster." The championship course, which has served as the site for professional tournaments since 1929, has been stretched to a gruelling 7,110 yards.

Number Three plays to an exacting 36-35—71 par, a standard which promises to provide many a frustrating experience for even pros of the stature of Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Tourney Facts

Medinah Country Club is located on Medinah Road between Lake Street (US 20) and Irving Park Road (Ill. 19). Medinah Road is one mile west of Rohlwing Road (Ill. 53).

Daily admission tickets may be purchased at the gate on each day of the tournament for $5 per session.

SPEAKING of Palmer and Nicklaus, those two illustrious gentlemen rank as the golfers to beat. Palmer will be shooting for his second consecutive Western title, having captured the top prize at Grand Rapids, Mich., last summer.

Palmer won with 271 on rounds of 65, 70, 67 and 69 as compared to Snead's 72-hole total of 273. Palmer led, or shared in the lead throughout the tournament.

This year's scores do not figure to be that low, however. The last time the professional tour stopped at Medinah was to contest the 1949 USGA National Open.

DR. CARY Middlecoff walked away with that coveted prize, and yet he finished with a two-over-par 286 for the 72-hole tourney. Middlecoff shaded Sam Snead and Clayton Heafner by a single stroke, but had to establish a course record of 67 in the process.

Several Outfits Still Unbeaten In Arlington's Baseball Program

A host of classy clubs have been turning in sparkling performances each week in the extensive Arlington Heights Little League program.

With the season already several weeks old there still are some outfits that have yet to taste defeat in 1962.

The Orioles of the South Varsity League rolled along unbeaten in their first six tests. The Bears of the Senior League have only a tie marring their record in nine encounters.

In the National League the Braves have been red-hot with an 8½-½ standard. And how about those Royals in the Southwest Intermediate with just one tie — on an otherwise perfect record?

ANOTHER BUSY week of action found its way into the record book as the weatherman gave almost complete cooperation for the second straight week. He did cause some trouble Saturday with a morning shower.

In the South Varsity League the Orioles posted their fifth and sixth straight decisions with victories over the Wildcats and Phillies.

Jim Bressler was the winner in the 10-5 conquest of the Wildcats with Jim Swanezy slamming a homer for the victors. Bill Disbrow received credit for the decision as the Orioles bombed the Phillies 18-4. Steve Ewart blasted a homer and Rick Garrity a triple for the winners.

THE PHILLIES edged the Rams 5-4 with Guy Pasvogel besting Jim Donchess, and Tom LeStarge pitched a brilliant one-hitter, striking out 16, as the Redwings blanked the Knights 2-0. Ernie Lockwood turned in a solid effort for the losers, allowing only two hits and striking out 12.

Gary Bozee fanned nine and yielded just two safeties in the Redwings' impressive 4-0 conquest of the Wildcats. Tom LeStarge had a double and home run for the winners. Jim Cronin bested Dave Lockwood in the Rams' 5-4 win over the Knights.

In the Senior League the Browns toppled the Redlegs 4-2 behind the mound work of Rick Hoppe who fanned 14, and the Bears slapped down the Indians 8-4. Jim Kroll was the winner in the Indians' 6-1 decision over the Lions.

IN A PITCHERS duel Ray Dix topped John Brunner and the Bears blanked the Hawks 2-0. Jeff Brune tossed a one-hitter as the Hawks whipped the Browns 5-1.

The Redlegs and Indians battled to a 3-3 deadlock while Barry Tossi picked up the decision in the Bears' 9-7 triumph over the Lions. The Bears bumped the Indians 8-3.

In the National League the rampaging Braves made the Cardinals their latest victim with John Vetter topping Chip Blassey 7-3. Big guns for the Braves were Scott Guilfoil with two doubles and a single and Bob Hecht with a two-run homer. Steve Shawhan, who turned in a strong relief stint for the losers, had a single and homer.

IN A WELL-PLAYED game the Angels and Pirates battled to a 1-1 tie. Highlight of the encounter was a triple plus two singles by Bill VonBeckman who now has seven straight hits in two games.

Slamming out 17 hits and scoring in every inning, the Cubs bumped the Dodgers 21-2. Frankie Nastal and Gary Cobe slapped home runs for the Cubs with Bob Gunnison the winning pitcher.

Exploding with 11 runs in the first three innings, the Angels coasted to an 11-2 triumph over the Cardinals. Gary Kehe recorded an impressive mound performance and also chipped in with a four-bagger.

GUMZ PITCHED a no-hitter as the Cubs handled the Twins 6-1. The single run scored in the third on two walks and two infield outs. Frankie Nastal, Bob Gunnison, Gumz, and Gary Cobe had triples.

The Twins unloaded a 14-hit attack and crushed the Giants 14-1. Scott Pregent blasted a triple and double and also gained the pitching decision. Scoring five runs in the fifth with the aid of four errors, the Giants edged the Dodgers 10-7. Bob Edgerton was the winning hurler with Jim Dahl slapping a triple.

In the Southwest Intermediate the Huskies scored in every frame and whipped the Marlins 10-7. Scott Butler and Lee Howard cracked homers to spark the winners, and Bob Stigger keyed the loser's at-

THE ROYALS rolled on with an impressive 6-4 victory over the Solons as Tom Swanson bested Fred Stern. A triple by Swanson and double by Dan Schoepke were the extra base blows.

The Terriers came up with four runs in the fifth inning and stopped the Barons 6-4. R. J. Collins of the Terriers had a perfect day at the plate with three hits and was the winning pitcher.

Tallying two runs in the sixth inning, the Solons edged the Barons 11-10 with Tom O'Hara the winner. Billy Hall cracked a home run.

THE MARLINS came up with eight runs in the first inning and then held on for a 11-4 victory over the Terriers. Mark Stahl was the winner with John Huter tagged with the setback.

In the Northwest Intermediate League the Pioneers rocked the Celtics 13-2 with Don Spink

the winner. Backed with a 16-hit attack, Kevin Cunningham pitched the Broncs to an effortless 17-6 decision over the Redbirds. Walt Mustain and Kevin Cunningham had two doubles each for the winner, and Mike Elwart slapped a double and triple for the Redbirds.

The Saints clobbered the Tripletts 14-3 as Tom Stefanik twirled a neat game, allowing only five hits. Craig Deehring had a home run.

IN THE league's key game the Comets whipped the Lancers 13-0 with Ken Koeneman and Kevin Johnston contributing some clutch hitting. Koeneman had a home run and double for his day's work. Jeff Spindler was the winning hurler.

Scoring all their runs in the first three innings, the Comets hammered the Broncs 10-2 with Jeff Spindler enjoying quite a day. In addition to claiming the mound decision, Jeff also rapped two home runs. Bob Bebber had a homer and double.

Scoring three runs in the home half of the sixth frame after falling behind by two in the visitor's half, the Saints shocked the Lancers 8-7. Jim Bayert, the winning pitcher, knocked in the winning run with a double. Todd Shumate had a perfect day with four hits for the Saints, and Tom Lightner slammed a double and triple for the Lancers. Ken Meyer rapped a crucial home run.

IN FINAL first half action from this league the champion Comets rocked the Redbirds 11-4 with Ken Koeneman supplying the long blow, a home run. The Tripletts bumped the Celtics 8-3 with Allan May homering for the losers. Craig Deehring was the winning pitcher.

In the Northeast Intermediate League the Doves bombed the Hornets 13-5 with Jim Phillips and Rick Andrews combining mound talents for the victors.

Second half play found the Bruins blanking the Hornets 7-0 with Randy Bocian the winning pitcher on the strength of a brilliant stint. Randy allowed no hits and fanned 10. He now has struck out 26 and allowed only two safeties in the last 11 innings he's worked.

THE MOHAWKS had their hitting clothes on as they hammered the Colonels 23-9, scoring 10 runs in the first inning and blasting 35 hits over-all. Ron Hull paced the attack with two homers and Warren Johns and Jeff Guttenberger contributed one each.

Jim Phillips bested Ricky Parkin as the Doves whipped the Mounties 14-6. Rick Andrews and Bruce Boult had homers for the winners and Wayne Pifat slapped one for the Mounties.

Rick Kowall was the winner as the Hornets edged the Colonels 9-5, scoring seven of the runs in the first two innings, and the Mohawks stopped the Doves 6-1 with Bruce Mueller tossing a two-hitter. Ron Hull continued his heavy hitting with a home run.

The Bruins and Mounties battled to a 7-all deadlock, each coming up with single runs in the sixth.

IN THE NORTH Varsity League the Eagles edged the Vikings 7-6 with three runs in the sixth. Ray Kleinhuizen was the winning pitcher and loser's Tom Lundstedt had two doubles. Rick Kanak cracked a triple for the Eagles.

John Loughman fanned 12 as the Falcons rolled past the Raiders 20-8. Collecting home runs were Loughman, Brian Harvey, Ray Koss, and Howard Jarvis.

Dave Soderberg worked on the mound and was backed with an impressive attack as the Generals routed the Pelicans 15-3, and Bob Loner drove in five runs with a homer and two triples in pacing the Vikings to a 5-4 win over the Pelicans.

IN AN EXCITING affair the Vikings and Generals battled to a 12-12 deadlock with eight runs coming across in the seventh inning. Bruce Holst of the Vikings had a triple and home run, and Doug McDonald rapped a homer. Ralph Elwart and Ebel slapped triples.

Tom Daly scored the winning run as the Eagles slipped by the Falcons 3-2. Tom got on via a walk, stole second, and rode home on a passed ball. Van Ostermick was the winning pitcher, striking out 13, with Jerry Donahue tagged with the loss.

In first half action in the American League the Athletics rocked the Yankees 17-2 with Tom McDonald the winning pitcher. Tom also cracked out a home run.

STEVE STRATTON was the winner in the Tigers' 3-1 victory over the Senators. Chuck McMillan had a home run for the victors.

Tom Epperly bested Bill Schaefer in the White Sox's 9-1 triumph over the Red Sox. Schaefer hit a homer and Jim Chalifoux and Tom Glackin had Steve Whitter got the win and also had a home run. Tim Dolan chipped in a four-bagger for the Stars.

IN SECOND HALF action the Stars edged the Chargers 8-7 with Don Mead the winner. Tim Dolan hit two grand slam homers for hitting honors.

Scoring three runs in the third inning, the Seals slipped by the Rangers 10-9. John Schroeder was the winning pitcher, and Steve Whittier cracked a three-run homer.

The Dons came up with five runs in the fifth inning and dumped the Ravens 9-5. Frank Lentine was the winning moundsman with Vess Duro slamming a homer for the losers. Mike Cox had a triple and double for the victors.

NICK ISAACS hit two grand-slam homers to spark the Ravens to a 16-12 victory over the Stars. Nick also contributed a bases-loaded double and drove in ten runs for one of the Little League's top offensive performances of 1962. Tim Dolan and Barry Clark also hit homers with Clark's coming with the sacks jammed.

Earl Lasworth bested Scott Griffith in the Rangers' 11-2 victory over the Dons.

In the Northeast Juniors League the Sox stopped the Gulls in the first half competition 9-7 with Steve Balinski the winner.

STEVE RADCLIFFE singled in Jack Jenkins with the winning run as the Gulls edged the Millers 3-2. Jenkins had sin-

Nancy Dorsch, 6, of Mount Prospect; Rick Casares, National Football League standout with the Chicago Bears and owner of the Rick Casares Pro Bowl in Buffalo Grove; and Sharon White, 5, of Mount Prospect. The Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby is scheduled for Sunday, July 8.

Western Open At Medinah CC

Well, Middlecoff and Snead will join Palmer and Nicklaus at Medinah this morning as will most of golfdom's big names. All 30 of the leading 30 pros on the PGA circuit this year will be on hand. Also included are all but one of the 24 PGA tournament champions of 1962.

Nicklaus is regarded as professional golf's rising young star. A member of the PGA tour since January, Nicklaus is best remembered for his dramatic victory over Palmer in a playoff for the National Open title two weeks ago.

NICKLAUS, a former NCAA champion from Ohio State University, automatically qualified for the Western Open by winning the 1961 Western Amateur at New Orleans, La.

Ironically, Nicklaus and Palmer have been paired off in the same threesome for Thursday and Friday, per a blind draw conducted by the PGA. That threesome will tee-off at 9:52 a.m. today.

Another golfer figuring prominently in the pre-tourney calculations is battle-hardened Doug Ford. Ford, who won the Western in '57, picked up $5,300 for his victory in last week's Eastern Open at Baltimore.

THOSE WHO so desired sampled the horrors of Number Three earlier in the week and, although the results are insignificant, Nicklaus turned in the best practice round—a one-under 70.

The husky youngster gave the late afternoon gallery a sample of his highly-regarded driving prowess Monday with a couple of 300-yard-plus blasts.

Other practice scores included approximate 73's by Dow Finsterwald, Jack Fleck, Lloyd Mangrum and Dean Refram. Refram, who bases his operations at Medinah, virtually grew up on Number Three.

Three Teams In Tie

The men's softball league in Mount Prospect swings into the final round of play in the first half with three teams tied for first place.

In Monday night's action Jake's Pizzeria held on to an early lead to down Wille's Tavern 13-11. A last inning home run boosted Stan's Standard to a 22-19 win over Mount Prospect Bank.

Pro Sports Center beat Mount Prospect Lanes 17-14, while Golden Point eased by Weber Marking System 22-3.

Get Entry Blanks Now For Jamboree

The First Annual Arlington Heights Junior Sports Jamboree, a track and field program, will be held Saturday, July 21, at Arlington High School for boys and girls ages 10 to 15.

The Jamboree is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Arlington Heights in cooperation with Arlington High School.

All boys and girls in the community who will be at least 10 years old and no more than 15 by August 18, date of the state finals, will be eligible to enter. Competition will be in three divisions: Midget (10-11); Junior (12-13) and Intermediate (14-15).

ENTRY BLANKS may be obtained from the park district offices at either Recreation Park or Pioneer Park or by Writing Randy Thomas, 103 W. Ridge, Prospect Heights, Ill.

Entries MUST BE submitted no later than July 14.

The local meet will be held on Saturday, July 21, with a 9:32 a. m. starting time.

The events will be as follows:

Midgets (10-11):

50 Yard Dash, 75 Yard Dash, 220 Yard Relay, Running Broad Jump, and Baseball Throw.

Juniors (12-13):

50 Yard Dash, 75 Yard Dash, 220 Yard Relay, Running Broad Jump and Baseball Throw.

Intermediates (14-15):

50 Yard Dash, 100 Yard Dash, 440 Yard Relay, Running Broad Jump. Running High Jump, and Baseball Throw.

FIRST PLACE winners in each event will be eligible to compete in the sectional Jamboree at Evanston, August 4.

First place winners in each event—approximately 100 boys and girls from each sectional—will then go to Sterling for the State Finals August 23, 24, and 25 as guests of the Illinois Youth Commission.

Get your entry blanks now. Time is running out.

Bruning Sox Roll to 5th Colt Victory

Mount Prospect's Bruning Sox picked up their fifth straight victory in the North Suburban Colt League last week, sweeping a Sunday afternoon doubleheader from neighboring Prospect Heights and topping their hometown rivals, the Cubs, in earlier action.

The Sox blasted their way to a double win over Prospect Heights, scoring a total of 30 runs in the twinbill.

Al Glover's boys pounded the ball all over the park in the opener, with Dave White collecting a triple and two singles, and Humphrey and Busse combining for six safeties, in pacing a 17-3 decision.

BOB HOPE picked up the win, besting Prospect Heights' Tatge on the merits of a two-hitter.

The second game was another romp for the Bruning Sox, stomping their opponents 13-2.

Backed by heavy hitting, Bill Mutert struck out 11 in gaining the victory. Loser MacKay yielded 13 runs on nine hits and 13 walks.

THE MT. PROSPECT Cubs took both ends of a twilight-night double header from Niles Number 2, nearly matching the run stampede of their cross-town rivals.

Ryan and Beverly homered to pace a 10-hit attack which insured Greg Stevens a 14-2 victory. Stevens allowed only two hits in the affair.

The second game was another walkover for the Cubs, who balanced shutout moundwork and a 9-hit offensive effort to win 9-0.

Winner Cooper gave up only two hits as he whitewashed his opponents behind an extra base hit rush led by Rick Lytle, Tom Clow, and John Stevens.

IN THEIR FIRST meeting of the Colt season, the Sox defeated their local enemies, the Cubs, 8-2.

The contest was a draw through four innings, before the Sox got to loser Burchill for three runs to give Tom Wilkes a lead he never relinquished.

Both Mt. Prospect Colt teams play their home dates at the Prospect High School baseball diamond. Sunday games are scheduled for 2 p.m., and Wednesday evening games for 6 o'clock.

Illinois Falls Behind In Recreation Areas

by WILLIAM FEURER
United Press International

Illinois has dragged its feet in setting aside land for recreational use and is now the worst state in the country in this respect, Conservation Director William T. Lodge said this week.

Lodge urged a crash program during the next 15 years to appropriate $150 million and to acquire "an absolute minimum of an additional 250,000 to 300,000 acres of land in this state."

"We are in a very bad position," he said. "The state of Illinois has the lowest acreage per capita of state-owned land devoted to outdoor recreation of any state in the United States."

HE SAID Illinois has 5.18 recreational acres for each 1,000 residents, compared, for instance, to 25.66 for tiny Rhode Island, 35.83 for California and 191.07 for New York.

This state fares equally bad in comparison with neighboring states: Iowa, 15.20; Indiana, 35.85; Missouri, 50.82, and Wisconsin, 89.73.

"There is more land available for public hunting in the six counties across the south side of Wisconsin than there is in the entire state of Illinois," Lodge said.

ILLINOIS presently has 34,500 acres in state parks and has no supplementary national parks.

Lodge cited two independent reports to support his views.

University of Illinois Professor Philip H. Lewis Jr., in a survey prepared last fall for the State Housing board, said "The total area of state and county parks and forest preserves is less than 150,000 acres.

"Presently publicly-owned regional recreation space meets no more than 60 per cent of minimum standards and less than 30 per cent of short-range standards."

LEWIS pointed particularly to the metropolitan area in northeastern Illinois, where he said only about 75,000 acres are presently available for purchase as potential recreational areas, despite a present need of at least 125,000 more acres. In effect, he said, the state can never catch up in that area.

Another report, prepared by a Chicago engineering firm in connection with the ambitious Fox River Valley project west of Cook and DuPage Counties, concurred.

Pointing to neighboring states, the report said "Both Indiana and Iowa are as "flat and uninteresting as Illinois, but we are way behind them."

THE FOX River report said the lack of recreational land in the Chicago area was "almost entirely due to state inaction."

"Illinois is 52,500 acres behind the minimum goal of 10 acres per thousand people within the 60-mile radius—the goal which the state governments of other great metropolitan areas have set for themselves," the report said. It said Cook County has assumed more than its share of the burden.

Lodge agreed. "We'd be further behind than that if it wasn't for the good job the Cook County Forest Preserve District has done," he said. "They have 46,000 acres in forest preserves."

LODGE BLAMED the problem on a lack of foresight during the past 20 years and lack of money now.

"The 1961 legislature appropriated $500,000 for acquistion of park land and $800,000 for improvements at parks," he said. "We're going to get very little of that because of the state's financial problems. We'll try again next year."

He said state facilities were getting overcrowded in many areas.

"We need more parks and we need better facilities at the ones we've got." Lodge said, "We haven't got a single modern campsite in the state. We ought to have eight or 10 thousand. We had over 300,000 campers at state parks last year alone."

LODGE HAS pinned much of his hope on a special legislative commission scheduled to meet later this summer to look into the need for recreational land and methods of financing.

He said some states have used bond issues while others levy special taxes earmarked for recreational use.

"Personally, I favor an earmarked tax," Lodge said. "That's the way the division of highways does it, and it has worked pretty well. This is a long-range program, too. We have to know how much money to expect. I'm sure that this program will never be carried out unless there is provided some special source of revenue for this purpose."

Lodge mentioned as possibilities a special penny-a-pack tax on cigarettes or an additional one-third-a-cent tax per gallon of gasoline. He said he was recommending neither but was hoping for a recommendation sion, scheduled to report next from the legislative commiswinter.

Tennis Lessons Available in Mount Prospect

During the past two weeks Mount Prospect Park District tennis instructor Chuck Morrison has been giving daily lessons to over 100 children on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and adult women on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at the Lions Park courts.

Dress and equipment include a tennis racket and tennis shoes. Tennis balls are supplied by the Park District.

Morrison is available at the Lions Park courts daily between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon and 1 p.m. and 4 p.m.

The schedule of lessons is as follows:

Monday, Wednesday, Friday:
9 a.m. to 10 a.m.—9 & 10 years
10 a.m. to 11 a.m.— 11 years
11 a.m. to 12 noon—12 years
1 p.m. to 2 p.m.—13 years
2 p.m. to 3 p.m.—14 years
3 p.m. to 4 p.m.—15 years and over

Tuesday, Thursday:
9 a.m. to 12 noon—adult women

A registration deadline has been set for Tuesday, July 3.

Interest has been shown toward an evening program of free tennis instruction for mixed adults and as a result Morrison will be at the Lions Park courts on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Adults interested should meet with him with tennis rackets and tennis shoes.

The Lions Park courts are open for public use from noon until 1 p.m. and after 4 p.m. on weekdays and all day on weekends.

Roller Derby Slated July 8

Following is a complete set of rules as it appears on the entry blank:

1. The name of the race shall be "PADDOCK - TRIANGLE ROLLER DERBY" and shall be approximately 25 miles in distance, on an outdoor, marked route.
2. The race is open to any male who shall have reached his 16th birthday by the time of the race (and be prepared to prove it), and has a valid and current amateur card with the R S R O A.
3. Trophies will be awarded to 1st, 2nd and 3rd place finishers and special awards will be presented to all skaters who finish.
4. The entry fee shall be $4.00 on all applications received or postmarked prior to 12:01 a.m., July 3, 1962. Thereafter, the fee will be $6.00 and applications will be accepted up until one hour before race time which will be 10:00 a.m., Sunday, July 8, 1962.
5. Equipment and dress of the participants shall conform to R S R O A rules of racing. A head covering is suggested but not required and, if worn, must be of a secure fit such as a baseball cap or beret; provided, however, that at no time during the race may an article of dress or equipment be discarded.
6. Tools or parts may not be carried by any skater, unless a part or skate may have broken during the race.
7. There will be two authorized service stations along the race route, with a limited supply of parts and one attendant at each. In the event that service is needed, a racer must go to either station and must at all times be wearing at least one skate.
7a. If in the judgment of the official serviceman, the required service is of such a time consuming nature as would prejudice any other skater waiting for service, then such service may be delayed or refused entirely.
7b. Each racer may have his own serviceman and kit at either or both of the service stations, in which case, 7a above would not apply.
8. Food and drink along the race course is prohibited, except as may be available at the two official refreshment (service) stops.
9. Body contact and/or deliberate blocking (as governed by R S R O A racing rules) is prohibited and any infraction thereof shall subject the guilty party to immediate disqualification.
10. Ground rules for the race will be announced to the skaters ½ hour before the start of the race.
11. In any situation not expressly covered herein or in the ground rules, decisions will be made by the officials of the race, in harmony with rules of good conscience and fair play. In all situations, the decisions of these officials will be final.

Pink Hag Entered In Drag Races Set For Raceway Park

The Pink Hag this week was added to the growing list of entries for the 8th annual National Championship Drag Races slated for Indianapolis Raceway Park, August 31 through September 3.

A product of John Wheeler, an Indianapolis electrician-plumber and avid drag racing enthusiast, the "Hag" is a shocking pink, 1935 Ford Coupe powered by a 1949 Cadillac engine. Wheeler has entered it in Class B Gas competition for the four-day meet which is regarded as the "world series" of drag racing.

This will mark Wheeler's second Nationals appearance with his pink car. He was among the 900 entrants who competed in last year's Big Go at Raceway Park but failed to bring home one of the trophies. In recent trials, however, Wheeler gunned the "Hag" to a 13.20 second clocking for the quarter-mile run which is just a fraction over the existing national record for B-Gas cars.

FIFTEEN states already are represented in the growing list of entries and it is expected that drivers from more than 45 states will file before the entry deadline. The final list is expected to exceed 900, led by entrants from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. Drivers will be competing in more than 60 different competition classes, for more than $30.000 in prizes.

Swaps Handicap at Arlington Saturday

Three promising stakes events, each one designed as a springboard to bigger and more lucrative races to follow, and headed by Saturday's inaugural edition of the $25,000 added Swaps Handicap for sprinters, were on the agenda this week as Arlington Park moved into its second week of racing.

The second stanza of the 12-week summer season began Monday with the second running of the $10,000 added Prairie Beau Stakes for Illinois - bred two - year - old colts and geldings, most of which are eyeing the climactic $25,000 added Abraham Lincoln Stakes on Aug. 6.

Wednesday's attraction was the $15,000 added Miss Chicago 5½ furlongs dash for two-year-old fillies, expected to lure postward Mrs. Russell L. Reineman's undefeated and highly rated Smart Deb, a prep for the rich $50,000 added Arlington Lassie on Aug. 29.

SATURDAY'S 7 - furlongs Swaps salutes the former Rex C. Ellswo champion, the brilliant son of Khaled who along with the classical Nashua reigned as America's top thoroughbreds for several seasons. Doubtless the climax of their campaigns came in late August of 1955 when they clashed in the memorable $100,000 winner-take-all match race at Washington Park, Nashua emerging with the victory.

Swaps turned in some of his greatest performances in Chicago like the day he won the American Derby or the time he ran off with the Washington Park Handicap, both "hundred granders."

The Swaps Handicap points up a galaxy of handicap features here, like the July 21 Equipoise Mile and the Aug. 18 Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap at 1¼ miles. Many of the Swaps starters will also be seeing action in the July Fourth Stars and Stripes Handicap over the colorful grass course.

SWAPS PROBABLES include Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Bensinger's spirited Argentinian, Sensitivo, who finished a whisker short of all the money in last weekend's closing-day Citation Hanicap at Washington Park after setting all the pace in the 1 miles feature.

Mrs. Mary H. Hunter's Bluescope is another Swaps candidate. This one ran off with Balmoral's opening - day Myrtlewood at 6 furlongs, later spread-eagled his field in capturing the one mile Nashua Handicap. Later he was unable to collar Fourth Estate Stable's Editorialist and Mrs. T. C. Christopher's Intervener in a snappy edition of the 6 furlongs Clang Handicap.

Both Intervener, who annexed Arlington's opening-day Meadowland Handicap, and the eccentric Editorialist, are expected to be seen under colors in the Swaps. Fred W. Hooper no doubt will nominate his high octane speedster, Winonly, sprint champion of California this year, for the Swaps here.

In Monday afternoon's Prairie Beau Stakes Bold Bid turned back Bishop's Bond in a virtual two-horse race before 11,599 fans.

The victory gave Bold Bid some revenge for a loss suffered to the same horse in the Illinois Apprentice Stakes at Washington Park. Bishop's Bond had won that meeting by two lengths.

Botn horses are leading candidates for the $25,000 added Abraham Lincoln Stakes on Aug. 6. The Lincoln is restricted to juvenile colts and geldings bred and foaled in Illinois.

Bill Hartack rode Bold Bid to victory. The two horses were only a head apart down the stretch until Hartack clucked to his mount at the wire. Tricky Chance took the show spot, another six lengths off the pace.

Illinois Bell To Service Western Open

Special telephone equipment is all set in strategic locations at Medinah Country club for the Western Open Golf tournament starting today (Thursday).

Over this communications complex scores and other vital information will be flashed to officials strung out over the 7,110 yards, and also across the nation to waiting sports desks.

Illinois Bell Telephone crews have installed 82 special telephones along with buried cable and radio and television circuits. Also ready to lend support in the way of additional phones for the 60,000 fans and newsmen are a mobile telephone center (used for major news events) and 12 portable magneto sets (similar to those used by the army signal corps).

AS THE CREAM of golfdom attempts to dethrone Arnold Palmer, defending champion, golf enthusiasts will crowd every tee and green, watching tensely while the pros cover the grueling 72-hole grind.

"We've taken every precaution to keep any noise, including telephone ringing, from piercing the hushed air," said James Burke, one of a 25-man telephone team assigned to the classic.

"We've installed a red light and silenced the ringer on every outdoor telephone so that we don't disturb or upset the pros while they're playing."

MANY MONTHS of preparation and numerous conferences were held between Illinois Bell representatives and the Medinah Country club management and Western Golf association officials.

Actual telephone work on the grounds started last February.

Newly installed at Medinah is a new type dial switchboard through which 125 extensions dotting the course may be reached. There also are 34 coin phones over which husbands late for dinner may call home to make apologies.

Also on the scene is Illinois Bell's portable microwave tower which will beam the TV signal to the CBS studios in the loop.

ALL EXTREMITIES of the course are covered by telephones, Burke said. Extra operators will be on duty to handle calls.

Jack Bell, head pro at Medinah, had praise for the telephone team working on the project.

"I'm amazed," he said, "with the way the telephone people have cooperated on this event. Their work will help us care for the many needs of the fans, press and players."

Open Doubles Net Tournament Set For Local Courts

On successive weekends the Arlington Tennis Club's Men's divisions beat the Hinsdale and Elmwood Park Tennis Clubs.

The "B" division thus remains undefeated in four matches this year and will face Riverside, Elmhurst, and Des Plaines to conclude their schedule.

The local club's strong depth had been the difference for the B's with only Berwyn forcing Arlington into a close, 4-3 battle. Bob Sir of Mt. Prospect, Clarence Feiereisel of Arlington Heights, and Don Johnson of Elk Grove have contributed heavily in the "B's" victories.

IN THE "A" division the competition each week has been tough and the only easy win was a 7-0 over Elmwood Park last week. Arlington lost to Berwyn 4-3, then turned the tables for a 4-3 win over Hinsdale. Rain has postponed the Wheaton match, and it will be played at a later date.

League play will now be halted for two weeks with two major tournaments coming up. The Open Doubles Tournament, sponsored by the North and West Suburban Tennis League, will be held this Saturday and Sunday with the finals played on July 4.

The Men's Doubles will be held at the Arlington High School courts under the direction of Bob Sir, Arlington's club president. Saturday's matches will start at 9 a.m.

The following weekend, July 7 and 8, the Des Plaines Open Tournament will be held. Following this tournament, Arlington will resume league play as they host Riverside-Brookfield on July 14.

Yankees on Top In Mt. Prospect Pony League Play

Playing contenders in two successive games, the Yankees' "A" team came out on top of the Mount Prospect Pony League with victories over the Cubs and Orioles.

The pace-setters slammed out 17 hits, including home runs by Wilkinson and Mueller, as they downed the Cubs 18-7. LaRocco and Wilkinson turned in solid mound stints and limited the losers to eight safeties.

Tom Corr drove in the winning run in a 6-5 victory over the Orioles with LaRocco picking up the pitching triumph in relief of Snyder. The latter pitched five excellent innings but was forced to the sidelines by the excessive heat.

THE ORIOLES stopped the Cubs 6-2 on Kowal's two-hitter with Erbach and Peterson delivering home runs for the victors. Kowal contributed a triple and Erbach a double in the victory. W. Phillips absorbed the loss.

In a "bobtailed" game called at the end of five innings because of darkness Profita tossed a two-hitter at the Indians as the Orioles racked up a 3-2 decision. O'Keefe was the loser.

Profita homered for the Orioles and Kowal doubled in the home half of the fifth. Greg then stole third and scored the winning run on a wild throw.

O'KEEFE AND C. Peterson each singled for the two hits off Profita.

The Braves' "B" team moved into undisputed first place by downing the Cardinals 8-4 Saturday afternoon at Lions Park. Jim Simoni pitched a four-hitter.

Simoni, Ken Cherwin, Kip Ball, and Ken Vomacka supplied the hitting power while Dave Krueger, Doug White, Don Deyo, and Jim Cherwin sparkled on defense.

Five Clubs Unbeaten In Mount Prospect LL

Five teams still carry unbeaten records after the latest action in the Mount Prospect Little League.

The red-hot Lions are rolling along in the National Majors on the strength of a seven-game win skein, and both the Yankees and Cubs have posted five straight triumphs in the American Minor "A" loop. The Orioles and Tigers are unbeaten in the "B" leagues.

Tightest race is in the American Majors where the top three clubs all have been bumped three times. The Yankees hold a slim half-game lead thanks to one more victory.

IN MAJOR League action the Cardinals came up with eight runs in the fifth inning en route to a decisive 12-4 victory over the Cubs. Mike Balzano was the winning pitcher with Breitman tagged with the loss.

Balzano slapped a home run in addition to his fine mound stint. Johnson and Wendling had four-baggers for the Cubs.

Bach bested Johns as the Tigers handled the Sox 7-3. Muszunski doubled for the losers. In a wild affair the Giants edged the Giants 17-16 after trailing by 6-0, 11-3, and 16-9. Carter got the decision.

SCORING seven runs in the first two innings, the Lions rocked the Orioles 9-2. Bob DeJonge slammed a bases-loaded homer and Mike Ellenberger chipped in with a pair of doubles. Scott Kohlrust was the winning pitcher.

In a game called because of darkness the Cubs edged the Yankees 9-7 with Brettman topping Edwald. Stevens had a home run and Grantham, Johnson, and Schmidt cracked triples.

Mike Balzano hit two home runs but it was to no avail as the Cardinals lost to the Orioles 11-9. For the Orioles French and Gripentrog got the key hits and French turned in a spectacular, clutch catch in center field.

SPARKED BY the hitting of Deyo, Arnold, Rogers, Behrens and Billy Hugo the Yankees whipped the Indians 10-5. Bob Stevens struck out 13 in the decision. Dale Thake sparkled in the infield with an unassisted double play, and Deyo was the big hitter with a homer, double, and triple.

The Cards won their third game by beating the Tigers 13-7. Greg Ryan went the route in gaining the decision. Balzano, Lam, Perrino, and Don wielded the big bats for the victors with the heavy-hitting Balzano collecting his ninth four-bagger. Demment and Dehmzow had home runs for the Tigers.

Coming up with two runs in the top half of the sixth inning, the Senators edged the Cubs 11-10. Hanson went five frames for the mound decision.

IN MINOR League "A" play the Senators clobbered the Braves 19-1 with Casey Rush gaining the decision. The winners scored ten runs in the first, seven in the second, and coasted home with the victory.

The Senators put across six runs in the fifth inning of a 7-2 triumph over the Giants with Dennis Tomkins the winner, and the Cubs clobbered the Orioles 18-5 with Dancer getting the mound victory.

The Cubs tossed away a nine-run lead but came back to rock the Dodgers 25-12. The victors led by counts of 10-1 and 11-2 early in the game but fell behind by one marker when the Dodgers exploded for ten in the fourth frame.

THREE RUNS in the fourth and 11 in the fifth decided the contest for the heavy-hitting Cubs.

Tom O'Malley was the winning pitcher in the Indians' 10-9 victory over the Lions. Orrel cracked a grand slam homer for the Lions in the final frame, but O'Malley settled down and retired the side for the one-run decision. Joe Waldo had a double and home run.

Jim Dencker was in complete control as the Giants rocked the Tigers 15-4. Jim also helped his own cause with a triple and double. The Yankees came up with two runs in the fifth frame and edged the Bruning Sox 7-6. M. Wells had two triples for the Yankees, driving in four runs.

HOPPE WAS the winning pitcher as the Lions edged the Braves 13-10. The Lions rolled up a 9-1 lead in the third inning but had to battle all the way as the Braves came up with six runs in the fourth and three in the fifth. Bob Gordon and Broeren had triples.

The Indians stopped the Tigers 6-1 with Rene DeMent turning in a strong mound effort and also slapping a home run.

Bruce Finch slammed a homer and Dell Kotowski came up with three hits, including a triple, as the Sox buried the Cardinals 16-4. Greg Johns fanned five and allowed only three hits over five innings.

Buhl and Good rapped homers to key the Cubs in a one-sided 13-4 victory over the Cardinals. Weiner was the winning pitcher with Doran absorbing the loss.

THE ORIOLES pasted the Dodgers 16-9 in final action from the Minor League "A" division.

In the American "B" league the Indians routed the Braves 23-12 in a game that saw each team score in each time at bat. The Indians had two big innings with nine in the first and eight in the fifth.

The Tigers remained unbeaten as Billy Grady limited the Senators to six hits in a 6-3 victory. Bill struck out eight, five in the last two innings.

Erupting for 21 runs in the opening stanza, the Giants coasted to a 30-11 victory over the Braves. Artie Hagg had a no-hitter going until the final inning as the Lions rocked the Braves 20-1.

Atkinson Triumphs On Coast

Tom Atkinson, June graduate of Lyons Township High School, LaGrange, captured a first place medal in the broad jump competition at the Third Annual Golden West Invitational track and field meet, held Saturday in the Los Angeles State College Stadium.

Atkinson, who posted a mark of 24-1¼ this spring and was er. Tom won the Illinois broad jump and 100 yard dash, leaped 23-6½ to claim the crown as the nation's best prep broad jumper. Tom won the Illinois borad jump title for three straight years.

The LaGrange graduate, a member of Paddock Publications' All-State track team for three years, will enroll at Wisconsin in the fall.

Clay Courts Test Expected to Draw Record Attendance

Confident officials of the 1962 USLTA National Clay Courts Championships to be held at River Forest Tennis Club July 16-23, predict that the seven-day meet will draw the greatest crowds "in the history" of the event.

Top attraction at the meet will be the presence of the Davis Cup team, competing as a squad. The appearance of team captain Tom Kelleher and his cup squad will insure River Forest a covey of racket stars that make up 11 of the top twelve ranking players, including such names as Whitney Reed and Chuck McKinley.

Thomas Steele, invitation chairman for the annual event, promises that the women's draw will be excellent also.

"I WOULDN'T be surprised to see the entire Wightman Cup team," states Steele.

In addition to the scheduled competition, a tennis instruction clinic will be held for students of the game during the championship week.

Top amateur and Davis Cup stars will be on hand to assist professional coaches in teaching fundamentals and game strategy at sessions beginning at 10:30 a.m. Monday, July 16-Thursday, July 20.

Any boy or girl over nine years of age, in an adult-supervised group of 20 or more, is eligible to attend the meetings.

Mt. Prospect Legion Unit Stands 4-4

Mount Prospect's American Legion baseball team completed another week of Ninth District action with one victory in three outings, squaring its league mark at 4-4 for the 1962 campaign.

The locals clobbered outmanned St. Viator 9-1 but dropped a pair of heartbreakers to Park Ridge and Palatine.

Mount Prospect currently is settled in fifth place in the district scrambling, one full game behind fourth place Arlington Heights. Des Plaines heads the pack with an 8-0 mark and Park Ridge is right behind at 7-1. Palatine rounds out the top three with a 5-2 standard.

COLLECTING eight hits, including a home run by Dennis Riendel, Mount Prospect had little trouble dumping St. Viator. Prospect got two hits and three walks in the second to score three runs and never fell behind.

Bramtner worked on the mound for the locals and pitched a one-hitter, striking out six and walking five. Jeff Haiduke was tagged with the loss.

Score by innings:

|---|---|
| St. Viator | 000 001 0—1-1 |
| Mt. Prospect | 032 202 *—9-8 |

DANNY SCHMITT and Rich McIntyre hooked up in a terrific pitchers duel with Park Ridge finally pulling out a 1-0 decision. Mount Prospect picked up just one safety and Park Ridge collected only two.

McIntyre struck out eight and walked two in claiming the victory. Park Ridge put across the winning marker in the sixth inning.

Score by innings:

|---|---|
| Park Ridge | 000 001—1-2 |
| Mt. Prospect | 000 000—0-1 |

SCORING TWO runs in the top half of the ninth inning, Palatine edged Mount Prospect 13-11.

Prospect had pulled ahead 11-8 with six runs in the home half of the sixth, but Palatine bounced back with a three-spot in the seventh to tie the count.

Jim Donahoe and Tom Dettinger rode home with the getting on with base hits. decisive runs for Palatine after Jerry Locy sparked the Mount Prospect attack with four hits. Bob Geller and Al Bloomquist contributed triples.

Forty-five men reached base in the nine innings.

ABE LINDERMAN (left) of Triangle Roller Rink in Arlington Heights and Greg Lange of the Bobcat Corporation in Wheeling recently checked out "The Bobcat" golf scooters as possible mobile monitors for patrol of the Paddock-Triangle Roller Derby on Sunday, July 8. "The Bobcat," in use now at Arlington Country Club, is the combination of a 3½ horsepower engine, light weight, and with a low center of gravity. The modern golf scooter brings a new look to the game.

Arlington Wins Two More League Games

Four games resulted in two victories, one setback, and a tie as Arlington Heights' American Legion baseball team engaged in another busy week of diamond competition.

Coach Lloyd Meyer's outfit, currently sporting a 5-3 mark in Ninth District action, pasted Holy Cross and Normake in league encounters but fell to pacesetting Des Plaines.

In a non-league test Arlington and Morton Grove battled to a 4-4 deadlock.

THE CONTES with Morton Grove kicked off the week's proceedings with the two clubs battling for seven innings in search of the coveted victory.

Morton Grove scored first, Arlington fought back, and the two units finally wound up with a deadlock. Vince Furlong started on the hill for Meyer's crew with John Lane coming on in relief.

Furlong roqe across with the locals' initial run after doubling to lead off the second. Mike Frase also had a single in that stanza but was cut down trying to steal.

ROSS RETTERER led off the third with another base knock and came home following a walk and triple by Ray Miller. Joe Wertheimer also counted.

An error led to the fourth and final run in the fifth with Miller tallying this time. Arlington threatened in the final two innings but couldn't push across the decisive run.

Score by innings:

|---|---|
| Morton Grove | 102 100 0—4-7 |
| Arlington | 012 010 0—4-5 |

ARLINGTON erupted after a slow start to hammer Northlake 8-5 with seevn of the runs coming in the last two stanzas.

Roland Oberg started for Arlington but was relieved by Paul Splittorff with one out in strong stint, striking out nine in the final 4 2/3 innings.

The locals were checked with just one hit an done run over the first four innings before exploding with five markers in the fifth. Ken Layden led off the fifth with a double and Gary Spencer walked.

WITH ONE out Rog Lindstrom stroked a single and following another out, Retterer walked and Wertheimer and Frase collected successive base hits.

Lindstrom, who continues to wield a big bat for the Arlington nine, drove across the final two runs in the sixth. Miller walked and stole second and then Rog slammed a two-run homer, his third of the summer.

Northlake got to Oberg in the early innings but had trouble with Splittorff and was checked with just two hits over the four final frames.

Lindstrom and Wertheimer each had two hits for Arlington.

Score by innings:

|---|---|
| Northlake | 203 000 0—5-5 |
| Arlington | 001 052 *—8-6 |

HOLY CROSS furnished no opposition for the Arlington Heights nine as Meyer's outift scored in four of the six innings and posted an effortless 12-0 decision.

RAY MILLER

Lane and Steve Martin toiled for Arlington and yielded only one hit, a fifth inning single. Lane worked the first four frames with Martin coming on in the fifth.

Arlington counted two runs in the first on a walk, double by Wertheimer and single by Miller and added three more in the third wth Jim Ewart's home run the big blow. Furlong slammed a triple prior to Ewart's circuit clout.

A DOUBLE by Frase, walk, stolen base, and passed ball figured in the two-run fourth, but Arlington wasn't through yet.

With one out in the sixth Frase unloaded a triple to initiate another uprising. Lane popped up, but Layden kept the rally alive by drawing a walk. Wertheimer and Miller singled, Lindstrom walked, and Martin delivered a single as five runs scampered across the plate.

Score by innings:

|---|---|
| Holy Cross | 000 000 0— 0-1 |
| Arlington | 203 205 *—12-9 |

CHIP ALLEN, the highly regarded pitcher who hurled Maine West to the Interim League championship, shackled Arlington Heights on two hits as Des Plaines posted a 5-0 victory.

Lindstrom and Splittorff were the only boys able to touch Allen for hits with both collecting singles. Allen was wild, allowing eight walks, but the locals couldn't push over any markers.

Des Plaines scored a single run in the second on a walk to Baird and triple by Allen, added three in the third, and the final tally in the sixth.

FURLONG WENT the route for Arlington and turned in a creditable effort, allowing seven hits and suffering serious trouble in only one frame.

Lindstrom gave Des Plaines a scare in the third when with two on and two out he lifted a long drive to center field, but Carlson pulled in the blast to check the rally.

Score by innings:

Wisconsin Landing Top Illinois Preps

MADISON, WIS., (UPI) — Five Illinois All-State football players, an All-State basketball player, four Illinois High School track and field champions and an Indiana track and field titlist have indicated they will enroll at the University of Wisconsin in the fall.

The 11 athletes were among 18 from Illinois and Indiana who have chosen Wisconsin for their college education.

The All-State basketball player is Tom Gardner, 6-0, from Toluca, Ill. He scored 2,375 points in his high school career.

All-State football players include Louis Gale, 6-foot, 215-pound guard from Joliet; Bob Pickens, 6-4, 235-pound tackle from Evanston; Ray Marcin, 5-11, 205-pound guard from Morton East, Cicero; Jim Goeke, 6-3, 220-pound center from Lockport and Pete Hambrick, 5-11, 170-pound halfback from Hinsdale.

MARCIN AND GALE are also top baseball players and Marcin is also a 56-foot high school shotputter. Pickens is an Illinois state high school wrestling champion.

Tommy Atkinson, a 24-foot broad jumper and an under 10-second sprinter from LaGrange, Ill., leads the track contingent. Others include miler Jim Weinert, Highland Park, who has been credited with a 4:16.2; half-miler Barney Peterson of Proviso West, who has been clocked in 1:56 and 172-foot discus performer Jim Sternfield of Highland Park.

Sternfield is also an extra point and kickoff specialist in football. Jim Grudzinski, 6-2, 190-pound Hobart, Ind., fullback, was also a state track champion, winning the Indiana hurdles crown.

Other top athletes from Illinois choosing Wisconsin include:

Basketball—Ken Gustafson, 6-3, St. Charles, Ill.

Track—Fred Logan, a 4:26.4 miler from York High School, Elmhurst, Ill.

Football—Ron Frint, 5-10, 175-pound halfback from Rockford Auburn; Mike Stalzer, 6-1, 210-pound tackle from Chicago St. Rita; Steve Goodman, 6-3, 190-pound end from Highland Park; Paul Morenz, 5-11, 198-pound fullback from McHenry, and fullback Roger Albert, 6-0, 210-pounder from Rockford Auburn.

Pahl's No-Hitter Gives Elk Grove Dodgers 21-1 Win

Larry Pahl of the Dodgers hurled a no-hitter in the highlight of the latest action of the Elk Grove Village Little League.

Pahl was backed with a robust attack as the Dodgers crushed the Braves 21-1. Larry also hit one of six home runs by the victors.

Also collecting four - base clouts were Steve Stowell, Dan Wagner, Don Schnell, Ed Arquilla, and Wayne Isberner. Isberner and Wagner each got four hits.

ON FRIDAY the Dodgers beat the Yankees 15-3 with Wayne Isberner going the route and giving up only five hits. He helped his own cause with a home run. Ed Arquilla also collected a four-bagger. Steve Stowell led the attack with three hits.

For the Yankees John Kuksa was the losing pitcher. He gained seven strikeouts along the way.

On Sunday the Yankees lost their third straight game and second to the Dodgers after having won four in a row.

DON SCHNELL pitched a beautiful two-hitter, fanning 12, and the Dodgers posted a 7-1 victory. Ed Arquilla and Rick Paul led the winners with two hits each.

For the Yankees Anthony Palmieri lost his first game after having won his first two starts.

Highlights of other recent action in the Elk Grove Little League saw the Yankees stopping the Cubs 8-5 with Larry Green the winner; the Yanks edged the Indians 2-1 with John Kuksa claiming the decision on a 14-strikeout performance; the Yanks blanked the Cubs 6-0 behind Tony Palmieri's one - hitter and circuit clout at the plate; the Dodgers beat the Sox 8-3 behind Don Schnell's pitching and Larry Pahl's two home runs; and the Sox trounced the previously unbeaten Yankees 13-6.

30 Golfers Qualify For Western Open

The field is complete and 137 golfers are poised for their initial assault upon Medinah Country Club's feared Number Three at the opening of the 59th annual Western Open this morning (Thursday).

The final 30 tournament assignments were distributed at the conclusion of Monday's 18-hole qualifying round over Medinah's Number One course.

Bob Erickson, assistant pro at Lincolnshire Country Club, was the only golfer in Monday's field of 110 starters who succeeded in cracking par.

ERICKSON WENT one under on the front side with a 35 and then matched par with a 34 on the way in for an 18-hole total of 69.

The Number One layout at Medinah, which may not be quite as exacting as Number Three, but still packs a potent wallop, has a published yardage of 6,563. That distance was lengthened by 400 yards in preparation for Monday's competition by the simple process of stretching all tees to their deepest locations.

As if that wasn't enough, several strategic alterations in pin placement Sunday night produced many a nightmarish experience on the greens.

BILL KELLEY, a 28-year-old native of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a freshman on the pro circuit, followed Erickson in with an even-par 70. His most interesting experience of the day occurred on the 17th where his drive landed behind a tree.

He blasted out a niceiy-hit recovery but once again found himself planted behind another tree. This time he punched a nine iron to within a foot of the hole and dropped his putt for a par.

Among those who failed to qualify were Dick Hart of Hinsdale, Emil Esposito of White Pines, Tony Holguin of Midlothian and Chuck Pedersen of Rolling Greens.

Cubs Unbeaten in Rolling Meadows Baseball Action

Because of rainouts all twelve teams in the Rolling Meadows Little League engaged in tripleheaders Sunday with only the Cubs remaining unbeaten after the baseball competition.

After slipping by the Cardinals by one run in their opener, the Cubs proceeded to roll over their next opponents by one-sided scores to hold first place.

Marty Komondoros turned in the sharpest mound stint of the week, allowing only one safety, a single, in shutting out the Cardinals 4-0 for the Braves.

IN THE AMERICAN Division Mike Byrnes pitched the Sox into first place with a perfect game over the Senators. In the six innings Byrnes faced only 18 batters, fanning 15 and not permitting a man to reach first base.

Mike also contributed a double and a single to the Sox attack.

While the Sox provided the best defensive game of the season, the Indians exhibited the best one-game offensive with 21 runs on 17 hits, including three doubles and two homers, in their 21-4 victory over the Senators.

In two of the closest games of the week John McAvoy pitched the Yanks to a 4-3 win over the Athletics, striking out 15 men, and the Tigers also handled the Athletics, 8-7.

In addition to a full schedule of games for the coming week, plans are now underway for celebrating the Fourth of July with two tripleheaders with games slated for 11 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 4 p.m. and for the All-Star game on Sunday, July 8.

Suburban Drivers Shine at O'Hare

Suburban drivers continue to capture most of the laurels in stock car racing that holds sway every Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday night at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park rds. First race nightly is 8:30 p.m.

Leading the parade of drivers in the new cars that run each Saturday and Sunday with Cadets in late models are Erik Johnson of Highland Park, Bill Lutz of Melrose Park, Gene Marmor of Schiller Park, Butch Linden of Buffalo Grove, Dieter Holz of Arlington Heights and Roy Martinelli of Half Day.

The Cadets also share the bill on Fridays with mauling modified stocks and on Wednesday's with racing's new sensations-the Golden Chariots. Among the top Cadet speedsters are Ron Hieber of Elmwood Park, Jim Hieber of Northlake, Tom Armstrong of Addison, Bob Wawak of Villa Park, Dick Erickson of Des Plaines, Lee Edwards of Bensenville and Jimmie Miceli of Norridge.

Golden Chariots are a new $100 claiming division feature both men and women who are required to paint their stock car "chariots" pink. The rules are simple and many spectators are consequently launching their racing careers.

K of C Hold Annual Picnic

Holy Rosary Council 4483, Knights of Columbus will hold its annual picnic Sunday, July 1, at Deer Grove No. 5A at 1 p.m.

There will be games, prizes and refreshments. Grand Knight Eugene E. Dougherty announces that there will be a trophy awarded to the winner of the softball game between the teams of the third and fourth degree.

The public is invited to the picnic.

Tough Again

Three members of Michigan State's four-man national championship freestyle swimming relay team, Jeff Mattson, Bill Wood and Mike Wood, return for competition in 1963.

THE HOOK

By CHUCK PEDERSEN
Pro, Rolling Green

When a student approaches me on curing his hook, the first thing I check is his grip.

The correct position of the left thumb should run straight up and down the shaft. The correct position of the V formed by the right hand should point between the chin and the right shoulder.

Another common cause of the hook is swinging flat at the top of the back swing. The left thumb should be underneath the shaft at the top of the swing. This will enable the golfer to cock his wrists correctly.

Many people hit from the top or uncock the wrists too soon which also results in a hook. By pulling down through the ball with the left arm, the golfer will be able to prolong this uncocking. The longer you wait for the wrists to uncock the more headspeed will be developed.

(The lesson this week was demonstrated by Lee Smith of Arlington Heights, golf pro with the Ben Hogan company of Ft. Worth, Tex.)

Kiczula Golf Squad Regains Hoffman Lead

Kiczula Insurance regained the lead in the Hoffman Estates Men's Golf league competition played at the Golden Acres Country Club.

With almost half of the season behind them the Kiczula Insurance team continued to score sufficient points to pass the Roselle State Bank "Five" and take over undisputed first place.

Two and one-half points behind Kiczula Insurance is the surprisingly strong Hoffman Plaza Liquors team who scored 11½ points during play, June 20, to move from third place.

Scoring victories for the Kiczula Insurance team were Dick Moon, Paul Kiczula and Harry Grover. For the losing Rainbow Inn team, Angie Patel and Veryl Hootman posted victories.

ART MURPHY'S Hoffman Plaza Liquors team "intoxicated" the Harve's Food Mart team by an 11½ to 4½ margin. This loss dropped Harve's Food Mart from 4th to 5th place in the standings.

Jules Swerdlow was the only winner for Harve's, defeating Frank Marek. For the Hoffman Plaza Liquors team, Chuck Davey lead with a astonishing Net 27 which was too much for Lindy Clark.

Other winners for Hoffman Plaza Liquors were Dave Powers and Jim Lemar. Captain Art Murphy and Captain Bob Rivenes played to a stand-off both shooting 42's and halfing the match play.

TOP SCORING team for the night was Roselle Ace Hardware who mowed down the faltering Roselle Color Center "Painters" by winning all but three points of the possible 16. Captain Chuck Pugh, of Roselle Color Center, showed he still has a few shots by defeating Bob Boedicker. However, Captain John Aquino, Jack Sheridan, Dick Excell and Joe Gilmore all were victorious for Ace Hardware. This victory enabled Ace Hardware to move from a tie for 9th to a tie for 6th place.

Veteran Dick Thompson registered low gross for the evening's play by scoring a fine 37. Captain Thompson's conquest over Captain Bob Powell along with triumphs by Art Thorp and Tony Manikas of the Schaumrose Inn enabled Schaumrose to defeat Snyder's Hoffman Drugs, 10 to 6.

JUPITER CLEANERS dry cleaned the Roselle Bank "Tellers" by a 12 to 4 count. John Milke, captain of the Jupiter Cleaners team was defeated by Mel Doup, but with great support by his team-mates, Joe Mc Gibbon, Tony Manfrin, George Whitaker and Dick Krey, who all won their matches, Jupiter Cleaners jumped one notch to 4th place.

Higgins Shell Service was victorious over Tony's Sinclair. Dave Basch, Captain Roy Jenkins, Jim Gannon and Bill Ross all scored triumphs for Higgins Shell. George Cadotte by defeating Bill Mc Mahon saved the Tony Sinclair team from a complete shutout.

Winner of low team net for the June 20th play was Hoffman Plaza Liquors followed by Roselle Ace Hardware.

Standings, June 20,

Three-Way Deadlock in Golf Tourney

The annual Husband and Wife Tournament of the Mt. Prospect Twilight League at Mt. Prospect Country Club last Sunday ended in a three-way tie. Low gross shooters with identical 46's were Betty and Len Johnson, Barbara and Howard Brower, and Arline and Len Arnold.

Low net winners were Betty and Len Johnson, Dorothy and Howard Feige, and Ann and Ken Sophie.

The tournament is a four-ball foursome affair with husband and wife hitting alternate shots. Forty-nine members of the Mt. Prospect Twilight League and their wives entered the competition.

Realtors in First Again In Golf Play

Annen and Busse Realtors edged back into the lead of the Tuesday division of the Mount Prospect Twilight league last week by the narrow margin of 1/3 point.

This was not the result of any great heroics on the part of the Realtors as they barely scraped together a 5½-4½ victory over lowly Golden Food Shop. It would be more accurate to say that they backed into the lead as former leaders Mount Prospect State Bank swooned before the onslaught of the always tough Wille Lumber team 2-8, and second place Winkelman's Shell Service dropped a tough one to Kruse's Tavern 4½-5½.

Furthermore, the other serious challengers for the lead, Phil's Pure Oil and Licht's Paint Store battled it out to a comparative standoff with Licht's getting the edge in a 5½-4½ contest.

THE NET RESULT of all this activity was to put Annen and Busse back into the league lead with 41-1/3 points, Winkelman's in second with 41 points and the State Bank in third with 40 points.

It is interesting to note that with the season half completed only 4-1/3 points separate the top six teams in the twelve-team league. However, with position night coming up the situation could change drastically.

Twenty-one birdies were reported for the evening, attesting to the near perfect weather and playing conditions at the country club. The impressive list was topped by a record three successive birds scored on holes 10, 11 and 12 by modest Al Barco new "grizzled veteran" of the Mt. Prospect links.

CLOSE BEHIND him with two birdies each were Fred Jilek 12 and 15, Len Arnold 15 and 18, Andy Raab 16 and 18, and Gene Raasch 8 and 9. Individual birds were scored by H. Jauch and Len Johnson on 8, Walt Double on 5, Ed Hendricks on 9, Tom Taylor on 10, Walt Welky on 12, Clarke Robinson and Jim Foster on 13, Jim Driscoll on 14, and Bob Kline on 15.

Low score for the evening was posted by Len Arnold who shot a 33 over the back nine, but won only ½ point for his efforts. Other low shooters were Gene Raasch 35, Len Johnson 36, Al Barco 37, Walt Double and Clarke Robinson 38, and Walt Welky 39.

League standings June 19:

|---|---|
| Annen and Busse | 41-1/3 |
| Winkelman's Shell Station | 41 |
| Mt. Prospect State Bank | 40 |
| Phil's Pure Oil | 39-5/6 |
| Licht's Paint Store | 38½ |
| Wille Lumber & Fuel | 37 |
| Mt. Pros. Elec. Constr. Co. | 34 |
| Kirchhoff Insurance | 32½ |
| Kruse's Tavern | 31½ |
| Kersting's Garden Center | 29 |
| Golden Food Shop | 28 |
| Keefer's Pharmacy | 26½ |

Keefer's Golf Squad Gains On Leaders

A definite favorite has a firm hold on first place in League 1, and League 2 remains a toss-up as the men of St. Raymond's twilight league approach the mid-way point of the season. This Thursday's "position night" terminates the play between the two leagues and from here on the play is strictly intra-league.

Last Thursday night's play was highlighted by the sound drubbing the majority of the teams in League 1 received from those in League 2. In League 1, McMahon's increased their lead to a full 10 points in spite of winning only 6½ points from Kirchhoff Insurance. Safford Stamps dropped into 3rd place after winning only 1½ points and Strass Ladies Apparel took over 2nd place by winning 5½ points.

In League 2 Busse Automotive hung onto 1st place by taking the measure of Ackerman Insurance to the tune of 9 points. In spite of good performances by most of the League 2 teams, Keefers Pharmacy has really been "hot." The Keefer team has won 30 out of a possible 36 points during the past three weeks and has moved from 7th to 2nd place during this brief span in hot pursuit of the leaders.

The standings after eight weeks of play are as follows:

Ackerman Sparks Stearns Golfers In Rob Roy Loop

Red Ackerman, No. 1 man of John Stearns & Co., led the field in the Rob Roy Tuesday Night League on position night by shooting a par 35-4—31 on the front nine to cop league low gross honors. This feat plus a very fine supporting role of 43-9—34 carded by No. 4 man, Ken Keppen, enabled the Stearns team to walk off with a 5½ to 1½ victory over the Prospect Heights Pharmacy team and a tie for third place.

Another torrid golfer who found the fairways and greens to his liking was Fred Groh of Webber Paint who burned up the course with a 38-7—31 to give him low net honors in the match with C-P Floor and Wall Covering and a tie for league honors with the aforementioned Red Ackerman.

Gunnell's maintained their commanding lead with another overwhelming victory over second place Rand Henry Sunoco Station to increase their lead to 8½ points over the Sunoco team.

NO. 1 MAN, Norv Funk, of Borchardt's Restaurant carded a 37-4—33 for low net honors in their match with Prospect Heights Service Station although the Service Station gang clubbed their way to a 4½ to 2½ win.

Kelter Realty came back to life after a slump the past three week to clobber L-Nor Cleaners 6 to 1. The big guns in the Kelter victory were B. Brotherson and Ernie Smith with net 34s.

A No. 4 man not to be overlooked on this night of terrific scores was Clare Reed of Golf Rand Golf Center who racked up a beautiful round of 42-10—32 to help his team to a 4½ to 2½ victory over Kirchhoff Insurance.

The alternate group was again headed by Art Bradley with a fine steady round of 43-8—35.

Pedersen, Sanders in Golf Clinic

Chuck Pedersen, professional at Rolling Green Country Club, and Doug Sanders, one of the leading players on the pro circuit, conducted a clinic Tuesday at the 4-G Driving Range in Morton Grove.

Sanders joined the PGA tour in 1957 and has been grinding out an excellent living with an unorthodox swing. Employing a wide stance, very little body turn, and a short backswing, Doug looks more like a weekend golfer than a major threat along the tourney trail.

Waukegan Speedway

Stillman Ties Strom Mark; Cops Feature

Well on his way towards regaining the track championship he lost in 1960 to Greg Krieger and again in 1961 to Bill Strom, little Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee captured his second feature win of the season to move into a tie with defending champion Strom, who also has two wins, as the powerful modified stocks staged their seventh program of the season at the Waukegan Speedway.

Stillman, who had the fastest qualifying time, started at the rear of the 18-car field and gradually moved up through the field to take the lead on the 21st lap from Gordon Gorman of Libertyville who turned in the best performance of the year.

Strom, who held the second row inside position at the start of the event, was not able to gain a lead position at any point in the race. Pole position driver Roger Otto of Burlington grabbed the lead at the start and was seemingly well on his way towards gaining his first feature victory when he spun out all by himself on the 12th circuit.

GORMAN MOVED into the lead position while Stillman was still back in seventh spot. Stillman moved into third on the 19th trip around and chopped off both second and first spots on the 21st to win the event by a three car length margin. His average speed was 49.92 mph. All eighteen starters finished the race with only four of them ending up a lap behind at the finish.

The first heat event of the night got off to a rough start as a four car pileup in the first corner blocked the track and called for a restart. Another spinout by Jim Nottingham, Waukegan, caused another stop when his car sat in the middle of the track facing oncoming traffic, and three more were eliminated by spins and collisions later in the vent. Three cars finished, all in close position, as Ollie Wergin of Milwaukee took the close decision.

NUMEROUS other spins and accidents took place in other events throughout the night but none were of a serious nature in the modified division events. Fran Seamars, Milwaukee, took wins in both the second heat and the 15-lap semi feature, while Otto won the third and Jim Ouellette of Hales Corners took a close decision over Paul Feldner, Colgate in the fourth. Seamars averaged 49.51 mph in winning the semi in another close battle that saw Paul Coen, West Allis pushing him for most the distance.

Only one roll-over took place during the evening and that occurred during the running of the sportsmen time trials. Gene Southern of Waukegan escaped uninjured when he blew a tire, barrel rolled three times and bounced end over end one additional time in an accident that thoroughly demolished the machine. Virtually nothing but the sturdy and unbent roll-over bars was salvagable.

NEWCOMER TO Waukegan, Roger Regeth, the Midwest Speedways sportsmen champion of last year, set the fast qualifing time in that division but was only able to nail down a third place in the 12-lap feature. Dennis Burgan, point leader at Waukegan this season, took top honors in both the 8-lap heat and the feature. He staged a thrilling wheel to wheel battle with Sonny Miller of Waukegan in the main event with the lead changing hands on several laps, but a last turn mixup with another car gave the decision to Burgan as Miller tried to dodge a spinning car.

Sunday, July 1, the Waukegan Speedway will present its eighth program of the season as the powerful modifieds and the spectacular sportsmen engage in another round of action. Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee, the current point leader at the track and former champion, will be seeking his third feature win of the season and is expected to get stiff competition from defending champion Bill Strom of West Allis who also has two feature victories for 1962 under his belt.

Time Trials will start at 7:15 with racing getting under way at 8:30 p.m. The speedway is located on West Washington Street, just west of Waukegan.

St. Colette Crown to Beverly Unit

Beverly Lanes came from behind in the last round to win the first half competition of the St. Colette Golf league.

Wins by J. O'Connor, B. Wirth, and P. Hoss paced the Beverly Lanes unit in a victory over Jim's Service. Wirth's 31 net took the low individual honors.

Dack Steel Company captured second place by downing Vandy Real Estate.

Only 10 points constitute the margin seperating the first and last place teams at the end of first round competition.

The Standings:

|---|---|
| Beverly | 22½ |
| Dack Steel Co. | 21½ |
| Quadriga Mfg. co. | 20 |
| Lortie Plumbing | 17½ |
| Vandy Real Estate | 17 |
| F. J. Die Mold | 16 |
| Jim's Service | 14 |
| Clarck Brass | 12½ |

No Changes In Hoffman 59ers Golf

Team standings in the Hoffman 59ers Ladies Golf league were the same as the previous week after play on June 19th at Golden Acres Country Club.

The greatest number of points was won by Howard's Family Shoe Store who scored 10 markers over Frank's Beauty Salon, narrowing the margin between first and second place. The other teams all split their points.

The Daily Event was Twosome Blind Draw, and the winners were Gloria Borkenhagen and Shirlee Griffith, Jean Witt and Barbara Ross, and Bea Shaw and Dorothy Warder.

A terrific round was played by Gloria Borkenhagen who came in with a gross of 48. On the 375 yard par 4 third hole, Gloria hit a spectacular iron shot, which flew over the bunker, onto the green, and into the cup for a birdie 3!

|---|---|
| Frank's Beauty Salon | 62½ |
| Howard's Family Shoe | 54½ |
| Al Griffith's | 48½ |
| Snyder's Hoffman Drugs | 46½ |
| Tri-City Ace Hardware | 44 |
| Jupiter Cleaners | 39 |

Steelmen Handle Harris Pharmacy In Friday League

League play got off to a late start Friday night in the Arlington twilight league because of the brief rain shower that started just before tee off time. The secretary thanks all of the alternates who came out to fill in for the team members who were absent.

Arlington Structural Steel continued their onslaught by overpowering Harris Pharmacy and taking 10½ points out of a possible 12. The loss dropped Harris from fifth to eighth place.

City Welding Sales found the range and whipped Lauterburg & Oehler 10-2. Horcher Decorators climbed into the winning circle by dropping Stan's Standard Service 9-3. Lohr's Pharmacy also got into the act and beat Beisler - Griffith Insurance Center by the same 9-3 score.

New Emerald Cleaners moved into second place by winning over Arlington Heights National Bank.

On a night filled with upsets and one sided scores the following men were able to post birds; W. Gappert Sr., R. Sandstrom, J. Andrup, L. Haines Jr., S. Luczak, and J. Markiewicz. This indicates that some men were able to play good golf.

|---|---|
| Arlington Struct. Steel | 55½ |
| New Emerald Clnrs. | 49½ |
| Beisler-Griffith | 46½ |
| Horcher Decorators | 44½ |
| City Welding Sales | 44½ |
| Lauterburg & Oehler | 41½ |
| Koops' Mustard | 40½ |
| Harris Pharmacy | 39½ |
| Crest Heating & Air Con. | 38½ |
| Arlgtn. Hghts. Nat. Bk. | 36 |
| Lohr's Pharmacy | 34½ |
| Stans Standard Service | 33 |

Sederberg's 35 Tops Scratch Play

Best medal score turned in for Friday's play in the Old Orchard Scratch League was a 1-under 35 on the back nine by Bob Sederberg. The No. 1 man for the 444 Press team started with a par, bogey, par and then after another par on the 430 yard 13th he birdied the next 3 holes and came in on 17 and 18 with a bogey and par for his 35.

Along with Sederberg's 35 the 444 Press quintet had a 36 by Al Greene, a 37 by the sponsor, John Keeley, and a 38 by Jack Peters. The scores mentioned above were good for seven points and gave the Press outfit quite a boost.

Robert Lee's 36 led the L'Nor Cleaner team to a clean 8 point sweep at the expense of the Nelson Realty team. Lee was helped by "Lucky" Gordon Meling's deuce on the par 3 fourth hole, result of a beautiful curving 20 foot side hill putt.

"Howie" Kamps toured the back nine in an even par by getting a birdie 3 on No. 11 and a bogey on the 235 yard 18th. To be mentioned as an overlooked item last week was an eagle 2 on the par 4 ninth by Joe Lohr the sponsor of Lohr's Pharmacy.

Joe hit a fat drive to the edge of the slope and sailed a 4 wood shot straight and true to the ninth cup for a rare eagle 2 on the 440 yard, par 4 hole.

Old Orchard Ladies League

Events of the day in the Old Orchard ladies golf league were Low Putts and Odd Holes.

Winners in the Low Putts event were Lois Rezner and Betty Black.

Unique Exhibits Planned at Bank

The best place to go to see money these days, real or bogus, seems to be the Bank of Arlington Heights in the Arlington Market Shopping Center.

Two exhibits planned for the bank in coming weeks should just about satisfy the wants of every money-mad native.

Exhibit Number one is a "Counterfeiteller," a machine containing 14 bills that makes a game of guessing which are for real.

DENOMINATIONS of the currency range from $1 to $100. Visitors make a selection, then press either a "genuine" or "counterfeit" button. The machine, by means of a bell or buzzer, signals whether or not they know their money.

Bank President W. C. Wolf this week urged people to come in and see the display so that they will be able to distinguish bogus bills from real.

Exhibit Number two is all for real. It consists of a collection of early United States coins shown through the courtesy of the Club of Illinois Numismatists.

SOME OF THE coins in the display date back to the late 18th and early 19th centruy.

This display will be in the bank from June 28 to July 14.

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

At this season of the year, many city dwellers "just itch" to spend their leisure time in the great outdoors. Most of them who contact poison ivy will really itch. However, they will not be the only sufferers. Construction men, utility linemen, and other outdoor workers can be just as susceptible.

With modern effective weed killers, you can kill this pest that causes so much misery and suffering each year. But first you must learn to identify poison ivy.

IDENTIFICATION — Poison ivy, a perennial woody plant, varies greatly in the way it grows and in the appearance of its leaves. It may spread along the ground, grow as a vine on fences, walls, or trees, or grow as a shrub.

THE POISON — The skin irritant in poison ivy is found in sap of the roots, stems, leaves, and berries. Although some people apparently are more immune than others, those who consider themselves immune may become susceptible after sufficient exposure.

A very small quantity of the poison may produce severe inflammation and can be transferred from one object to another. Clothing, garden tools, and pets may become contaminated and serve as a source of infection. The poison may also be carried in smoke from burning poison ivy plants.

CONTROL — Modern weed-killing chemicals (herbicides) offer the easiest and safest method of controlling poison ivy. The herbicides mentioned here, when handled properly, will effectively kill poison ivy. But don't allow them to contact desirable plants.

To avoid drift to desirable plants, spray on a quiet day when there is no wind. In all cases, read and follow directions on the container labels.

AMITROLE (3-amino-1,2,4-triazole is most effective for killing poison ivy. You may find it under such trade names as Amino Triazole, Weedazol, and Poison Ivy Killer. Aerosol cans containing amitrole provide a convenient method for treating small patches.

For treating with a small hand sprayer, mix 3 level tablespoons of the commercial preparation containing 50 per cent amitrole with one gallon of water. For large areas, mix one pound of the 50 per cent material in 25 gallons of water.

You can apply amitrole from the time the plants make their early spring growth and the leaves reach full size until they begin to change color in the fall. Thoroughly wet the entire plant with spray, but do not let amitrole contact desirable plants. If there's a chance that you will damage desirable plants by spraying, apply amitrole to ivy leaves with a long-handled brush.

BRUSH KILLER is the name commonly applied to mixtures of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. The mixture kills poison ivy more effectively than 2,4-D alone. Brush killer, convenient for treating poison ivy, will also kill other undesirable woody plants where the two grow together. Most grasses tolerate 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T better than amitrole. But, 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T increase the danger of drifting vapor to desirable broad-leaved plants in the area.

Apply brush killer when the plants reach the full leaf stage in the late spring or summer. If regrowth occurs, repeat the treatment. If a sprayer has been used for brush killer, do not use it for spraying ornamentals or crops sensitive to these weed killers. (BB

Walsh Sets Opening Of New Tire Center

Jack Walsh, eight-year owner and manager of Northwest Firestone Tire Store, 700 E. Northwest Highway, has packed his business to a new location at 630 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, and is holding a grand opening celebration for the newly constructed tire and auto supply center.

A swiftly expanding business and a desire to fulfill the needs of all residents of his service area, led Walsh to construct a newer, larger building featuring modern facilities and extra customer conveniences.

IN ADDITION to a fully air-conditioned retail sales area, the building houses a six-bay, pull through service unit, completely outfitted with the latest air-powered equipment.

The space will be devoted to the installation of tires and batteries, and will also offer 14-hour-a-day front end alignment and suspension service, and brake work.

Facilities of the service unit will be available daily from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

DESIGNED TO handle a large and varied inventory, a three-floor, 10,000-square-foot, conveyor belt equipped warehouse is included in the structure.

During the grand opening days, Wednesday, June 27, to Saturday, June 30, factory representatives from Texaco gas and Monroe shock absorber firms, and other companies stocking Firestone shelves, will be on hand to answer questions posed by potential patrons of the store.

A grand prize will be awarded during the opening celebration, and many articles of merchandise will be given away by the management.

Miss Model Aviation To Preside at Meet

A local beauty will reign as "Miss Model Aviation 1962" at the National Model Air Meet Championships at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Glenview, July 23 - 29.

The beauty queen, in addition to receiving a number of valuable gifts, will preside at various activities connected with model air meet. Some 100,000 are expected at the base July 29 to view the finals of the championships and to see other outstanding attractions such as the famed Navy parachuting team, "The Chuting Stars."

The meet, which is sponsored jointly by the U. S. Navy and the Academy of Model Aeronautics, is held annually on one of the stations of the Naval Air Reserve Training Command and attracts nearly 2,000 contestants.

Young ladies interested in participating in the beauty contest must reside within a 50-mile radius of the Naval Air Station, must be over 18 and under 25 years of age, single, and have never been married.

Applicants should mail photographs (which will be returned), and vital statistics, names, ages, addresses and telephone numbers to : Miss Model Aviation Contest, P. O. Box 22, U. S. Naval Station, Glenview.

Ten finalists, chosen from all entries submitted, will attend a luncheon at the Naval Air Station on July 11, for the crowning of the winner. All applications must be postmarked prior to midnight, July 3, 1962.

Ban Flying Planes in Park Lots

District 214 Board of Education has banned model airplane flying from parking lots of district high schools.

The planes may be flown on school playing fields, but discretion will be expected, the board indicated at its June 20 meeting.

The decision to permit the planes on school ground was made after the board was informed that the district's insurance will cover injuries or damage caused by airplane flying. (ACM-E

A Panoramic View of the Chariot Race in MGM's "Ben-Hur"

Starring Jack Kelly

'Yum Yum Tree' Open At O'Hare on July 5

Jack Kelly of TV's "Maverick" and Chicago's own Brigid Bazlen, at 18 already skyrocketing to movie and TV fame, will open Thursday, July 5, at the new O'Hare Inn Theater in the bright comedy, "Under the Yum Yum Tree."

The play—third attraction in a full summer's schedule of plays with Broadway and Hollywood stars—will run July 5-22. O'Hare Inn Theater at Higgins and Mannheim Roads next to O'Hare International Airport is Chicago's newest summer theater.

THE FORMER exhibition hall of the O'Hare Inn luxury motel has been converted to an air-conditioned theater with a fully equipped stage at one end, conventional theater seating and its own adjacent parking lot.

BRIGID BAZLEN

Jack Kelly will shed his six-shooters for the change-of-pace role in "Under the Yum Yum Tree," demonstrating his versatility as an actor. Best-known for his starring role as the Western hero of "Maverick," Kelly is actually an all-around actor and a veteran trouper whose career began at the age of nine and includes stage, movies, radio and TV dramatic shows as well as "Maverick."

In fact, he had another career before that, as a professional model—landing his first job, posing for a soap ad at the tender age of two weeks.

THE O'HARE performance will be a homecoming for Chicago's Brigid Bazlen, now one of Hollywood's brightest young stars, whose first fame came as "The Blue Fairy" on Chicago TV as a youngster.

JACK KELLY

She was 13 when the show premiered on WGN-TV in February, 1958, and a year later received the coveted George Foster Peabody Award for the outstanding children's program of the year in television.

In 1959, while "The Blue Fairy" was still on the air in Chicago, its young star was spotted by a number of New York and Hollywood producers. One of them, David Susskind, soon had her commuting between Chicago and New York for a network show.

MOVIE OFFERS kept pouring in, and in 1960 she accepted the role of Salome in Samuel Bronston's production of "King of Kings" filmed in Spain—and making her at 16 the youngest Salome on record. On her return from Spain, Brigid was signed to a contract with M-G-M.

Brigid is the daughter of Maggie Daly, well-known columnist and fashion commentator.

Indian Pow-Wow Set For Deer Haven Park

The first annual Indian Pow-Wow will be held at Deer Haven beginning June 30 and will continue through Labor Day, it was announced this week. Chief Thundercloud will be the host of the gathering of Indians from eight states.

Deer Haven is located a mile north of the junction of Illinois 12 and 59 in Fox Lake, Ill

The national pow-wow will present two programs daily at 2 and 8 p. m. which will exhibit triabl dancers and costumes. Customs of the Ottawas, direct descendents of Chief Pontiac; Algonquins, and several other Midwestern tribes will be explained by Chief Thundercloud and presented as part of the show.

THE POW-WOW, the first of its kind to be held in this area will also feature a full scale Indian village, visits into teepees and a display of the tribes' handiwork.

Deer Haven, long noted as an outdoor life center has added this unusual pow-wow to complete its festivities for this year. The park also features deer which are so tame children can feed them by hand. Mother Goose stories come alive with live animals playing the part of the "Three Little Pigs," "Mary Had A Little Lamb" and many others.

Deer Haven is open seven days a week from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. with picnic facilities, charcoal broilers and refreshment stands.

Paintings Reflect Vee's Zest of Life

by LUCILE ERNST

think you will enjoy knowing her. She is one of those people who approaches life with zest and a sense of adventure. Since she is an artist, of course, her paintings reflect this and a great deal more.

Vee Powell attended the Art Institute in Kansas City and the Chicago Art Institute. She taught at the American Academy of Art in Chicago.

Although I had never seen her paintings before, the name Vee Powell struck a chord. Little Wonder. Mrs. Powell has written two books, "How To Make Hats and Accessories," published by Doubleday. She has lectured all over the country on hat designs. She even wrote a column for Paddock Publications. No doubt I had seen her name before.

VEE POWELL

VEE POWELL was downright casual about a letter from Mrs. Eisenhower she had received a few years ago. The letter was a personal thank you for a mannikin which Vee had created of Mrs. Eisenhower in her inauguraul gown. The mannikin is now in the Smithsonian Institution. I would be more impressed with such a letter. I would frame and hang it.

At the present moment, Vee is not interested in anything but painting. She has experimented with every technique and most mediums. Her landscapes are lovely and I think anyone would find her children's pictures delightful.

One of the most interesting techniques she has evolved is a form of pointalism. Dots of paint emerge as forms. This particular technique results in a mosaic appearance which is unusual and highly decorative.

ONE OF Vee's paintings, done in this technique is of two abstracted dancers who fairly vibrate against the background.

Highly impressive is "Enigma of the Desert," a large oil of a highly realistic pensive Arab. A timely painting, it is not difficult to see the importance of the quizzical gaze of an unknown nomad who squints into the sun.

Almost as an afterthought, Vee showed me some abstract paintings she had done. If my instincts are any good at all, they are terrific.

THERE IS such a thing as creative invention. No one quite understands how it operates but it is easy to spot. It is one's own sudden realization that an idea is properly expressed, exactly as we would have done it if we had just thought of it. It is a new and different way of thinking of a particular idea yet it was there in our own subconscious somewhere and we simply recognize our own feelings.

This is always a pleasant experience. I suppose that this is what art really is. "Pandora" is just this; an abstracted form, erupting from one box, leaning over to open another. There is nothing Grecian about it not should there be. Feminine curiosity is, I guess, eternal. How could anyone not smile at this painting in sheer recognition of truth?

"Pot of Gold" is similar, highly organized colors pointing in a positive way to a stylized pot of gold. "Traffic Lights" is a maze of movement. It is the feeling of the movement of traffic and its sudden jerks and jolts. "Ballyhoo" and "Breakfast "Table" contain the same magic. They don't picture exactly, they are.

AS FAR AS I know there is no name for this particular kind of painting. It isn't Expressionism nor Academic Abstraction nor anything else I can think of. I suppose in a way, that is what makes it so good. It is the sum total of years of experimentation and a childlkie honesty.

It was a real pleasure to see these paintings. They are the most original and expressive work I've seen in a long time.

From Youth to Aged: A Home in Transition

VISITS BY THE FAMILY are happy occasions for any age. Members of the older generation wait anxiously as representatives of two younger generations hasten to see them.

Nearly gone are the days when "Little Orphan Annie" tugged at the heartstrings of America. Though homeless and wayward children cannot be overlooked, many ways have been found to help them adapt. Today the age group on the other end of the scale presents one of the biggest challenges to society.

by NANCY ANDERSON

Photographs by DON VICKERY

The Bensenville Home for Children and the Aged, started in 1894, once housed 100 youngsters and 25 aged. Today it is occupied by 101 persons 60 years or older.

This marked change in one institution reflects a new tempo in American society which came with the realization of the necessity for providing for the increasing numbers of people in the post-retirement years.

Foster homes and specialized agencies help fill the needs of homeless or wayward children—social security, better employment for mothers, hot lunches at school and community nursery care for working mothers all help keep families together.

The Bensenville Home itself is an example of the changing care for children. It places about 80 children annually in foster homes, where arrangements can be made to provide special services, and it also provides care for about 30 unwed mothers a year.

Now attention is coming to center on the other end of the age scale.

"Friends are missing, work is missing, and, in many cases, families are missing," commented Dr. H. J. Munsterman, superintendent of the Bensenville Home. The aged present many of the difficulties which society once faced with children, though the means of solution are somewhat different.

"People are sensible. They grew to see the need for boys and girls to live in families," Munsterman noted. "The aged feel better, and many get along better, with members of their own age group."

"Children live in the present and the future; the aged live in the present and past," he pointed out. But many of their needs are similar—both groups seek affection, a sense of belonging, and realization of contributing roles in society.

The transition at the Bensenville Home came gradually. The first dramatic sign of the changing times came about eight years ago, when a new $450,000 infirmary was constructed solely for the aged.

The 47-bed infirmary has 41 patients; six beds are reserved for emergency use for ambulatory oldsters living in other buildings on the campus. Ruth Singer, nurse in charge, has the assistance of registered nurses, practical nurses and aides. A doctor stops in daily, and a psychiatrist is on call for consultation.

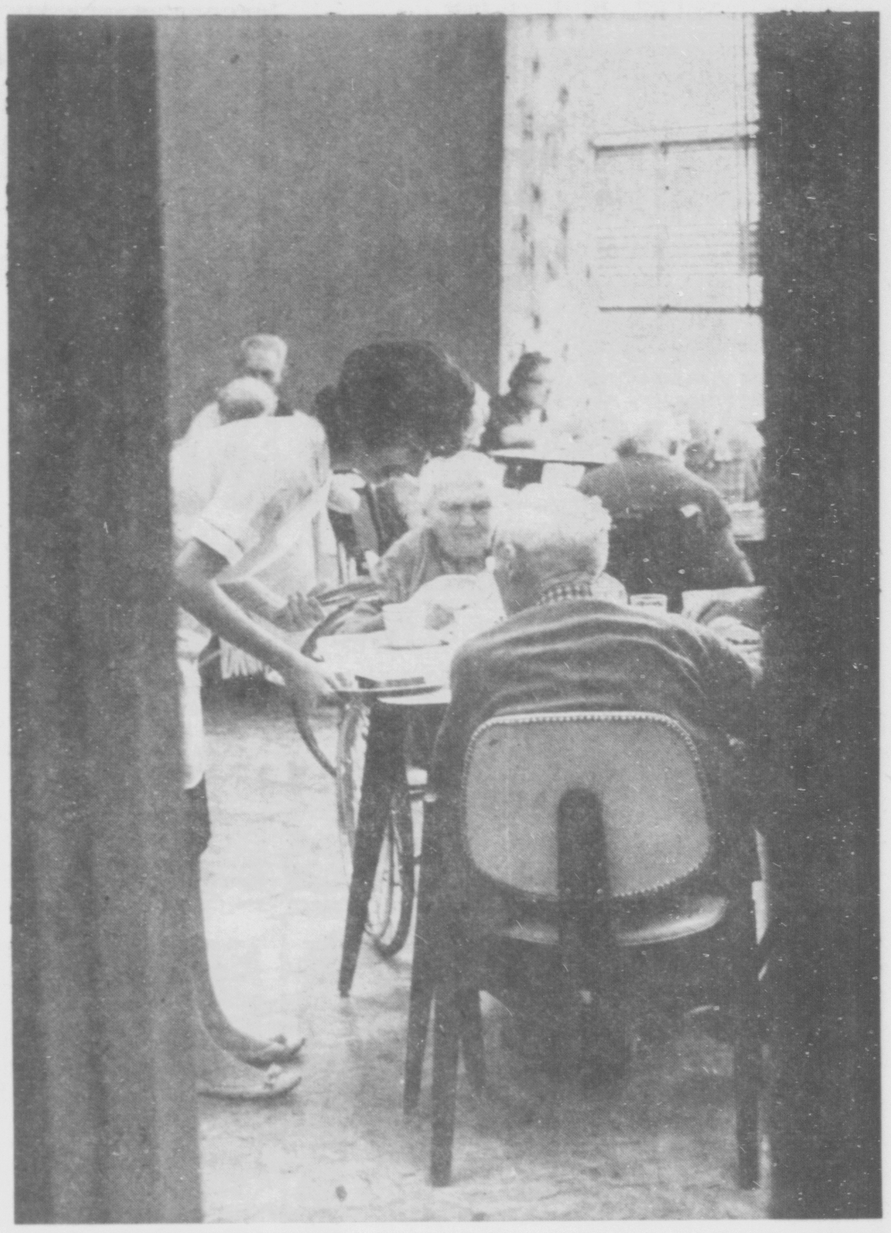
An aide makes the rounds of all rooms in the three residence halls on the campus, and each resident is given a thorough physical checkup annually.

The children's division on the campus was closed entirely six years ago, and within the last four or five years all rooms in the two former children's buildings have been remodeled into single rooms for the elder citizens.

Altogether, the three halls provide room for 69 persons. Dining rooms have been added in each building since the children, who ate in one central dining hall, left. These help promote the group feeling in each residence, developed by placing people of similar interest together.

"Housemothers" serve in an administrative capacity, but the residents have a hand in their own organization through residence councils which meet to discuss their problems and suggestions.

The staff of 64 is assisted in filling the voids in the oldsters' lives by about 20 volunteers, who assist in many varied areas supplementing the services of the home.



A BRIGHT, CHEERY dining room draws residents in at mealtime. Small tables, with room for three or four persons, provide a good opportunity for casual conversation and a chance to catch up on the activities of the home. Food is prepared in a central kitchen, then sent out to the dining rooms in the infirmary and the three residence halls.

Friendly visitors, who work to develop close friendships with individual residents, are a key part of the program. Other volunteers also help with the activities of the ceramics, crafts, study, gardening, sketch and men's groups which meet several times weekly.

Civic and church groups assist with special parties and activities.

"One thing we cannot forget in our planning is that the program has to be built about things of today," Dr. Munsterman said. "These people are not old-fashioned, they are contemporaneous."

With this key in mind, the staff has found delighted response among the residents.

The oldest, Mrs. Eva Wraas, 95, is one of the most active. Known to staff and residents alike as "Grandma," she is an enthusiastic worker in the stuffed animal department of the craft shop, though she is confined to a wheel chair.

Seventy-nine-year-old Mrs. Augusta Walleske, eagerly explaining the activities of the gardening club, noted, "I do about everything."

Perhaps the general attitude of the residents—certainly that for which the home is striving—was best summed up by a pert octogenarian who refused to tell her age, saying only, "I feel about 60."

"With good case work at admission, the chronological age should make little difference," Dr. Munsterman commented.

Admission age for the home is 60; the average age is about 82-84. Sixteen of the residents are more than 90 years old.

Seventy per cent of these people are dependent, and their care must come from the home's charity total, which last year was $179,000. This approaches half of the $413,000 total expense for the home. The balance comes from admission charges, old age assistance funds, social security and relatives of residents.

The charity bill is the highest of any institution in the United Church of Christ, which sponsors the Bensenville Home. In describing the home's activities, sustained to such an extent by the support of friends and communities, Dr. Munsterman noted that "almost every family has a problem regarding the aged." This, perhaps, is what will help solve the difficulties of the aged and provide for the expansion of facilities such as those at the Bensenville Home.

OLDER HANDS can be creative hands. Some of the main activities at the Bensenville Home center around hobby groups which meet several times weekly in classes or informally whenever residents gather. The supervised groups include ceramics, crafts, study, gardening and sketching.

RUTH SINGER is in charge of the 47-bed infirmary at the Bensenville Home, constructed six years ago at a cost of $450,000. She is assisted by registered and practical nurses, aides, a doctor who makes the rounds daily, and a psychiatrist on call.

The Way We See It

Service to Suburb Readers: Our Goal

In cooperation with the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc. and United Press International, Paddock Publications recently completed a unique "pilot study" to determine the value of a news wire service to a suburban newspaper.

We discovered that much regional news of special interest to our suburban readership was unavailable to them in the metropolitan press. As a result of this study, this week we became the first suburban weekly newspaper to subscribe to the regular wire facilities of United Press International.

As a suburban newspaper, our primary emphasis and concern is on local news coverage.

But through our affiliation with UPI, we will now be able to supplement the work of our own staff with Midwest regional news dispatches written by scores of full-time newsmen from UPI bureaus located in every important news center.

For our readers, this will mean increased metropolitan area news coverage, impartial reporting of the state legislature and Illinois government, expanded sports coverage, and accurate accounts of significant news and events throughout Illinois and the Midwest.

As a new subscriber to United Press International, we join the company of more than 1,600 leading daily newspapers in the United States and hundreds more throughout the world.

The addition of UPI news service to Paddock Publications is another example of our recognition of the new position and growing responsibilities of the progressive suburban newspaper.

Recently, we advised our subscribers that we were exploring new approaches to suburban journalism, striving to keep abreast of the changing demands of our suburban readership.

Many changes in style, format, and approach have already been effected; others are contemplated for the near future as we seek ways and means to make our newspaper more compact and readable.

Under the leadership of a professional staff of writers and reporters, we have expanded local news, local features, and local pictures; further development of this local coverage is planned.

In January, we introduced "Suburban Living," a new and enlarged editorial section devoted to women's interest news and family living features. Other special reader services and departments are being developed.

Increased emphasis on interpretative reporting and editorial enterprise is reflected in the two special reports-in-depth already published in 1962: "Transurbia," an exclusive five-part series interpreting the impact and significance to northwest suburbs of mass transportation problems; and "These Lonely Rooms," a dramatic six-part report on the aged of Illinois. Additional series on a variety of timely topics are in the planning stages.

Our efforts to improve editorial content and newspaper readership are all designed to provide you with better community newspapers. Your comments and suggestions will be most appreciated.

A Victim of Politics

It is in the nature of partisan politics that it is always looking for victims.

Politics makes bread by grinding the bones of its victims, as the giant threatened to do to Jack after he climbed the beanstalk.

So it is in the case of Clarence V. Wagemann, who has withdrawn under pressure as the Republican candidate to succeed himself as County Clerk of DuPage County.

Personal difficulties provided the occasion for Wagemann's downfall. In a different setting than the political, such personal troubles might generate feelings of sympathy from all, and a desire to find a way to help.

Of course, that is not the case in politics. In that gladiatorial arena there are ten people shouting for blood for every one who is standing by to bind up the wounds.

The fact that DuPage County is still pretty much a one-party county, where the Republicans have been preeminent for more than a century, does not soften the rigors of politics.

In fact, one-party government tends to encourage personalities, intrigues and deals, which certainly were part of l'affaire Wagemann.

The Republicans themselves have noted this truth in their criticisms of Cook County Democrats.

When elections seem in the bag, politicians tend to turn their backs on the voters to satisfy personal debts, ambition, whim, enmity or greed.

With two evenly matched parties contending for the vote, the premium is more apt to be on effective advocacy of a program.

Everyone seems to agree that Wagemann has run the County Clerk's office efficiently and well. But they also know that he was named clerk pro tem two years ago because he was the son of the man who held the post for 38 years before him. If he had been Clarence V. Smith, he would never have been named County Clerk.

This type of appointment is typical of the one-party situation, and as a result Wagemann had a couple of strikes on him when he became clerk.

Every cloud is supposed to have a silver lining. In this case, it may be that the politicians who would be kingmakers have suffered a setback, and the door will be open a little more widely in the future for the rank-and-file, who in the final analysis are the best custodians of any party's fortunes.

Artichoked

"There are too many artichokes in Brittany, and not enough consumers." So an artichoke war has raged for several days. In Saint-Pol-de-Leon, the artichoke center, farmers tried to stop trains bringing a bumper crop to market.

"I cannot live without an artichoke," sang Columbine. The trouble is not too many artichokes but not enough Columbines. Or blame it on a foreigner; that is one way to forget domestic quarrels. Blame it on the Dutch. There are not too many artichokes but not enough Hollandaise. If there were more of that glory there would be no glut.

When the farmers formed a menacing mob, the police of Saint-Pol used tear gas. This is all wrong. Those were no tears of pleasure such as might accompany boiling water vinaigrette or later, after the pot has done its soft work, a dash of lemon. We cannot understand sorrow in the midst of such bliss. We should like to fly to Saint-Pol and eat this crisis away, leaf by luscious leaf.

American Establishment

Top Newsman Explains Capitol Ins and Outs

By MARTIN E. MARTY

If you read the New Yorker you know Richard H. Rovere to be a genial, generally liberal, usually acute observer of Washington affairs. He has written one of the better summaries of the Eisenhower years. If you read his chapter on "The American Establishment," in a recent Esquire you will be interested in his book of that title (Harcourt, Brace & World, $4.95).

MARTY

Unlike too many columnists of both conservative and liberal persuasion, Rovere — who takes his craft seriously —does not take himself too seriously. Some of the wit is reflected in the title essay, full as it is of fake footnotes, false samples of erudition, and all the rest.

WHAT IS THE establishment? America, lacking an established royal family and an established church has filled the gap by creating a certain behind-the-scenes alliance of power in foreign affairs. Dean Rusk and John J. McCloy belong to it. Richard Nixon and John F. Kennedy do not, in the fullest sense of the term.

If there is such a thing as a typical member it is Douglas Dillon—a Republican working for a Democratic administration. Both parties make their contributions to it. Foreign Affairs magazine is their Bible in world affairs. Angus Dun is chaplain, Reinhold Niebuhr is theologian; Fulton Sheen and Billy Graham are out.

Rovere describes with tongue-in-cheek some of the ways in which this elite comes to be an elite; how one is 'elected' to it; how he falls from grace; how some are predestined never to be part of it. He shows how doctrinaire liberals are exasperated by the Establishment and how conservatives misread its clubbiness as part of a vicious conspiracy to take over America.

UNDER the good humor, of course, Rovere has a hold on a big issue, and depicts it quite well. Once or twice a year I attend a conference at Washington, sponsored by one or another of the big foundations. None of them would think of having a non-establishment Senator to speak (if they want conferees to return the next year.)

Don't panic. Every vocation has its 'in' people and its 'out' people and the American Establishment is nothing new on the world scene. But Rovere delineates its outlines with good sense and good humor.

OTHER ESSAYS concern themselves with Arthur Vandenburg (who he does not treat gently); Willkie, Ickes, Ezra Pound, George Orwell and similar controversial figures. The last portion, "Judgments Reserved," is the most controversial, analyzing as it does some of our current controversies.

It is the first essay that gives interest to the whole book. After reading its playful outlines, it is easier to make one's way through the news. If you want to know the Establishment from the inside, implies Rovere, you will do best to make your way through the New York Times.

Last Stages of Decay

The Stomach-Turning Point

by JENKIN LLOYD JONES

(This guest column is reprinted from The Quill Magazine and is from remarks made by Mr. Jones, editor of the Tulsa, Okla. Tribune, to the Inland Daily Press Association meeting.)

This is still a great, powerful, vibrant, able, optimistic nation. Americans — our readers — do believe in themselves and in their country.

But there is rot and there is blight and there is cutting out and filling to be done if we, as the leader of free men, are to survive the hammer blows which quite plainly are in store for us all.

We have reached the stomach-turning point. We have reached the point where we should re-examine the debilitating philosophy of permissiveness. Let this not be confused with the philosophy of liberty. The school system that permits our children to develop a quarter of their natural talents is not a champion of our liberties. The healthy man who chooses to loaf on unemployment compensation is not a defender of human freedom. The playwright who would degrade us, the author who would profit from pandering to the worst that's in us, are no friends of ours.

IT IS TIME we hit the sawdust trail. It is time we revived the idea that there is such a thing as sin—just plain old willful sin. It is time we brought self-discipline back into style. And who has a greater responsibility at this hour than we, the gentlemen of the press?

So I suggest:

Let's look to our educational institutions at the local level, and if Johnny can't read by the time he's ready to get married let's find out why.

Let's look at the distribution of public largesse and if, far from alleviating human misery, it is producing the sloth and irresponsibility that intensifies it, let's get it fixed.

LET'S QUIT being bulldozed and bedazzled by self-appointed long-hairs. Let's have the guts to say that a book is dirt if that's what we think of it, or that a painting may well be a daub if you can't figure out which way to hang it. And if some beatnik welds together a collection of rusty cogwheels and old corset stays and claims it's a greater sculpture than Michelangelo's "David" let's have the courage to say that it looks like junk and probably is.

Let's blow the whistle on plays that would bring blushes to an American Legion stag party. Let's not be awed by movie characters with barnyard morals even if some of them have been photographed climbing aboard the Presidential yacht. Let us pay more attention in our news columns to the decent people everywhere who are trying to do something for the good of others.

In short, gentlemen, let's cover up the cesspool and start planting some flowers.

WELL, THAT'S the jeremiad. I never thought I'd deliver one of these. I never dreamed I'd go around sounding like an advance man for the Watch-and-Ward Society. I used to consider myself quite a liberal young man. I still think that on some people bikinis look fine.

But I am fed up to here with the educationists and pseudo-social scientists who have underrated our potential as a people. I am fed up to here with the medicine men who try to pass off pretense for art, and prurience for literature. I am tired of seeing America debased and lowrated in the eyes of foreigners. And I am genuinely disturbed that to idealistic youth in many countries the fraud of Communism appears synonymous with morality, while we, the chief repository of real freedom, are regarded as being in the last stages of decay.

We can learn a lesson from history. Twice before our British cousins appeared heading into a collapse of principle, and twice they drew themselves back. The British court reached an advanced stage of corruption under the Stuarts. But the people rebelled. And in the wild days of George IV and William IV it looked as if Britain was rotting out again. But the people banked through the reform laws, and under Victoria went on to the peak of their power.

IN THIS hour of fear, confusion, and self-doubt, let this be the story of America. Unless I misread the signs a great number of our people are ready. Let there be a fresh breeze, a breeze of new honesty, new idealism, new integrity.

And there, gentlemen, is where you come in. You have typewriters, presses and a huge audience.

How about raising cain?

Critic's Corner

by LEE SECHLER

News Editor, Hoffman Herald

People who work in banks and collect garbage for a living are best if just left alone and forgotten.

My wife and I discovered this shortly after coming to the northwest suburbs from New York City. New York, says everyone, is filled with people who really don't care if you do business with them or not.

This is just one of the fallacies that pass from mouth to mouth. We never had trouble cashing checks in New York City. But try and do business with one local bank here. You can, but my wife and I will do our banking elsewhere — any place even if it means banking by mail in Michigan.

SECHLER

And garbage collection. I feel sorry for the garbage man, that little elf who demands the garbage be gift-wrapped and who bangs garbage cans at 6 a.m. if he hasn't overslept.

When we finished unpacking our belongings, we ended up with many empty boxes. We were told to place them out a few at a time so the garbage man wouldn't get upset at seeing them.

So every night for a month we have been setting out three or four boxes at a time so as not to upset the poor, poor man's emotional balance.

IT'S A REAL pity that a little honest work would upset him; after all that's what he gets paid to do.

If I knew where the dump was, I think I would load them into the back seat of the car and get rid of them once and for all. But then the garbage man would probably complain about that, too. Taking the stuff away myself would no doubt leave me open for attack.

I can just hear the irate, upstanding man yelling unprintable words from the seat of the garbage truck as he backs over the garbage cans for the fourth or fifth time early in the morning.

AH, YES, the garbage men and the sour acting bank clerks are necessary in society.

If it weren't for them, there would be no mistakes for the rest of us to correct.

I wondered how the clerks and garbage men could maintain their ugly attitude toward people day in and day out. Steeling my courage, I approached one growling bank clerk and asked the question.

She seemed shocked that I would ask.

"Why, we have special classes in school," she said with a flip of her head as if she were correcting a naughty little boy at a birthday party.

"THEY TEACH that," she explained with an air of authority, "after they show us how to mix up bank statements."

There are advance courses for the serious-minded bank clerk who delights in making life miserable for the poor customer who has enough money to come to a bank with.

I'm glad I grew up in a small town and know that all bank clerks, and bankers for that matter, are not like the ones my wife and I have discovered in a northwest suburb.

Garbage men?

WELL, AFTER talking with the bank clerk I don't have enough energy left to talk with him. We're just going to buy ribbon and wrapping paper in bulk and put cotton in our ears every night.

If he discovers we don't hear him, he will soon grow tired of yelling from the truck as he backs over the garbage cans.

Papers Win NEA Press Citations

Paddock Publications received three awards in the 1962 Annual Better Newspaper Contest sponsored by the National Editorial Association it was announced this week.

The awards were accepted June 21 by Stuart R. Paddock, editor-in-chief of the 14 suburban newspapers, at the NEA's 77th annual convention in Hershey, Pa. Thirty-two states were represented among the 96 newspapers that were named winners.

A FIRST PLACE award for Best Feature Story in newspapers over 3,000 circulation recognized a full-page story with photos on the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights. The feature was written by Dan Pribilski and illustrated by Larry Cameron, chief photographer; it appeared in all editions last July.

Commented the judges: "A fine treatment of a feature on senior citizens that showed life can be made full and useful on attaining the golden age won first place. Excellent photo treatment, with pictures showing fine composition and cropping, added to the drama of the story. This was well written and on a subject of interest to everyone."

ANOTHER FIRST place award was made to Paddock Publications for Classified Advertising in newspapers over 4,000 circulation. Said the judges: "Judging was based on volume, categories, typography, copy preparation, promotion. Paddock Publications was voted excellent on all five points. Clean printing, readable type size, thoughtful preparation, all were particularly impressive."

An honorable mention award for Best Editorial Page prompted judges to comment on "a fine page with excellent content."

These latest press honors bring to more than 50 the total number of state and national journalism awards earned by Paddock Publications since 1955.

Clarify Navy Enlistments

As the local Navy Recruiter and representative, I appreciate the very fine article by Mr. Bill Hogate that appeared June 21.

Our young men are faced with their military obligation in their forming years. It is very important that they be well informed of the various programs offered in the different services. When the time for decision comes, a wrong decision could affect them for the rest of their lives. I think Mr. Hogate's articles will contribute greatly to informing our young men of the choices they have.

Unfortunately in Mr. Hogate's last article about the Navy programs, I have detected several errors that I would like to correct.

HE STATES that Regular Navy Enlistments are usually for those that make the Navy their career. I wish this were true, however less than 20 per cent of initial Regular Navy enlistments re-enlist. The advantage of a Regular Navy Enlistment over a Naval Reserve enlistment is a far better chance of obtaining Navy schooling. If we are going to have a man on active from three to six years, it stands to reason that we can better afford to send them to school than if we only have them for two years. Also, a man enlisting on a Regular Navy enlistment will not have active (drilling) reserve upon release.

He states that the Regular Navy enlistment is for a period of four or six years. In addition we now have a three-year enlistment.

Mr. Hogate states that high school graduates are able to qualify for special four-year vocational schools. I believe he is speaking of our High School Graduate Training Program under which we will guarantee high school graduates of a school in the field of their choice upon completion of recruit training. These schools are of a vocational nature and range from 8 to 39 weeks after which they will work in the job the school has trained them for.

THE TASK of informing the young men in this area of the various programs, in the different services is very important. We in the Navy, Army, Marines, Coast Guard and Air Force Recruiting Services are faced with the task of putting the right man in the right program. Articles like Mr. Hogate's make our task much easier. I hope we will see more and more of them.

King-Anderson Bad Legislation

I would like to compliment Paddock Publications, Inc. on the position it has taken with respect to the King-Anderson Bill as expressed on the editorial page of the June 14 issue. The editorial entitled "Socialized Medicine" fortunately contained sufficient factual information to support the position ultimately taken.

I firmly believe that King-Anderson is bad legislation. This sentiment against King-Anderson, which sentiment is generally embraced by the Republican Party, should not be interpreted to mean that those who stand against King-Anderson do not recognize that a need does exist to help the aged who cannot help themselves.

I FEEL that Republicans and Democrats alike are responsible for and have the challenge to come forth with sound legislation to meet this very serious problem.

It would seem that if political considerations were set aside and if the reality of the problem was met head-on, the Congress of the United States of America could itself create legislation which is non-compulsory, is not paid for by generations who may never be in a position to enjoy the benefits, is only available to those who meet some standard of need, is devised so that it will cover more than a mere 25 per cent of the medical costs incurred by the aged on an annual basis, and is not tied in with a pre-existing national program like Social Security which was never intended and indeed not formulated to cope with the medical needs of this country.

I compliment Paddock Publications for its insight into the King-Anderson Bill. I trust it will be equally prepared to accept and promote the right kind of medical legislation when such appears on the scene.

Welfare Report Earns Praise

This is a word of thanks for the article written by John Reddy in the June 14, 1962, issue concerning the statement which I made before the Suburban Press Foundation.

I am deeply grateful to you for presenting them to your readers.

Grass Cut Job Called 'Lousy'

Last Sunday, June 10, I noticed two men, one with a power grass cutter, the other walking along with a hand double edge grass cutter.

They were supposed to be cutting down the grass and wedds along Busse Road, from about Central Avenue to Lincoln Avenue on the west side of the street.

Please take a look at the lousy job these two fellows did; I don't know where their salary comes from for performing this service, but if they were my employees, they would be fired.

Bug Articles Please Reader

Just last week I wrote our mayor of Des Plaines to study this problem of DDT spray by the Northwest Mosquito Abatement District. How wonderful to see your series in the paper today (June 21)! I clipped it out and mailed it to him, advising him to read those that follow.

Sellout Shows Please Group

This note is long past due, but I want you to know that everyone in Music-on-Stage appreciates the space you gave us for information about our production of "The New Moon."

The group has never had as large an audience for its presentations before — including a sellout house on the second night!

We feel that such a warm reception is partly due to your printing of our news releases — thus we say again — Thank you very much.

Editorial Is 'Disappointing'

I was disappointed with the editorial "Socialized Medicine" in which you repeated the same tired, negative arguments that are being offered in opposition to the King-Anderson Bill.

I had hoped, on the basis of your past reputation and recent exploration of the problems of our aged citizens, that you would have provided some original, independent, and creative thinking on the question of medical care for the aged. Obviously, my hope was not fulfilled by your partisan diatribe.

The Fence Post

Medicare Bill Is First Step Toward Socializing America

Last week you printed a letter in The Fencepost from a Mr. Kenneth J. Haas in which he expressed his approval of "the President's Medical Care Bill." He's quite right; the King-Anderson Bill is the President's bill. No one else seems to want it except for political individuals and groups who are in the Administration's debt or are hopeful of future favors. Despite a heavy Democratic majority in Washington coupled with the greatest administrative political pressure ever exerted to force a bill through Congress, the King-Anderson Bill seems doomed. It would appear that while the liberal leaders want it, the people don't.

The presentation of this bill to the public by President Kennedy, labor leaders, political hacks and the Socialists in the Administration has been surrounded by an aura of misrepresentation and a lack of candor. There is one aspect of the King-Anderson Bill to which one would expect Mr. Haas to react most radically. It is an aspect that the Administration and labor leaders have not made clear to the wage-earners of the nation. The King-Anderson Bill would require that low-paid workers who can least afford it will be taxed to pay the hospital bills of the rich. Why does Mr. Haas favor a bill that "soaks the poor to help the rich"? In my opinion once this Socialist measure becomes law it will serve as a gaint step toward the Socialist's dream of "cradle to grave" security at the expense of freedom.

YOUR READERS may recall that Mr. Haas is the same person who last February in another letter to the Fencepost said that he, in effect, wasn't worried about anti-communism. This same attitude is evinced now when he says "I'd hate to see America without the programs once denounced as Socialism". Those programs which were denounced as Socialism are, in fact, Socialism. This is a simple matter that can be checked and verified by consulting any dictionary. Because a program is enacted into law does not by magic suddenly make in non-Socialistic.

Mr. Haas' accommodating attitude toward Communism and Socialism is shared by many celebrated people. Among those who would lend Mr. Haas whole-hearted support are such distinguished Fabian Socialists as Kenneth Galbraith, Alger Hiss, Felix Frankfurter, Walter Lippmann, Harry Dexter White, Owen Lattimore, etc. according to the book "Keynes at Harvard." It is men of this stripe who have had or are presently wielding their Socialistic influences on the policies of Democratic administrations. It might be helpful for Mr. Haas to read this book to learn more about those with whom he seems to share a common interest if, indeed, he does not already know.

A GRADUAL encroachment of our freedoms has taken place under the Socialists' "something for nothing" rewards for relinquishing to the central government more and more control over our lives and liberties. The pace of encroachment has been speeded up by the current crop of Harvard men with whom the President has surrounded himself.

It's time we little people started fighting more earnestly for our freedom as our founders did. We have been and are letting a precious heritage slip through our fingers by submitting to the blandishments of those who profess to be helping us. The vicious effect of the Socialist program is the gradual paralyzing of our will and capability to resist complete governmental controls of our lives.

And as good a point as any to start resisting is to speak up and point up the true character or effect of writings such as those Mr. Haas turns out.

Police Officer Help Is Cited

On the night of Wednesday, June 13, the dishwasher, Scott Koopman, 16, met with an unfortunate accident at this establishment. He cut his right hand severely on a broken glass and was bleeding profusely when we left for the hospital. We turned onto Northwest Highway at Main Street and noticed Police Car no. 25 of Mount Prospect across the street. I hailed him and gave him a quick appraisal of the situtation. With absolutely no questions Sgt. Esmond, driver of the squad car made a U-turn and led myself and Scott Koopman to Holy Family Hospital.

We of the Orbit Inn wish to express our gratitude to Sgt. Esmond for his quick work and courteous service.

Court Reform Long Overdue

On July 4th we celebrate the 186th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence with continuing enthusiastic conviction that every man and woman has "certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." It is none the less true that in our great state of Illinois today we cannot realize these goals because of the antequated nature of our system of courts.

When adopted over a century ago the Judicial Article of our state constitution creating our court system was entirely adequate for our small population, agrarian economy and predominantly rural life. But the tremendous growth of our population, of our industrial economy and of our cities have during the past century rendered obsolete our system of courts and have made the administration of justice by them most difficult.

FORTUNATELY, the opportunity exists to bring about much needed and long overdue reform in our court system.

There will be submitted to a referendum of our citizens in November an amendment to the Judicial Article of our state constitution. It is geared to our needs in the mid-twentieth century and will restore to our courts the ability to administer justice swiftly and effectively.

Each of us can help to bring about this vitally needed reform by voting in the November referendum for adoption of the amendment to the Judicial Article which will appear on the blue ballot. It has been recommended for adoption by our legislature and is supported overwhelmingly on a non-partisan basis by our political and civic leaders and organizations.
